HOOVER URGES REIN ON ENVOY TO NEW LEAGUE

Warns Congress to Define Powers

San Francisco, Cal., July 18 [Special]—Asserting that congress must never surrender its powers to declare war, Former President Hoover in a radio address tonight urged that the authority of the American delegate on the proposed peace league security council be carefully defined by congress. The security council is the enforcement agency of the league.

Mr. Hoover, asserting he spoke in response to many requests, said that from an American point of view, ratification of the charter involves little commitment beyond those that may be entered into by our representative on the council.

Best Under Circumstances

The former president said the charter should be ratified by the senate because it probably is the best that could be obtained under existing circumstances, but he said it has many weaknesses.

There is much to be desired, Hoover asserted, in its treatment of regional organization, methods of review of outmoded treaties, and the lack of commitment to relative reduction of armies and nations. It does not recover the principles of the Atlantic Charter and provides no positive bill of rights for nations and men, he added.

Warns Against Delusions

Warning the American people to be under no illusions concerning the charter, he said the plain fact is that the preservation of lasting peace rests upon the successful collaboration of Russia, Britain, and the United States. The text of his address:

'I have received a multitude of requests from members of congress, the press, and individuals for my views upon the San Francisco charter and the progress of peace making. Views are of value only if they are explicit and objective in analysis.

"The San Francisco charter is better than Dumbarton Oaks and is probably as good as could be obtained under the existing emotions, the present government, the conflicting ideals and ambitions in the world. It should be ratified by the senate.

"Expression of Desire"

"The American people should be under no illusions that the charter assures lasting peace. The charter at best consists only of an expression of desire and machinery to preserve peace. The problem of enduring peace is far wider than the charter.

"The foundations of lasting peace must also be laid in the economic and political settlements among na-

The Senate Examines the Charter
(An Editorial)

The foreign relations committee has reported the united nations charter to the senate by a vote of 21 in favor and one against. Sen. Shipstead of Minnesota did not vote on the document in committee, explaining, "It is not clear in my mind why an agency to enforce peace should be organized before we know what the provisions are in the peace treaties we are to enforce."

Sen. Shipstead, of course, has put his finger upon a sore spot in the charter. The proponents of the peace league have been eager to get the charter ratified and to let the examination—and disillusionment—come later. They are in no position to answer such questions as Sen. Shipstead has raised: Whether a treaty will govern with justice the future relations between the defeated and victorious powers; whether it will even govern the relations between the victorious powers themselves, of which Poland is certainly one, just as Russia is another; and whether it will provide for the genuine liberation of the enslaved peoples, among whom Sen. Shipstead significantly includes those of Europe, as well as those of Asia and Africa.

These are the really important questions of the peace, but the proponents of the charter don't want anybody to know it. A favorable reception for the charter has been carefully prepared thruout the nation by a propaganda build-up such as seldom has been known. The success of the campaign can best be judged by its effect upon the foreign relations committee, whose members showed the usual symptoms of autointoxication. They manifested an ability to believe only what they wanted to believe.

As John T. Flynn so aptly observed, the charter is only part of the straitjacket with which this nation is to be bound for use at their convenience by other powers. Bretton Woods is another part. The description given by Sen. Taft of the propaganda methods employed to induce a receptive attitude toward the world bank and monetary fund scheme may be applied also to the tricks used in putting over the charter.

The senator said that the supporters of Bretton Woods had conducted "a propaganda campaign at great expense" to sell the scheme to the public; that columnists and radio commentators were wined and dined, and that church groups were brought to Washington to be inoculated with the Bretton Woods bug and to supply their indorsements. The same sort of tactics have characterized the process of greasing the charter

THE OSTRICH

'Amnesia GI' Arrested as a Nazi Agent

New York, July 18 [Special]—The fantastic pose of "Pvt. William Walker," the much publicized "GI amnesia victim," who represented himself as an American hero of the European war, was disclosed today by the FBI, who announced his arrest as a nazi trained espionage agent.

Karl Wacker

He was taken into custody at Camp Upton, N. Y., where he had been hospitalized for the last month since being brought "home" as an American casualty. He is now at Ellis Island pending action by the attorney general.

The prisoner was identified as Karl Horst Max Wacker, 20, a German alien who lived most of his life in New York until he and his parents were sent back to Germany in February, 1944, as pro-Nazi aliens.

Claimed He Was Wounded

In Europe Wacker met American soldiers when they entered Berlin and masqueraded as a battle shocked GI who couldn't remember his past. He told a story of having participated in an allied landing and of being captured by the Germans, of being wounded and held three months in a Berlin hospital.

When the Russians shelled the concentration camp where the Nazis imprisoned him, Wacker said he escaped and joined the Red army soldiers. He boasted of having "killed three krauts" in the fighting and of being feted by the Russians as the first American soldier in Berlin.

He was dressed in a ragged khaki shirt and trousers when he met the Americans at Berlin's Templehoff airport last May 9 and told his broken story. He professed the belief his name was "Pvt. William Walker of New York," and hoped his amnesia would be only temporary.

"Suppose I go home," he told reporters in Paris, "and some good looking babe says, 'Darling, you're back,' and I don't even recognize her. That would be terrible."

Gets Wide Publicity

His story and his predicament was given wide publicity. Newspapers in Europe described his adventures. Upon his return here, in a nationwide radio broadcast from Boston, he related his harrowing account of service with the American and Russian forces.

But here is the FBI's version of what really happened:

Wacker was born in Germany and was brought to New York by his parents, August and Meta Wacker, when he was 3. He grew up in New York and worked in this country as a waiter, stable groom, and circus ring hand.

When his father was interned, two days after Pearl Harbor, as a dangerous enemy alien, the son voiced threats against his adopted country. On July 7 he and his mother surrendered and asked to be interned with the elder Wacker. All were repatriated to Germany on an exchange liner.

Sent to Spy School

When he arrived in Germany, young Wacker was enrolled at a Bremen school of espionage.

After all this instruction, however, Wacker said he was dismissed from the school for inefficiency in June, 1944, before he was graduated. He then returned to Berlin, he said, and waited until the Russians arrived and told them he was an American soldier.

Several days ago the FBI received information that a man calling himself "Dumbo," the nickname Wacker had used when he was in New York, had telephoned some one in Brooklyn saying he had returned after fighting with the Russians.

Agents, acting with military authorities, combed camps thruout the New York area, and finally found the man they sought at Camp Upton.

OVERSEAS TRIBUNES SENT TO PACIFIC OUTPOSTS BY AIR

BY JAN JABULKA
[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

HONOLULU, T. H., July 18—THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE this week began airplane deliveries of its overseas edition to navy men in fleet and shore stations at widely separated points in Fleet Adm. Nimitz' Pacific ocean areas command.

In coöperation with Pacific headquarters, which established fast plane priorities, the Overseas Tribunes will be flown weekly to Kwajalein for distribution to various islets and atolls in American hands in the Marshall group, to the isolated shore station personnel on Johnston Island, 760 miles southwest of Honolulu, and thence 3,300 miles west to the Marianas to Saipan and Tinian.

A special bundle was requested and will be sent weekly to Nimitz' advanced headquarters on Guam. This expansion of THE TRIBUNE'S service to its military readers in the far western Pacific parallels the army distribution in the mid-Pacific command, whereby thousands of Overseas Tribunes are flown weekly to the fighting men and garrison forces scattered over millions of square miles of the Pacific, to the Phoenix and Solomon Island groups, and Midway Island down to Noumea and the New Hebrides.

A Negro Takes Command of First U.S. Base

Fort Knox, Ky., July 18 (AP)—A brigadier general and a colonel, both Negroes, stood at attention today as Mitchell bombers, flown by Negro pilots, swooped low in close formation over Godman field.

They were watching an all-Negro troop review, marking the official installation of the 477th composite air group of the 1st air force at Fort Knox, and the first time a Negro officer had been placed in charge of a United States military base.

Col. Benjamin O. Davis Jr., was the first Negro base commanding officer. His father, Brig. Gen. Benjamin O. Davis, 62, first and only Negro general officer in United States military history, had flown from Washington, D. C., to attend the review.

Negro Air WACs

Gen. Davis said:

"The performance I witnessed and the establishment of these units at Godman field are clear evidence to us who have followed the Negro's performance in this war that the war department feels the Negro soldier is making a distinct contribution to the war effort."

Established at Godman field with the 477th composite group are the 387th service group and the newly arrived company A of Negro air WAC's.

Gen. Davis said the war department had promised that when the units are trained, they will be sent into combat "and I can promise you that they will make a definite contribution to final victory."

Recalled to Active Duty

The general, born in Washington, D. C., entered military service in July, 1898, during the Spanish-American war as a temporary 1st lieutenant. He reënlisted as a private in the regular army after the war, served as a corporal and squadron sergeant-major.

In 1901 he was commissioned a second lieutenant of cavalry.

He was promoted to brigadier general, temporary rank, in 1940, was retired in July, 1941, but recalled to active duty the day after his retirement.

Col. Davis, a West Point graduate of 1936, was commander of the 332d fighter group in Italy. He won his wings at the Tuskegee army air field in 1942 and commanded the 99th air group in the North African, Sicilian, and Italian campaigns.

He wears the legion of merit, silver star, distinguished flying cross, and the air medal with four oak leaf clusters.

BIG 3 CONFER AGAIN; DETAILS BLACKED OUT

See Quick Accord on All Issues

POTSDAM, Germany, July 18 (AP)—President Truman, Premier Stalin, and Prime Minister Churchill conferred again late today with allied victory in the Pacific a pressing goal.

This second formal meeting of the Big Three was as heavily blanketed by security as yesterday's, but the trend of thought among the American and British delegations seemed to make it certain that the ways and means for Japan's defeat would be fully aired before the soviet leader.

Earlier in the day, Mr. Truman conferred separately with Churchill and Stalin.

The day's events indicated the leaders were agreed upon reaching as promptly as possible full accord on the issues facing them—an accord upon which may depend a speedier end of the war with Japan and the future peace of Europe.

Mr. Truman, the presiding officer of the tri-power sessions, seeks as his chief goals a quicker triumph over Japan and the bulwarking of peace thru solution of long-standing disputes.

Visits Both Colleagues

He lunched today at 1 p. m. with Churchill, and then later with Stalin. He was accompanied at the second luncheon by Secretary of State Byrnes, his close friend and an experienced negotiator.

Under cloudy skies, the President walked from his residence to the local equivalent of No. 10 Downing st., and was greeted at the gate by Churchill and his soldier-daughter, Mary, an announcement from the British delegation said.

Fifty members of the 2d battalion of Scots Guards formed an honor guard on the tree-shaded lawn, and a Royal marine band struck up the Star Spangled Banner.

Byrnes Sees Eden

Mr. Truman and Churchill talked cordially on the terrace while photographs were taken, and then lunched inside at a table set for two. When Mr. Truman was leaving, Byrnes emerged from British Foreign Secretary Eden's house next door, where he had lunched, and met the President at the entrance. The British delegation did not say how long Churchill and Mr. Truman conferred, nor was there any hint of their topics.

Stalin was host to the President at 3 p. m. at a comparatively brief luncheon, but there were evidences that it was cordial. Caviar, fish, and meat apparently were on the menu.

Byrnes, Foreign Commissar Molotov, the President's military and naval aides, Brig. Gen. Harry H. Vaughan and Capt. James K. Vardaman Jr., and Charles E. Bohlen, state department Russian expert, also were guests of Stalin.

Truman Plans Dinner

Blasts Wreck Halifax Arms Depot; 13 Die

HALIFAX, July 19 [Thursday]. (AP).—At least 13 persons were killed and 12 injured last evening in a series of explosions which wrecked the Royal Canadian Armament depot near here and started a raging fire that early this morning threatened to spread to the main magazine.

Where blasts occurred

The blasts, beginning with a great concussion which shook the Halifax area for miles around at 6:35 p. m., forced the evacuation of about 10,000 people from the danger area.

New Heavy Blast.

The total number of casualties still was uncertain, but a Canadian naval officer, Lt. Comdr. William Sclater, said he believed that no one in the magazine area in the immediate vicinity of the first blast could have survived.

Blasts continued to rock the naval depot at intervals, with a terrific detonation at 12:20 a. m. which was even louder than the first explosion.

Every truck, military and civilian, was pressed into service in the Dartmouth area, across the harbor, to move people from the danger zone. The north end of Dartmouth is close to the magazine.

Fire Boats Withdraw

Fire boats rushed to the scene, but were withdrawn when it was found the blaze was uncontrollable.

From the Bedford side of the basin flames could be seen reaching 150 feet into the air.

There was no official explanation of the cause of the initial blast, which was said to have consumed hundreds of tons of explosives. An unconfirmed report, however, said it was touched off when a barge unloading at the naval magazine caught fire.

The scenes recalled the 1917 disaster here, when an ammunition ship exploded in the harbor, killing 1,600 persons.

CHICAGO TOPS MAJOR CITIES IN E BOND SALES

Chicago led six other major cities from coast to coast in its purchase of E bonds in the 7th war loan drive. Chicagoans purchased a total of $176,728,000 in E bonds, or 103.3 per cent of the city's quota.

The District of Columbia, containing the city of Washington, was next highest of seven cities, with 102 per cent. Philadelphia, Pa., subscribed 100.6 per cent of its quota, and New York, 100.5 per cent.

Los Angeles, Cal., subscribed 91.9 per cent of its quota; Detroit and Wayne county, Mich., 91 per cent, and St. Louis city and county, Mo., 90 per cent.

Chicago's quota was higher than that of the other cities, with the exception of New York and Los Angeles.

FLEET SHELLS NEW AREA OF HONSHU COAST

Carrier Planes Rake Capital Region

GUAM, July 19 (Thursday)—(AP)—American carrier aircraft discovered combat ships, probably remnants of the Japanese navy, hiding in Yokosuka naval base in Tokyo bay and attacked heavily yesterday with bombs and torpedoes despite bad weather and accurate, intense anti-aircraft fire.

Yokosuka, one of the empire's largest naval bases, is only about 18 miles southeast of Tokyo.

Fleet Adm. Nimitz's war bulletin today reported briefly that carrier pilots "launched a heavy attack on combatant shipping off Yokosuka" and added: "No report of damage to targets is yet available."

Shell Honshu Coast

The world's greatest naval force, the combined United States and British Pacific fleets, has been bombing and bombarding Honshu and Hokkaido unchallenged—but hoping for a meeting with anything the Nipponese war lords dared send out. It is certain that the carrier pilots were looking anxiously for Japanese warships. Nimitz's announcement indicates they probably found them.

Nimitz also reported that both American and British carrier planes, comprising the world's greatest striking force, carried their assaults on the Tokyo region into the second successive day yesterday and that an American cruiser-destroyer force steamed close inshore to shell Nojima cape, only 50 miles southeast of Tokyo at the entrance to Tokyo bay.

Attack 3d Straight Day

The bombardment carried into the third straight day the fleet's attack on the Tokyo region. The shelling, begun at 11 o'clock Wednesday night, Tokyo time, continued until early this morning.

Rear Adm. Carl Holden commanded the force which bombarded Nojima. Nimitz said the cruisers Topeka, Oklahoma City, Atlanta, and Dayton, and the destroyers Ault and John W. Weeks were among those engaged in the shelling.

The Japanese fleet was administered one of history's worst beatings off the Philippines last October. In three separate actions, Oct. 24 and 25, the United States 3d fleet under Adm. Halsey, and the 7th fleet under Vice Adm. Kinkaid, sank or damaged 59 Japanese warships, including more than a dozen carriers and battleships, out of a total force of 61 war craft.

United States naval authorities have estimated that the Japanese have fewer than 10 carriers, including escort flattops, four to six battleships, including

Russia Willing to Handle Jap Terms

BY E. R. NODERER
[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

LONDON, July 18—A soviet declaration that Moscow will be willing to transmit Japan's peace terms to the United States, if the terms are definite and unequivocal, was given exclusively to THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE by a high soviet source in London tonight.

He emphasized that the soviets were in no wise willing to convey hints or feelers. It was stated frankly that in view of the tremendous soviet losses in the war against Germany it would take deep consideration by the supreme soviet before any decision could be reached regarding a declaration of war on Japan, particularly in view of the powerful Japanese army in Manchuria.

There has been an entire reorientation of soviet policy in the far east, according to this source. During the visit to Moscow of Chinese Premier T. V. Soong, Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek of China has been warned sternly by the Russians that he must make peace with the Chinese Communists, it was reported.

It was stated here that the appointment by the United States of Lt. Gen. Stratemeyer to relieve Maj. Gen. Chennault, famous founder of both the Flying Tigers and the 14th air force, indicates America has surrendered to the Russian communist point of view, sacrificing both Chennault and Stilwell.

old dreadnaughts, and not many cruisers or destroyers.

Tells of Damage

Nimitz gave this preliminary and incomplete report of damage caused by Tuesday's raids by American carrier planes:

Burned four sea planes on the water; damaged five others.

Sank three small craft and damaged 10 others.

Destroyed two hangars, two locomotives, and oil dump.

Damaged factories, lighthouses, trains, three locomotives and an aircraft hangar.

British carrier planes, striking separate targets in coördination with the United States carrier force, reported these results:

Destroyed 13 Japanese planes on the ground and a hangar at Matsuda.

Destroyed three locomotives and a railroad station, barracks and hangars.

By Tokyo account, 16 allied warships turned up again today and plastered the coast of Honshu Island for an hour beginning at 11:15 a. m. Tokyo time.

The Japanese said the naval shelling indicated that "the long-anticipated battle of the mainland has finally started."

So well did Adm. Halsey's forces control the sky and waters that their fleets spent hours within easy fighter range of Tokyo Tuesday and Wednesday without striking a single spark of opposition.

Shelling Covers Wide Area

Associated Press Correspondent James Lindsley with the 3d fleet said the mighty battlewagons moved to within six miles of shore, let go the first salvos of 2,700 pound shells at 11:10 o'clock Tuesday night and kept it up for 55 minutes.

When the ships swung back out to sea early Wednesday morning, an engineering works, a steel plant, a copper refinery and an arms factory were in ruins. All were operated by the Hitachis, who make up one of Japan's ruling industrial families. Tokyo admitted the targets were demolished.

The area worked over by the five to 16-inch guns of the fleet ranged from Mito and Takahagi, 55 miles north of Tokyo, to the munitions cities of Hitachi and Sukegawa, 80 miles northeast of the capital.

As the flashes of the guns ripped the curtain of night, a dull glow from shore lit the mists, showing observers where the cascade of exploding steel had landed, Lindsley said.

"It looks like the Fourth of July in hell," said a naval officer as the fleet steamed leisurely along the shore, dumping 2,000 tons of shells.

WOMAN GUEST OF LOOP HOTEL DIES IN PLUNGE

A woman who registered at the Palmer House July 8 as Mrs. R. J. Thompson of Indianapolis leaped or fell to her death last night from the window of her 14th floor room. The body struck the roof of the same six story set back where the body of Arthur Joseph Sikora, 39, chief engineer for the Lockland, O., plant of the Wright Aeronautical corporation, was found Monday night, after falling from the window of a room on the 20th floor. A coroner's jury continued its investigation of Sikora's death to Aug. 1 to await a chemical analysis of his organs.

Senate Committee Plans Inquiry of UNRRA Funds

Washington, D. C., July 18 (AP)—Sen. 200 LB. KIDNAP VICTIM IS STILL POLICE MYSTERY

Identity of the 200 pound passenger who was spectacularly kidnaped Tuesday night by three gunmen at Roosevelt rd. and Blue Island av. was still unknown to police last night after 24 hours of investigation.

The victim, about 35, was dragged from a gray Chevrolet sedan, which bore no license, and pushed into a black Mercury sedan. His companion, who was driving the gray car, was not molested. He has not communicated with police, who said they were investigating ransom and robbery motives in the case. Their only clew is the first three numbers —169—of the kidnap car's license.

Amateur investigators suggested the victim might be either James Belcastro, so-called king of the bombers; Louis Dann, known as a 24th ward gambler, or Morton Leviton, former county highway police lieutenant. These theories were quickly proved erroneous.

1,500,000 JAPS DIE OR GIVE UP TO U. S., BRITAIN

Washington, D. C., July 18 (AP)—American and British forces have killed or taken prisoner about 1,500,000 Japanese, official but not complete figures indicated today. An estimated 600,000 others have been cut off or by-passed on Pacific islands. Thousands of others have perished in China.

[Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek reported recently that 1,203,067 Japanese either have been killed or captured in eight years of fighting in China.]

Army and navy reports show that land fighting and transport sinkings have accounted for 1,141,500 Japanese. The most recent estimate of Japanese naval losses adds 262,000 men to that figure.

Despite these losses, the Japanese are still estimated to have 5 to 10 million men for defense of the empire.

U.S.S. NEVADA, SOCKED BY JAPS, KEEPS SLUGGING

Washington, D. C., July 18 (AP)—Veteran of two wars, the battleship Nevada absorbed damage from a flaming suicide plane and five hits from an Okinawa shore battery but stayed in the fight, the navy said today.

The kamikaze [suicide plane] struck before daylight on March 27, causing 60 casualties, including 10 enlisted men and one officer killed and 30 seriously injured.

Shelled by Shore Guns

The next week, on April 5, while the ship was still pounding away at Japanese air fields, shore defenses, supply dumps, and troop concentrations, a coastal battery opened fire.

The Nevada, which pounded the toughest installations the Nazis could provide at Normandy, Cherbourg, and southern France, slugged it out for 18 minutes. During the engagement the Japanese fired an estimated 24 shells, five of which registered. They killed two men, seriously injured eight, and slightly wounded eight others.

Gunners of the Nevada got off 71 rounds from her 14 inch main battery alone, and when the shooting was over, the navy said "the target area resembled a gravel quarry after a week's blasting."

Repaired Overnight

The Nevada's damage was repaired overnight.

In the kamikaze attack, the Nevada's anti-aircraft guns assisted in splashing two of the attackers before a dive bomber streaked out of the haze apparently bent on striking the open bridge. Light machine guns scored hits on the plane, but did not stop her.

Marine gunners of the 20 mm. battery, however, managed to "saw off" the plane's right wing, which fluttered into the sea. Its course diverted, the plane crashed into the main deck aft beside a main battery turret. The seven marines who saved the ship's superstructure died at their stations, their guns barking.

Put Out Fire in 3 Minutes

Flames that broke out after the crash were extinguished in three minutes, but not before considerable material damage was done to the main battery turret and one 20 mm. gun.

Among the ship's casualties on March 27 were Joy O. Kortkamp, Brighton, Ill., killed, and George C. Blair, Superior, Wis., wounded. Casualties on April 5 included Sylvester L. Balassa, 3105 N. Springfield av., Chicago, wounded.

U. S. FLEET TESTS JAP COAST FOR LANDING—TOKYO

San Francisco, July 18 (AP)—Japanese broadcasts said today that the attacks of the American and British fleets were feeling out the coastal defenses for an invasion which might come quicker than expected.

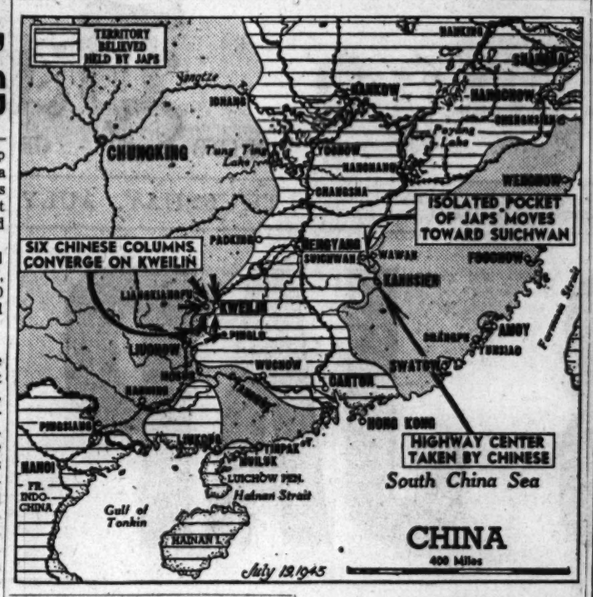
The Domei agency in a broadcast said the raids were "reconnaissance in force" to test Japan's air power and to pick out likely landing points.

The military correspondent of the newspaper Yomiuri Hochi thought the attacks did not presage an immediate invasion, but admitted the possibility of a surprise landing.

"There is a possibility," he said, "of the enemy's undertaking a direct invasion attack on our mainland by dispensing with interim steps of a landing on the continental [Asiatic] coast or island conquering operations in case the enemy underestimated our air power as a result of the present operations."

Domei told the people they must expect further naval bombardments and must determine to defend the homeland "without fear" now that allied task forces can "attack us at any chosen time and place."

Chinese Troops Move on Kweilin



AIR VETS FROM MEDITERRANEAN HAMMER KYUSHU

350 Planes Strike; All Return

MANILA, July 19 [Thursday] (AP)—Airmen from the Mediterranean theater joined in the far east air forces attacks on the Japanese homeland for the first time Monday, Gen. MacArthur announced today.

The raids covered the length and breadth of Kyushu, southernmost Japanese main island. They were made by more than 350 planes without the loss of a single aircraft. There were no attempts at interception and no reports of serious enemy anti-aircraft challenge to the Okinawa based planes.

The veterans, attached to the 7th air force, were led by Col. Joseph R. [Randy] Holzapple of Peoria, Ill., They flew new Douglas built A-26 Invader attack bombers.

Uses Features of 3 Planes

"The A-26 Invader has the best features of the A-20, the B-25, and the B-26," said Holzapple. "It will be one of the most effective airplanes of the war if properly employed, and we are working on that little problem."

The Miyazaki area on southeastern Kyushu provided targets for over 30 of the planes. They bombed the Miyazaki airstrip, one of Kyushu's major fields, and hit railroad lines, highways, and bridges. Miyazaki is a city of 60,000.

Planes of the 5th air force also participated in the attack. Mustang fighter bombers reported setting fires aboard two of six 500 ton coastal cargo vessels in Kagoshima bay, off southern Kyushu. They also set fire to three small freighters and a barge off Kanoya. Liberators of the 5th also bombed Canton, China.

Capt. Robert Mittelstadt, Eau Claire, Wis., strafed a locomotive and an eight car train.

More than 30 Liberator heavy bombers of the 7th A. A. F. hit Nabeoka, 50 miles north of Miyazaki, blasting rail facilities and a bridge. Nabeoka is a city of 80,000 and the center of rayon, chemical, and explosives factories.

Hit Oil Refinery

Mitchells and Mustangs hit other railroad bridges, factories, and an oil refinery in the Tsuma area, on Kyushu's east central coast.

More than 50 Thunderbolt fighters made an 85 mile sweep against assorted targets between Fukushima and Tomitaki on the west coast. They hit factories, two trains, and power plants.

Other American aircraft hit Formosa, striking ammunition storage facilities at Mako and industrial installations and communications in other parts of the island. Factories near Tainan, in the Pescadores, also were bombed.

Two Mariners of the 7th fleet air units sank or damaged several junks off Swatow and Hong Kong. Other Liberators hit rail targets in Indo-China and destroyed two small freighters at Kuching in Sarawak, Borneo.

Push Toward City

CHUNGKING, July 18 (AP)—Six Chinese army columns, mowing down hundreds of Japanese troops in gains up to 12½ miles, converged on Kweilin today while spearheads fought thru suburban gun positions protecting the city's three former American air fields, the Chinese high command reported.

Recapture of the biggest United States 14th air force base in south-central China appeared near as Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's warriors swept toward the Kwangsi province capital on a 140 mile front.

Three hundred miles to the east—on the eastern flank of Tokyo's transcontinental corridor from Korea to Hong-Kong—Chinese troops captured the Kiangsi province highway center of Kanhsien four days after rewinning its outlying air base, a bulletin said.

Yanks Release Nearly 1,000,500 Nazi Soldiers

LONDON, July 18 [Reuters]—Nearly 1,000,500 German soldiers have been released from the United States zone of occupation since the end of the war in Europe, Luxemborg radio announced tonight. The first to be released were land workers, transport workers, and miners, it said.

F. D. R. HYDE PARK HOME TO REQUIRE SOME U.S. CASH

Yearly Upkeep Expected to Exceed Worth

BY WILLARD EDWARDS
[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

Washington, D. C., July 18—A $50,000 a year appropriation for the upkeep of the Hyde Park, N. Y., estate of the late President Roosevelt will be asked of congress as soon as all members of the President's family have relinquished rights to occupancy to the premises, it was learned today.

The major portion of the fund will be necessary to provide a 24 hour watch over the President's grave in a rose garden on the estate, according to Arthur Demaray, associate director of the national parks service, which will have control of the estate as a national historic monument.

The proposed cost of maintaining the Roosevelt memorial is approximately the same as the upkeep last year of the broad expanse of fields comprising the site of the battle of Gettysburg or of the massive Statue of Liberty on Bedloe's Island in New York harbor. It is approximately twice the annual cost of maintaining the Washington monument and grounds and the Lincoln memorial and grounds in Washington, D. C.

Upkeep Exceeds Value

The yearly cost to the government would also exceed the actual value of the estate, it was noted. Based upon assessed values in Dutchess county, the land and buildings have a potential worth of $42,830.

The army has maintained a 24 hour guard over the grave since the President's death but it is anxious to withdraw its men and turn the job over to the national parks service which operates under the department of the interior. There is no legal basis for the guard which was purely a mark of respect. Now Interior Secretary Ickes wants to carry it on. The estate is not open to the public.

Demaray said it was expected that quit-claims to occupancy of the stone mansion on the 33 acre tract of land turned over by the late President to the government will shortly be filed by all members of the Roosevelt family. It was said that Brig. Gen. Elliott Roosevelt had contemplated residence on the estate but has changed his mind recently. Mrs. Roosevelt, the widow, has relinquished her rights and is living in a handsome cottage near-by.

Estate Paying Taxes

Henry T. Hackett, one of the executors in New York, said the Roosevelt estate has borne the cost of maintenance to date, has already paid one 1945 tax bill on the property, and is preparing to pay a second when it comes due soon.

He said the government is expected to take title to the property before the third and last 1945 tax bill is presented the executors in September, thus obviating the necessity of payment out of the estate.

The estate was disclosed a few days ago to approximate 2 million dollars. A personal estate of about $900,000 in cash and securities and $100,000 in real estate has been added to the one million dollars inherited from Mr. Roosevelt's mother who died in 1941.

Mr. Roosevelt's deed of the property was made on condition that his wife and children could use it during their lives, if they wished, they to pay all property taxes if they exercised this right. Congress, in accepting the property, provided that no expenses should be incurred by the government for maintenance during the retained life tenancies of family members.

Not Considered Excessive

Two months ago, Secretary Ickes asked a senate appropriations committee for $50,000 for upkeep of the estate. The request was withdrawn, however, when it was noted that all members of the family had not given up their legal rights to occupancy. When that technicality has been disposed of, Demaray said, congress will be asked to provide the $50,000 in a deficiency appropriation.

Demaray said he did not think the proposed fund was excessive. The perpetual guard over the Roosevelt grave will require the employment of about eight civilian guards and will be the main item of expense, he said. The 33 acres and the 119 year old mansion must also be kept in order. Ickes, in his committee testimony, noted that the government would be liable for the upkeep of personal property left in the residence after members of the President's family had removed what they wished.

The objective of the interior department will be to make Hyde Park a "second Mount Vernon," it was stated. The home of the first President, however, is privately maintained and operated at no cost to the government.

Tower Photos Taken from Plane

Farther north the same plane circled 1,000 feet above Fort Sheridan and flashed veritable daylight over the army post to take additional night color plates.

This represented the first official experiment by the army in night color photography from the air with the use of the famous Edgerton lights. While the shots were being taken of Tribune Tower from above, Tribune cameramen below were taking studies of the edifice silhouetted against the light from the plane, street, and building lighting and the moonlight.

B-24 Liberator Bomber

The plane used was a B-24 Liberator bomber, nicknamed by air men a "Lightning Bug." It flew in from Wright field, Dayton, O., for the experiment.

In charge of the mission were Maj. Perry M. Thomas, of Elgin, chief of the photo engineering labratory at Wright field, and Maj. Allen S. Kenyon, Constance, Ky. Maj. Thomas and Maj. Kenyon both have been leaders in the development of the Edgerton light for aerial photographic work.

"In its many variations," Maj. Thomas said, "we feel the light will open up an entirely new field of scientific investigation, not only for aerial work but in stopping any motion heretofore invisible to ordinary cameras because it was too small or too fast."

The B-24 used a K-19 camera, with a 12 inch focal length, located in the nose. Affixed at the tail were two tubelike lights in the center of two 36 inch reflectors. The lights, developed by Dr. Harold Edgerton of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, are one million times as strong as the ordinary photographic flashlight bulb, and have a flash duration of 3/100ths of a second. The flashes can be spaced automatically at 15 second intervals, thus allowing a continuous photographic strip.

Plane Makes 7 Runs

The plane took off from Chicago airport at 8:45 p. m. It approached Tribune tower from the south, then banked to the right for the shot. Seven runs in all were made. During five runs pictures were taken—several each time. Each time the brilliant lights were flashed on, lighting the tower like daylight.

Three runs were made over Fort Sheridan, the same routine being followed.

7TH FLEET SHELLS JAP POSITIONS AT BALIKPAPAN BAY

MANILA, P. I., July 19 [Thursday]—(AP)—Units of the United States 7th fleet have returned to the battle of eastern Borneo, bombarding Japanese shore positions deep in Balikpapan bay, Gen. MacArthur said today. Three Japanese gun positions and four barges were destroyed in the shelling, which high-lighted operations strengthening allied control of the strategic bay area.

Australian troops across the bay west of Balikpapan pushed seven miles inland along the Riko river, clearing territory from which the enemy might harass operations in the bay. Patrols found the retreating Japanese were abandoning supplies and equipment.

In western Borneo rapid progress inland was reported by the Australians. MacArthur's bulletin said that his forces drove 30 miles inland from the captured Miri and Seria oil fields and captured Marudi, a town of 6,000 population. The advance was unopposed.

JAP ARTILLERY OPENS FIRE AS BRITISH GAIN

CALCUTTA, India, July 18 (AP)—Retreating Japanese troops in Burma have broken out with intensive artillery fire in the area southeast of Mandalay, southeast Asia command headquarters said today.

British reconnaissance troops in force, moving along the road from Heho toward Taunggyi, 117 miles east of Meiktila, drew sustained fire from enemy 75 millimeter guns located east of Taunggyi. The Japanese action was apparently an attempt to divert British attention from the lower Sittang river bend front.

Twenty-six Japanese were killed and many others died of injuries after jumping off a cliff during an attack on their positions less than 40 miles southeast of Meiktila on the Rangoon-Mandalay railroad. B-24 Liberators for the second straight day made a 2,500 mile round trip flight and bombed Songkhla, Thailand.

CAPEHART HAILS REPORTED DRAFT OF JAP TERMS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

Washington, D. C., July 18—Published reports that American peace terms to Japan have already been drafted is notice to the world that the United States is determined to follow a course of frank and unselfish statesmanship in the interest of universal peace, Sen. Capehart [R., Ind.] said today.

The senator, who has repeatedly urged that the question of Japanese terms of surrender be brought into the open, told the senate the day of real peace will not be reached until all nations are accepted members of the allied nations organization. He noted that the charter soon to be ratified is intended to apply to all whenever they prove worthy of admittance.

Capehart spoke following publication of a story in THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, which appeared locally in the Times Herald, giving the first details of the surrender demands to be made upon Japan.

DOOM 8 MORE NAZIS IN PRISON CAMP MURDERS

Washington, D. C., July 18 (AP)—Eight additional German prisoners of war accused of killing fellow prisoners whom they considered anti-nazi, have been sentenced to death by courts martial, the war department disclosed tonight.

Seven German prisoners were hanged last week at Fort Leavenworth, Kas., for similar offenses.

Seven of the eight now awaiting execution were convicted last Aug. 16 of killing Werner Drechsler on March 12, 1944, at the Papago Park prison camp at Phoenix, Ariz. They were former members of the German navy.

The other prisoner of war, a sergeant, was sentenced to death for killing Hans Geller at the prisoner of war camp at Camp Chaffee, Ark., in March, 1944.

SAYS RED ARMY COULDN'T WIN WITHOUT U. S. AID

Freed Prisoner Wary of Russian Policy

BY B. J. KOSPOTH
[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

[B. J. Kospoth, veteran newspaper man, recently was freed by Russian forces from an internment camp in northeastern Germany.]

LONDON, July 18—The overwhelming weight of American armaments given to Russia under lend-lease crushed German resistance on the eastern front as well as in the west, a result which Russia, left to its own resources, never could have achieved.

That was one of the outstanding impressions I gathered in eastern Germany where I spent three months with the Red army and was free to observe its action in war and peace.

Equipment Camouflaged

Soviet military authorities have tried to conceal from the rank and file of the Red army the fact that Russia has received practically all of its effective modern armaments from the United States.

A considerable amount of American material, particularly tanks and trucks, has been camouflaged to make it appear that it was manufactured in Russia. However, most of the Red army officers and men whom I met recognized that their vital equipment came from the United States and expressed a high opinion of American efficiency and genuine gratitude to the Americans.

German officers and soldiers in the last days of their hopeless defense of eastern Germany likewise ascribed the irresistible force of the Red army to its American material.

Vague Misgivings

On passing from the hermetically sealed Russian zone of Germany into western Europe we found the joy of victory clouded over by vague misgivings over soviet Russia's foreign policy. We had sensed this in distant Pomerania.

Even as we celebrated the capture of Berlin with our Russian liberators, we could not quite rid ourselves of uneasiness, rooted in the observation of nocturnal troop movements, which urged us not to delay our return home.

However, it seems to me and to many former prisoners like myself, who have seen more of the Red army than foreigners are supposed to see, that if the United States and Britain stop supplying Premier Stalin with armaments, any menace, real or potential, will vanish.

How Did They Do It?

Shortly before starting our hike from Russian occupied Germany to the west, I stood in Schlawe, Pomerania, with other former prisoners, American, British, and French, watching a Red infantry regiment straggle past. An American sergeant drawled, "How did these guys ever manage to get here?" Which expressed our common reaction.

It seemed incredible that these ill-clad, badly armed men, slouching along beside horse drawn farm wagons loaded with suitcases, beer barrels, and bedding, could conquer more than half of Germany. We felt that it was not the Red army, as built up by Stalin out of Russia's resources, but the tanks, planes, guns, and trucks built in the United States that had won.

Judging from personal experiences, I feel that the psychology of the Red army is a disturbing factor. Not only is the army flushed with victory—its leaders are doing everything in their power to convince their men that they have performed exploits far surpassing those of the western allies—but it seems to have no conception of peace as the ultimate aim of war. With few exceptions, the Red soldiers I met expressed no desire to return to their homes.

Ready to Fight Again

They appeared to have been having the time of their lives fighting, and to be quite ready to start fighting again as soon as the resources of the rich country on which they are living are exhausted.

The Red army appeared to us as the blind instrument of Moscow, willing to fight any time, anywhere. But its leaders are fully aware that it can not fight without fresh supplies and modern fighting material.

The Red soldier is wasteful and rarely mechanically minded. When anything goes wrong with his beloved bicycle he just throws it away.

The same applies to tanks, trucks, and guns. From what I know of the Russian soldier, I am sure that the armaments which the Red army has at present will not last long. Therefore, its leaders may be expected to use all possible diplomatic maneuvers to induce the United States to give them more.

BELGIAN SENATE VOTES TO EXILE KING LEOPOLD

Parliament Must Sanction Return

BRUSSELS, Belgium, July 18 (AP)—Belgium's parliament today legally exiled King Leopold III. and barred him from returning to Belgian soil without parliamentary consent.

The senate, by a vote of 77 to 58, approved the measure previously adopted by the chamber of deputies. It becomes law with the signature of Regent Prince Charles, a mere formality.

Regency Continued

The act continues the regency under Prince Charles who has been serving in that capacity while his brother, the king, has been pondering steps to return to the throne at his St. Wolfgang, Bavaria, villa.

As in the lower chamber, Catholic senators championed Leopold's cause in today's debate. Prime Minister Achille van Acker, who introduced the "exile" measure, declared everything had been done for the king's return, instead of retarding him, as charged by the opposition.

Spaak Defends Government

Foreign Minister Paul Spaak likewise said the government had been helpful and at one point asserted the monarch's return now might cause bloodshed and a general strike.

Leopold, refusing to abdicate voluntarily, had informed parliament that he was willing to bow to the people's will but wished that it be determined in a general election.

The next election, normally, will not be called until 1946.

SPANISH PRINCE KEEPS SILENT ON FRANCO PLAN

BERN, Switzerland, July 18 (AP)—Prince Juan of Spain, heir apparent to the nonexistent Spanish throne, kept silent today as Generalissimo Francisco Franco apparently was preparing in Madrid to return Spain to the monarchial form of government.

A representative of the 31 year old prince said that Juan, as a result of protests over his manifesto to the Spanish people last March 19, had promised authorities he would not again comment on politics while he was on Swiss soil. In the manifesto Juan declared Spain was in danger of another civil war and called on Franco to resign and bring peace to Spain by restoration of the monarchy.

The prince said that if he should become king he would seek a political constitution by popular vote, protection of individual rights and political liberties, a popular legislative assembly, and elimination of unjust social conditions.

LUZON VET, MENDING AFTER PRISON CAMP, SUFFERS A RELAPSE

Fort Worth, July 18 (AP)—Corp. James E. Newman, former prisoner of the Japanese who was given only a slight chance to live when he was brought home, suffered a relapse today and his condition was reported by his doctor as "grave."

Corp. James Newman

Newman was flown here from an army general hospital at Santa Fe last month, suffering from malnutrition, tuberculosis, and laryngitis, developed while he was in a prison camp on Luzon. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Newman, had asked he be returned after army physicians had said he would not survive.

But once at home he seemed to improve. His local doctor told him "just eat all you can, rest and don't worry."

He began eating at every meal some of "mom's biscuits" for which he had expressed a wish when he was in the hospital.

"I can't die now, not after all the kindness and consideration people have shown me," he said recently.

REPORT NO U. S. SUGAR WILL GO TO SPAIN IN '45

Washington, D. C., July 18 (AP)—Aids of Agriculture Secretary Anderson said tonight that no American sugar has been shipped to Spain or would be shipped to that country this year.

They explained, however, that about 60,000 tons of sugar produced in British possessions in the Caribbean area have been allocated to Spain this year by the combined food board. The agency represents this country, the United Kingdom, and Canada in coördinating allied food programs.

The United States is a deficit sugar producing area, hence, Anderson's aids said, it has none to ship to other countries.

This statement on the Spanish allocation was made in explanation, they said, of one made earlier today by Rep. De Lacy [D., Wash.], quoting Anderson as saying that no more sugar will be supplied Spain.

JEEP CARRIERS PROVE METTLE AS JAP KILLERS

BY THOMAS MORROW
[Chicago Tribune War Correspondent, recently returned from Pacific]

Escort or jeep carriers, little publicized before the second battle of the Philippine sea, burst on the public consciousness when, in that engagement, six of them, accompanied by destroyers and destroyer escorts, beat off a Japanese force superior in number, size, and fire power.

The U. S. S. Tulagi, typical of the jeep class, recently steamed into San Diego harbor after total travel of 110,000 nautical miles. Delivered to the navy Dec. 21, 1943, she had taken part in the invasion of southern France, Luzon, Iwo Island, and Okinawa.

Destroys 26 Aircraft

The jeep and her air squadron, now commanded by Capt. William V. Davis Jr., Coronado, Cal., had destroyed 26 aircraft, damaged 47 more. They had sunk 40 ships and boats, destroyed 537 motor vehicles, 23 locomotives, 195 railroad cars, 137 buildings, obliterated a village on Okinawa, and inflicted various other damages on fuel dumps, gun emplacements, and boat pens.

In bringing about this destruction in the Atlantic and Pacific, the small ship designed originally for naval odd jobs, operated as far east as Alexandria, as far west as Manila, traversed 11 seas and oceans, and visited 21 world-wide ports. These ranged from Astoria, Ore., to Mers el Keber, Algeria, Enewitok in the Marshalls, and Okinawa, part of Japan.

On Aug. 18, 1944, off southern France, the Tulagi catapaulted eight F6F planes in 4 minutes 24 seconds, an average of one every 37.7 seconds. Off Okinawa nine months later her planes carried on a continuous day and night anti-submarine patrol for 132 hours and 45 minutes.

Greeted by Churchill

She had been greeted by Churchill who steamed by on another ship on D-day off Toulon. She had nosed thru the maze of Japanese islands in visual range during the Luzon invasion, and she had had as her guest the crown prince and princess of Greece off Alevandria.

The colorful existence of the Tulagi was not charted for the jeep carrier when the class of ships came into being. The escort was to take planes to patrol the ocean blind spots which could not be reached by land based patrols.

It was to ferry planes to the faster and more heavily armored large carriers of the fast task forces. It was to escort merchant vessels and transports, and engage in occasional submarine patrols.

Naval leaders began to see attack possibilities in the jeep, and the escorts proved in the invasion of France they could fight as well as labor.

Bomb Just as Deadly

Jeep champions point out that a bomb is as deadly whether delivered by a plane from a large carrier or its more humble jeep sister. They tell you that six planes launched simultaneously from as many jeeps are six times as deadly as one plane sent off a large carrier which must wait until the one has cleared before another can be put into the air, that the escort is a smaller target.

Champions of the large carriers of the fast task force, which carry three times as many planes, look down their noses at the slow pace, the lack of protection, fire power, and maneuverability of the jeep. The navy is using a combination of both to form a vicious weapon against the Japanese.

At any rate the jeep carrier, designed for the delivery route, has proved its right to stay in the ring with the champions. Spirit of the jeep fleet was best voiced by an escort captain, deserting by order, a force made up of fast carriers, battle ships, cruisers, destroyers.

"Leaving," he radioed laconically. "You're on your own."

G I Joe in the Pacific

By ARTHUR VEYSEY

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

WITH U. S. 7TH FLEET SUBMARINES, July 18—On the day the submarine Porter's Pride puts out to sea every one aboard stops shaving. That was the order from her skipper, George Porter of New London, Conn. The Pride always comes in with a clean shaven crew.

For some time the Pride's executive officer was a happy, red haired guy affectionately known to the crew as the Red Fox. His name is Chester Nimitz Jr. and he's the son of the admiral. Later Red Fox got his own sub and made a name for himself attacking destroyers.

On one trip the Pride passed thru a touch and go narrow, shallow channel that possibly was mined. "If we'd had any navigator but the Fox I would have been really scared," said Arthur Pietsch, 3546 N. Oakley av., Chicago. As it was, he was just plain scared.

Takes a Chance, Sinks Tanker

The Pride came smack onto a big tanker. Despite the shallow water and the navigational hazards, Porter couldn't resist attacking. "Fire," he ordered. The tanker blew up.

The tanker had been alone, but no number of escorts could scare off the Pride. She came one night upon seven escorts closely guarding their own tender. The Pride had only two torpedoes left, but she charged among the escorts and sank the tender.

Try, Try Again

Whenever the first torpedo salvo didn't sink a ship the Pride always came back for a second attempt. Except once. On that night the Pride found a tanker and a destroyer. Three torpedoes exploded the destroyer. The Pride sent three more at the tanker; two missed and the third hit in the engine room, stopping but not sinking the craft.

The six torpedoes had been the Pride's last. Porter broke out the guns for surface shelling, but the tanker was heavily gunned and her crew sent out a rain of shells. One swished thru the sub's rigging, and Porter gave up the idea of shelling, diving to safety. "Those guys are just lucky enough to hit us," he said.

Under the ocean he tried to think out a means of attack, but after two hours the puzzle was still unsolved. "Take her back to the barn, Chester," he said, heading back to his base.

BRITISH WOOLEN FIRMS AIM AT BIG U.S. MARKET

Hope to Exceed Volume of Pre-War Years

BY CHARLES GOTTHART
[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

New York, July 18—British government and commercial interests actively promoting a wide variety of exports to the rich United States market expect to increase their woolen trade far beyond its pre-war volume, inquiry disclosed today.

Careful analysis of various domestic industries have been made by the British Empire Chamber of Commerce in the U. S. A., with headquarters here, and suggestions have been relayed to London on how to boost shipments to this market.

Australia, which has shipped most of the wool converted into civilian clothing in this country since the start of the war, has established a fund from which $1,800,000 will be spent in each of the next five years to develop American and other markets.

Publicity Firms Hired

New organizations of British millers have been established and expensive publicity firms have been hired to promote American trade for British and dominion interests. Altho their supplies of British woven woolen cloth for expensive men's suits are still limited, swank New York tailoring firms have sent representatives thruout the country to drum up business.

A recent survey by the British chamber found prospects good for a larger part of the American made to order market, in which the British have always had a substantial share, and suggested that improved machinery and mill efficiency would enable British weavers to make inroads into the mass production, ready-to-wear field.

Threat to Wool Growers

Trade sources reported that altho more aggressive competition from British cloth could probably be met without unduly upsetting the industry, bankruptcy threatened wool growers because of huge war time imports of raw wool, largely from British dominions.

The warning was sounded recently by J. B. Wilson of the National Wool Growers association, in demanding that congress establish import quotas under the reciprocal trade agreements act.

F. Eugene Ackerman, executive director of the American Wool institute, said today a crisis is fast developing for domestic wool growers, in that the only remaining market for American wool is rapidly fading thru cutbacks in military uniform orders. Government business during the fourth quarter will fall to 10 or 15 per cent of former volume, and by that time mills will be able to covert 75 or 80 per cent of their facilities to civilian production.

HOUSE NAMES 13 ARMY OFFICERS LISTED AS REDS

Mrs. F. D. R.'s Friend, Lash, Included

BY WILLARD EDWARDS
[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

Washington, D. C., July 18—The house military affairs committee today listed 13 army officers and three noncommissioned men as persons whom an investigation revealed as possessing communist backgrounds.

Among those named was 2d Lt. Joseph Lash of the quartermaster corps, protege and friend of Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt and former head of the American student union, a communist front group. Lash's promotion from the ranks was obtained thru the intervention of the late President Roosevelt, the committee reported, after the army had turned down his application to enter officer training school.

Once Denied by War Department

The committee's investigation was begun last February after a series of CHICAGO TRIBUNE articles baring the infiltration of communists into posts of command. In the face of denials by war department officials that any Communist had been given a commission, this newspaper published the communistic affiliations of nine officers and noncommissioned men. Today's report confirmed that disclosure and added the names of Lash and the following:

Capt. Herbert Aptheker, 940th field artillery battalion; former faculty member, Jefferson School of Social Science, a communistic organization; contributor to various communistic publications.

Capt. Henry C. Collins, Napier Field, Ala.; panel member of the national action conference for civil rights, called by the National Federation for Constitutional Liberties, "perhaps the foremost communistic front organization in the United States."

Capt. Horace Warner Truesdell, headquarters, 7th civil affairs unit; member of American League for Peace and Democracy, labeled subversive by the attorney general; president of the Russian Reconstruction Farms, Inc., and two other communistic outfits.

First Lt. Edward W. Finkelstein, 26th field artillery battalion; chairman, Philadelphia district, International Workers order, an organization "from its very inception a subservient instrument of the Communist party."

Sgt. Marc Blitzstein, assigned to the office of war information; "one of the foremost activists in communist ranks in the United States"; more than 40 affiliations with communistic groups cited.

T/5 Theodore Draper, headquarters 84th infantry division; editor of New Masses, Communists monthly; contributing editor "China Today," affiliated with the Communist party of China.

Hammett Included

Also listed were the following, originally named in Tribune articles:

Maj. Edward Newhouse, 50th army air force; Lt. Richard C. Criley, corps of military police, 7th civil affairs unit; Lt. Irving Fajans, office of strategic service, Washington; Lt. Irving Goff, OSS, Washington; Lt. Vincent Lossowski, OSS, Washington; Lt. Jerry Trauber, 978th field artillery battery; Lt. Milton Wolff, Oss, Washington; 2d Lt. Gerald Cooke, 460th amphibious truck company, and Sgt. Samuel Dashiell Hammett, mystery story writer, headquarters Alaskan department.

The war department issued a statement asserting the 16 men named had "clearly evidenced their loyalty by performance of military duties during the last three years."

The war department added that thoro investigations "did not lead the army to conclude that any of the individuals was disaffected or disloyal."

Named in Inquiry

(Story in adjoining column)

Second Lt. Joseph Lash [left] and Lt. Milton Wolff, who were among army personnel whom house military subcommittee's chief counsel accused of having "backgrounds that reflect communism in some form."

T/5 Theodore Draper [left], 2d Lt. Gerald Cooke, and Sgt. Samuel Dashiell Hammett [right], also listed in testimony.

SAILORS OUTSIDE U. S. TWO YEARS MAY GET LEAVES

Washington, D. C., July 18 (AP)—The navy arranged today to grant 30-day leaves to personnel it can spare who have been outside the United States two years or more.

Leaves, plus travel time, will be subject to approval of commanding officers who will have sole discretion, an announcement said. Between 8,000 and 12,000 a month may benefit.

Personnel needs of the ship or station will determine whether a leave is given.

Columbus, N. J., July 18 [Special]—Farmer Joseph Zamensky's 1,000 pound bull becomes a docile Ferdinand when he is wearing the aluminum mask which his owner invented. The eye shade has slits which permit the animal to see only when his head is raised, and not very much even then. The farmer's son, Stanley, 9, has no trouble managing the bi-focaled bull because "if he gets mad and lowers his head he can't see where he's going."

REPORTS 6 BOATS GIVEN ENGLAND SOLD AS SCRAP

Providence, R. I., July 18 (AP)—The Providence Journal said today that six of the 50 "over age" destroyers given to Great Britain by the United States in 1940, including one which sank off Sakonnet Point on Saturday, have been sold by the Canadian government to a private scrap metal dealer.

The sunken ship, identified by the Journal as the former U. S. S. Williams, renamed the St. Clair by Canada, was sold with five others last week to the Boston Iron & Metals Co. of Baltimore, Md., the Journal said.

They are to be taken to Curtis Bay, Md., by the Moran Towing company of Boston and broken up into scrap metal. Canada acquired the six ships from Great Britain in September, 1941, the paper said.

BIG 3 MEETING EXPECTED TO SET OCCUPATION LINE

BY DAVID DARRAH
[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

FRANKFURT ON MAIN, July 18—The precise boundaries of the respective zones of occupation by the United States, Russia, Britain, and France have not yet been definitely fixed, but probably will be completely and finally agreed upon by the Big Three conference in Potsdam, it was disclosed today. Tentative maps have been made but are subject to modification in a governmental report that will come from the statesmen and not from the soldiers.

Latest revised maps give, however, what probably will remain as the fundamental zone boundaries. They show that the Russians will control nearly half of Germany's 471,000 square kilometers [approximately 181,000 square miles], or something over 40 per cent, with the remainder divided among the Americans, British, and French.

French Area Larger

Frankfurt and Stuttgart which the French wanted, have been kept in the American zone, but the Americans have conceded a much larger area to the French than had been contemplated.

The French now are moving in to occupy a line that will run from a point just south of Aachen thru Bonn to Siegen. Then the French border line runs down to the west of Wiesbaden, taking in Karlsruhe but excluding Stuttgart, and then forms a narrow corridor above Switzerland, taking in the Austrian Voralberg and Tyrol.

West Allies Get Cities

There is some speculation here whether the French will have sufficient trained personnel and equipment to carry out the occupation and we may be asked to supply transport and other things for both the French and British.

Most of the large German cities are in American, British, and French zones of occupation and it is estimated that about 70 per cent of Germany's population is the western allies' problem.

DELAY HAW HAW TRIAL TO VIEW U. S. DOCUMENTS

LONDON, July 18 [Reuters]—An investigation in the United States as to the nationality of William Joyce [Lord Haw Haw], charged with treason against Great Britain because of anti-British broadcasts from German radio stations during the war, will be necessary before his trial can continue.

Justice Charles today granted postponement of the trial until September 11.

Derek Curtis-Bennet, defending Joyce, said he had received copies of documents from New Jersey concerning a man who may be Joyce's father. Curtis-Bennet said he believed some one should go from Britain to the United States to see the original documents and the signature so that evidence might be brought before the court in admissible form. "There is also," Curtis-Bennet added, "a record of the birth of William Joyce in New York in 1902."

[In Jersey City, N. J., Joseph Joyce said that his brother, William Joyce, born there July 26, 1906, is not the captured Nazi radio propagandist but an army baker now stationed in a hospital in England.]

ARMY FREES GI HELD FOR BEING A.W.O.L. SINCE '28

Roy McDowell, 40, of 6104 N. Paulina st., who was held by military police at Fort Sheridan on a charge of being A. W. O. L. from the army in 1928, was released from custody yesterday. Officials said that McDowell was given a dishonorable discharge after a physical examination.

McDowell was seized July 2 in the foundry at 909 N. Kilpatrick av., where he was a crane operator. Judge William J. Campbell in federal District court denied a writ of habeas corpus in McDowell's behalf July 12 after it was reported that McDowell escaped from the disciplinary baracks at Camp McClellan, Ala., in 1928, several months after he had been sentenced by a court martial to two years of hard labor and a dishonorable discharge for desertion.

The army revoked the two year sentence and reissued the dishonorable discharge, Fort Sheridan officials said.

BIG 3 CONFER AGAIN; DETAILS REMAIN SECRET

Quick Agreement Seen on All Issues

retary of state brings that experience and diplomatic ability to discussions of vital international problems being worked out here. He was an adviser to President Roosevelt at the Yalta conference and other meetings.

Mr. Truman's calls today returned the visits paid him by Churchill on Monday and by Stalin on Tuesday. The President is understood to be planning a dinner soon at which Stalin and Churchill will be honored guests.

British and Russian officers seemed agreed that the Stalin-Churchill choice of Mr. Truman to preside, even tho he is the "freshman" member of the three power conference, was a cordial diplomatic handshake to the Missourian.

Review 2d Armored

This is the first Big Three conference which has had a formal chairman. It was reported unofficially from Tehran in 1943 that the late President Roosevelt then was informal chairman most of the time. At the Yalta meeting, Stalin was understood to have fulfilled that office in fact, altho some Americans said Mr. Roosevelt presided.

During the afternoon, Gen. Marshall, Field Marshal Brooke, and other high ranking United States, British and Russian officers reviewed the veteran 2d armored [Hell on Wheels] division, drawn up in a 2½ mile long column of men, tanks, and vehicles along the Avus autobahn.

Marshall declared after the 40 minute review that "it is a splendid looking outfit. It was most impressive."

High Officers Present

The officers, who drove in from Potsdam where they are advising the Big Three conferees, also included:

Gen. Arnold, United States air chief; Air Chief Marshal Portal, Field Marshal Alexander, Adm. King, Adm. Cunningham, Field Marshal Wilson, Gen. Hastings L. Ismay, Churchill's chief of staff; Gen. Somervell, Gen. Alexander Baranow, soviet military governor of Berlin; Maj. Gen. Floyd L. Parks, commander of the American sector of Berlin, and Brig. Gen. John H. Collier, commander of the 2d armored division.

Australia Reports Talk of Peace

Promise 'Big News'

SYDNEY, Australia, July 18 (AP)—Newspapers in Sydney today published speculative reports that "big news" relating to Japan would be forthcoming soon.

One conjecture was that Japan may be suing for peace, another that Russia may have decided to enter the Pacific war.

[Acting Secretary of State Joseph C. Grew in Washington denied last week that any genuine peace overtures had been received from Japan.]

"The end of the war may come with dramatic suddenness," commented the Sydney Sun.

"Hirohito is still the god-emperor," the editorial said. "By one stroke of a pen he could relieve Japan's terrors and make peace. There is every reason to believe that United States policy is preserving him for that part in the drama."

The Morning Herald said that "Japan is without military hope and might seek to escape Germany's fate."

Capital Says No

Washington, D. C., July 18 (AP)—The state department today reaffirmed a statement of July 10 that no official or unofficial peace offers have come from the Japanese government.

The statement was made by department spokesmen in reply to newsmen's questions about reports that Premier Stalin had brought a Japanese mediation request to the Big Three meeting now going on at Potsdam.

The questions submitted were:

"Is it still true that no peace offers have been received from Japan?"

"Has Marshal Stalin brought any Japanese peace feelers to the Big Three meeting?"

The spokesman's reply was that the statement by Acting Secretary Grew on July 10, denying any Japanese peace offers from responsible sources, still stands.

Other questions relating to the possibility of a definition of unconditional surrender for Japan were laid aside for the time being.

British Ask News, Get Big 3 Menus

Moscow Is Told

MOSCOW, July 18 (AP)—The first mention in the soviet press of the Big Three meeting in Potsdam appeared in today's newspapers, which printed a Tass dispatch from Berlin announcing the arrival there of Premier Stalin and Foreign Commissar Molotov.

The army organ Red Star said the meeting in Berlin was "a great triumph for the victorious arms of the anti-Hitler coalition."

LONDON, July 18 (AP)—London newspapers today attacked what they termed a blackout of news at the Potsdam Big Three conference, and sharply criticized the luxurious menus and accommodations provided for conference delegates.

"We ask for the conference agenda," the Mirror said in an editorial. "We are offered the delegates' menu. It consists of choice steaks, strawberries—big and juicy—whisky, gin, bourbon, vodka. . . .

"Is this the new diplomacy?"

The Daily Mail said that "secrecy has gone to preposterous lengths . . . where security is not involved."

The Herald said that "while over 50 British and American reporters were kept muzzled by the most rigorous censorship ever imposed, the Moscow radio broke the news of the conference opening."

The News Chronicle quoted "queueing London housewives" in angry comments against the food served delegates in Potsdam's "dream community."

Interviews with 48 British women brought from "all but one comments colored with bitterness, envy, and astonishment," the newspaper said. It quoted one Ascot woman as saying:

"I think those stories of melons, strawberries, and choice steaks at Potsdam are the most disgusting I have read in a long time. It makes you want to turn Communist."

The Star asked immediate action to "modify this irrational secrecy" in order not to "impair the confidence of the public in the ability of the Big Three to reach decisions."

CHICAGO LAWYER TO AID SCHOOL IN RELIGION SUIT

Thomas H. West, Chicago lawyer and chairman of the department of Christian education of the Church Federation of Chicago, was named chairman of the federation's committee to aid the school board of Champaign in a suit against its policy of free time religious education. The Rev. Emerson O. Bradshaw, secretary of the committee, said legal counsel has been employed. He explained that opponents of free time religious education assert they will carry their suit to the highest courts if necessary. The Chicago committee has voted to expand its membership to include representatives from Illinois towns and cities having the free time religious education system.

France Wants 1,300,000 More Nazis as Workers

PARIS, July 17 [Reuters]—A spokesman for the French ministry of labor disclosed today that France had asked the allies for 1,300,000 more German prisoners of war to work in French mines and other industries. The French government planned to employ 1,750,000 German prisoners by next July. The Germans would be paid on the same basis as French labor.

SOLDIER NEPHEW VISITS TRUMAN AT POTSDAM

POTSDAM, Germany, July 18 (AP)—Two Harry Trumans occupied the "Little White House" in Potsdam today — the President and his 21 year old nephew, Sgt. Harry A. Truman of Grandview, Mo., who got off a United Statesbound liner to visit his famous relative. The sergeant's visit will last "several days."

Sgt. Harry A. Truman

Young Truman, a gunner of battery C of the 157th field artillery battalion of the 44th division, was flown here yesterday after his uncle, upon docking at Antwerp Sunday, remarked that he had a nephew on the western front and hoped to see him.

Sgt. Truman's trip to Potsdam was arranged by Lt. Gen. John C. H. Lee, commander of American communications zone forces in Europe, who found him aboard the liner Queen Elizabeth, ready to sail for the United States.

ELECTRIC LINE SAYS PAY RAISE MEANS DEFICIT

Clement A. Whonsetler, a financial officer for trustees of the Chicago, North Shore & Milwaukee electric line, testified yesterday that a pay raise now for its employes probably would result in a heavy deficit after the war boom.

He appeared before a three man panel in the United States courthouse in a hearing over a wage dispute between the company and the trainmen, firemen, and engineers' brotherhoods. The unions are asking 12 to 16 cent an hour wage boosts.

Whonsetler asserted the proposed raise would cost the electric line $165,693 a year. The company might be able to absorb such an increase now, he admitted, but deficits would result when income drops to pre-war levels.

Earlier, John Zanger, vice president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, said the present pay rates are below those paid to other interurban and steam road employes.

EXPECT BIG THREE TO SET POLAND'S WESTERN FRONTIER

LONDON, July 18 (AP)—The map of Europe—already extensively redrafted by Russian expansion westward from the Baltic to the Black sea—is expected by well-informed diplomatic sources here to be further redrawn at Potsdam with the amputation of a huge slice of eastern Germany to satisfy Poland's demands.

The Warsaw regime, with backing from Moscow, has demanded the extension of Poland's western boundary to the Oder and Neisse rivers and to a point within 60 miles of Berlin in compensation for territories yielded to Russia east of the Curzon line.

The Big Three decided at Tehran that Poland should be given ample consideration for yielding territories to Russia.

Abandon Hunt for Plane Missing at Sea with 21

LONDON, July 18 [Reuters]—Search for a Liberator aircraft that disappeared on a flight from Montreal, Que., to London on July 3 has been abandoned, the air ministry announced tonight. No trace of the plane has been found.

[Among the 21 persons on the Liberator were William Malkin, legal adviser to the British foreign office, and three American crewmen.]

NOTABLES URGE TRUMAN NOT TO 'APPEASE' REDS

See Grave U. S. Peril in Polish Problem

New York, July 18 [Special]—An appeal to President Truman to use the diplomatic and economic power of the United States at the Potsdam conference in support of a five point program to carry out the Yalta promise of "free, unfettered elections" in Poland was made public today after its presentation at the White House in Washington for relaying to Mr. Truman. It bore the signature of 40 prominent individuals.

Former President Herbert Hoover, Alfred M. Landon, former governor of Kansas, Philosopher John Dewey, Raymond Leslie Buell, former chairman of the foreign policy association, and the Rev. Robert I. Gawnon, president of Fordham university, were among the signers.

Warn of Appeasement

Warning that "a policy of one-sided appeasement of totalitarianism can lead only to disillusionment, frustration, and grave peril to the American people," the memorial said that the Polish question has not yet been settled.

The memorial said its signers were "opposed to war with Russia" and that they had profound respect for the Russian people and for the military achievement of its army.

"Tho Russia is a totalitarian state, there will be no war, provided the leading democracies of the world are firm, united, and just, in deeds as well as in words," the memorial continued. "But if they continue a foreign policy of weakness, hesitation, and immoral compromise despite our overwhelming power and prestige, then we fear for the future peace of the world and for democracy at home."

Program Outlined

It outlined the following program for adoption at the Potsdam conference:

Release of the 12 Poles convicted in the recent Moscow trials.

Big Three agreement as to the terms of a fair election law, which among other things would provide for the international supervision of the next elections.

Withdrawal of Russian troops from Poland before the election, or the joint occupation of Poland by Russian, American, and British troops during the electoral period.

Permission for correspondents and representatives of the American Red Cross and other charitable organizations to circulate freely in Poland and other soviet occupied territories.

Application of such principles not only to Poland but to all other countries, such as Greece, where a single great power is in dominant control.

Growth of Navy

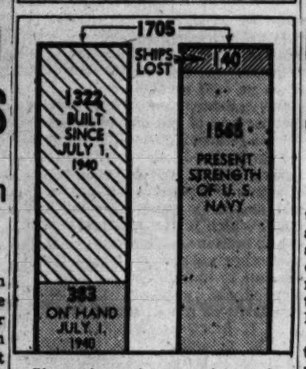

Chart shows increase in number of fighting ships in five years.

Washington, D. C., July 18 (AP)—The navy revealed tonight that 1,322 fighting ships have been added to its forces in the last five years.

Thus the navy now boasts a force of around 1,500 fighting ships, the biggest navy in history.

Adding to this construction figure the 383 combatant ships on hand on July 1, 1940, and deducting the 140 announced combatant ship losses, the total of fighting ships would stand at 1,565. From this must be deducted an undisclosed number transferred to allied nations under lend-lease.

The fleet building job is not yet done. Building yards, navy and private, are still at work completing the building program now grown to a "five ocean program," and a total of 223 ships remain on building schedules.

The record five year construction program included 331 ships built in navy yards and 991 in private shipyards. Navy yard construction included seven battleships, five aircraft carriers, seven escort carriers, a heavy cruiser, 58 destroyers, 155 destroyers escorts, and 98 submarines.

YOUTHS DANCE ON NAZI MOVIE SET AT POTSDAM

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

BERLIN, July 18—The gay dances that marked the congress of Vienna at the end of the Napoleonic wars are having their counterpart at the congress of Potsdam. For the moment, the dancing is being done by the younger set on the edge of the Big Three conference.

Mary Churchill, the prime minister's daughter, who is a junior commander of the British WACs, attended an inaugural ball last night at an entertainment center called the Elstree palace. In a once popular movie based on the Vienna congress, a young prince lost his heart to a working maiden whom he met at a ball and later abandoned because duty called him. In Potsdam it was the daughter of the mighty prime minister of Great Britain who danced with "soldiers and navy men."

Use Film Settings

The last film which the Nazis produced in their Elstree studio called for a ballroom and night club settings. The ballroom is being used as is, while the night club has been changed into a "cozy little bar" for participants in the Potsdam conference. The festivity last night was a brilliant affair with many of the women in gay civilian clothes.

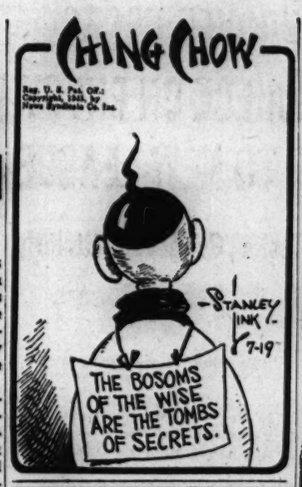
An army show which had reached Berlin and expected to entertain GIs stationed in the German capital, instead had the honor of performing for the entertainment of delegates tonight. Mickey Rooney, the former film actor now in the army; the former child singer, Bobby Breen; Jimmy James and his band, and 60 enlisted men performed.

Gen. Marshall, United States army chief of staff, and hundreds of GIs saw the show.

Four Movie Theaters

Further relaxation can be obtained in the four movie theaters in the compound. Capt. Chester Parker, Emporia, Kas., of the army special services, made arrangements to provide a new movie each night. American movies have been shown to the Russians, including guards on duty in the compound. They don't know English but a special interpreter explains the action to them and they like the movies so well that more will be presented.

Parker also is in charge of special sightseeing tours for the delegates, which are held twice daily. It is stressed that these tours ar not inspired by the mere sightseeing urge but that it is important for the delegates and their aids to know just what the war did to the German capital. Since it is felt there is a certain element of danger involved in touring the city where mines continue to explode, a specially secure route was chosen for tours by the Potsdam delegates.



ARMY KEEPS BAN ON LETTING U. S. PWs FRATERNIZE

Maj. Gen. David McCoach Jr., head of the army's 6th service command, disclosed yesterday that the lifting of the fraternization ban in Europe does not extend to German prisoners of war in this country. He told army personnel and contractors employing war prisoners that restrictions have not been eased. Prisoners will be removed from jobs where it is impossible to prevent fraternization. Some 19,000 prisoners now are at work in agricultural and canning projects in Illinois, Michigan, and Wisconsin, the general said.

WOMAN SHOOTS DOCTOR, SELF; TELLS TRYSTS

Los Angeles, July 18 [Special]—Ruth Klein, 30, dark haired newspaper advertising clerk, was booked on a charge of suspicion of assault with intent to murder today in connection with the shooting of Dr. Hans E. Schiffbauer, 62, clinical professor of surgery at the University of Southern California, in his home last night.

Dr. Schiffbauer, shot three times, is in critical condition in California Lutheran hospital. Miss Klein, who herself was critically injured when she turned the gun on herself, is in General hospital.

"I did it, and I want to die," she said.

Dr. Schiffbauer denied performing three illegal operations to which the girl said she submitted. The girl told police that she was jealous of his attentions to another acquaintance. Her statement told of trysts in her own and the doctor's home.

Dr. Schiffbauer denied that he had performed an illegal operation on Miss Klein.

Stratemeyer Takes Over U. S. Air Forces in China

CHUNGKING, July 18 (AP)—Lt. Gen. George E. Stratemeyer arrived in Chungking Monday and assumed command of United States air forces in China, headquarters of Lt. Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer, United States commander in the China theater, announced today. Stratemeyer's new command includes the United States 14th air force whose colorful commander, Maj. Gen. Claire L. Chennault, has announced that he will retire, as well as the United States 10th air force.

MITCHELL HONOR ACTION IS URGED BY AIR VETERANS

Gen. Billy Mitchell Wing No. 1 of the Air Service Veterans association has requested congress to take action on two resolutions that would confer a posthumous commission as major general on Col. William Mitchell and award him the medal of honor, Harry C. Hoffman, commander of the wing, said yesterday.

Hoffman said the resolutions are languishing in the house military affairs committee, after senate adoption.

"In the light of the air history of the present war," Hoffman said, "the military genius and foresight of Col. Mitchell become more apparent and the stupidity of his detractors more shameful. Who are the members of the military committee that oppose this legislation? Are they against free expression of truth, the only 'crime' that Mitchell committed?"

Second week's contest won by Mrs. Muriel L. Humfreville, Allerton Hotel Chicago, Illinois

MELLODY YOGURT CUSTARD

1 jar Mellody Yogurt
4 eggs, slightly beaten
3 cups milk, scalded
3 tablespoons flour
¼ teaspoon salt
½ cup sugar
½ teaspoon lemon extract
½ teaspoon vanilla

Beat eggs slightly. Blend sugar, flour and salt and add eggs. Add Yogurt and blend. Add milk gradually, stirring constantly. Add vanilla and lemon extract. Pour into six greased custard cups. Set cups in shallow pan of warm water and bake in 325-degree oven for 35 or 45 minutes, or until knife inserted in centers comes out clean. Remove from oven and set water bath at once. Cool and serve plain or with any desired sauce.

The Yogurt adds a deliciously different flavor.

Asks Congress Strictly to Define Powers

tions by which this war is to be liquidated. The nature of these settlements will have more to do with lasting peace than the charter.

"The major strength of the charter is that it provides for continuous meetings of the nations where peace problems can be discussed. It stimulates the methods of peaceful settlement of controversies. It reëstablishes the world court and provides trusteeship for dependent countries. It provides for a limited action to prevent military aggression. It sets up machinery for promotion of social and economic welfare.

"There are many weaknesses in the charter. There is no positive bill of rights for nations and men, but only a mere suggestion that they should be promoted. The charter does not recover the principles of the Atlantic charter which were whittled away at Tehran and after Yalta.

"The political, moral, and spiritual standards of conduct of nations and of men are thus insufficiently defined for the tests by which the conduct of nations can be judged by the security council. While the security council has the power to stop military aggression among small nations, yet this is not assured among the great nations because of the veto power. The charter fails to define aggression even in the admirable terms settled by the soviet government for inclusion in its treaties of 11 years ago.

"And it does not even mention the new disintegrating forms of aggression of one nation upon another thru propaganda and fifth columns. The regional organization, the methods of review of outmoded treaties, and the lack of commitment to relative reduction of armies and navies leave much to be desired.

"Most of these vital questions are referred to in terms of hope or permission, not in terms of positive undertakings or agreements, but these weaknesses point the directions in which there should be amendment over the years to come.

Must Define Powers

"From an American point of view, ratifying the charter involves little commitment beyond those that may be entered into by our representative on the security council, and somewhere along the line there must be a definition by the congress of the powers of this delegate. While there need be little worry about our representative using our military forces for minor police incidents, yet the congress should never part with its powers to declare war.

"It should be understood that the structure of our government differs from those of the other principal powers. The British and French are parliamentary governments where the executive is a committee of the legislative arm and constantly responsible to it.

"Therefore, the authorized vote of their representative will be the view of the legislative arm. Russia is a totalitarian government where the vote of their representative will be determined in Moscow. We alone have such a separation of the powers of government that ours is the only delegate on the security council who might commit his country to war without the consent of the legislative arm. His authority should be defined so that the delegate is in some way responsible to congress before our country is committed to war.

Big 3 Main Factors

"The plain fact is that the making of political and economic peace settlements between the united nations and with the enemy states and the preservation of lasting peace still rest upon the successful collaboration of the three centers of power—that is, Russia, Britain, and the United States. And it will rest there for many years to come.

"The charter will offer a forum for world opinion and advice to these responsible powers. The retreat from the Atlantic charter, the ambitions and emotions of war, the omissions from the San Francisco charter emphasize that these three great powers are really the trustees of world peace rather than the charter itself.

"This collaboration will require much patience. It will require great firmness. It will take time and much good will to find lasting solutions after the high emotions of war, of national ambitions, of differing national purposes.

Must Agree on Rights

"In any event, for 25 years after the victory over Japan, all of the world will be absorbed in restoring their internal economy and in reestablishing their standards of living. During this period the world should be able to work out the problems of lasting peace.

"War emotions will cool in this period and it should be possible to reëstablish the only basis upon which the world will have peace. That is, the relations between nations and men must be founded upon positively agreed political, moral, and spiritual rights, and there will be no peace unless these rights be applied to those peoples who have been deprived of them during this war or who have not yet obtained them. This is more important today than ever before, for liberty and freedom have shrunk in great areas as a result of this war.

"America cannot guarantee an unjust peace. Furthermore, peace can come only if we differentiate between the common people of the enemy nations and their criminal leaders, so that we do not transform stern justice to war criminals into general vengeance.

"The Germans, Japanese, Italians, Bulgarians, and Hungarians must, sooner or later, govern themselves. While they cannot be trusted to bear arms, yet they must be allowed to restore their productivity in peaceful industry if they, and indeed the rest of the world, are to recover decent living and to have enduring peace.

"Our purpose must be to lead them into the paths of peaceful contribution to civilization for our sakes as well as their own.

"In the preamble to the charter the purpose of nations is stated:

"'To reaffirm faith in fundamental human rights, in the dignity of the human person, in the equal rights of men and women of nations large and small, to establish conditions under which justice and respect for the obligations arising from treaties and other sources of international law can be maintained . . . to promote social progress and better standards of life in larger freedom . . . to practice tolerance.'

"The preamble is an expression of hope, it is not a binding agreement. The test of the war settlements and indeed of the charter itself will be whether these ideas are applied to all peoples.

"If the nations fail in these particulars we shall have explosions which no security council can control. But if the ideas of this preamble be followed in the political and economic settlements of the war, the wounds of war can be healed, liberty restored in the world, the charter strengthened, and lasting peace can come to mankind."

$10,000 Agreement

NEVA LIERMANN

San Francisco, Cal., July 18 [Special]—Millionaire George M. Mann, who gathered a California theater chain and three ex-brides in 70 hearty years, will step to the altar for the fourth time on Aug. 1—this time with a 24 year old, honey-blonde from Texas. Financially, it will be a strictly limited partnership, however. San Francisco banks, grown wary of the legal tangles involving Mann's money in divorce cases, have insisted on a pre-marital agreement for post-marital settlement—just in case. The couple will be married just four days after Mann's current divorce from Vivian, 35, becomes final. That marriage, he estimated, cost him $1,285,958 to the penny.

But this time, before Mann says "I do," Neva Liermann, petite Dallas, Tex., blonde, will sign an agreement limiting her share of community property to $10,000 if this marriage, like Mann's others, breaks down.

11,000 MEATLESS MINERS TOLD TO RETURN TO WORK

Springfield, Ill., July 18 [Special]—Nearly 11,000 Illinois coal miners, who went on strike in protest of inadequate meat rations, were ordered back to work today by their union leaders after the OPA promised them extra meat rations by early August.

Approximately 1,000 more Progressive Mine Workers in Saline county mines walked out this morning but were expected to return in the general back to work move. Full crews may not be available until Monday because of delays in notifying the men.

The walkout began last Friday, the miners protesting they couldn't "dig coal on lettuce sandwiches." They said they didn't have enough red points and often couldn't find meat supplies if they had the points. OPA spokesmen said the plan to give miners thruout the country more meat rations after Aug. 6 was in line with a policy of providing extra food for those engaged in hard physical labor.

REPORT ICKES TO ASK TRUMAN HOW HE STANDS

Washington, D. C., July 18 (AP)—Interior Secretary Ickes, last remaining member of the original Roosevelt cabinet, plans to ask a clarification of his status under President Truman.

The showdown, it was learned today, will await the return of Mr. Truman from the Big Three meeting in Germany. Altho the President said at his last news conference before leaving for Potsdam that he had no plans to replace Ickes, it is expected that Ickes will step out if he is not satisfied with the reply.

Buyers Stampede to Get New, Unrationed '42 Autos

Automobile dealers in the Chicago area yesterday were reported to be almost cleaned out of new 1942 models after rationing of the cars had been lifted. Buyers came so fast at Bernard Brothers, Inc., 1033 Chicago av., Evanston, that a car was sold about every five minutes for hours, a spokesman said. Virtually all of the transactions involved trade-ins. More than 60 new automobiles were sold by the company.

One big reason for the Coke shortage

When the world is turned upside down by war—it's hard to put your finger on the reason for a lot of things. The Coca-Cola shortage, for instance.

The answer is that there's a world-wide sugar shortage caused by the disorder and confusion of war. And of course the less sugar we get, the less Coke we get. But there's one fact you can count on—the quality of Coca-Cola never changes. The Coca-Cola you get is the real thing—the quality is the same today as you have always known.

So next time your dealer says "Sorry, no Coke today"—don't forget he can't help it any more than you can. Just try to make the best of it—same as he does—and please remember to ask for Coke again tomorrow when you shop.

ASKS U.S. BACK HUGE SCIENTIFIC RESEARCH UNIT

Would Grant Funds to Nonprofit Groups

Washington, D. C., July 18 (AP)—Creation by congress of a powerful national scientific research agency was proposed today.

The proposal was made in a 184 page report to the White House by Dr. Vannevar Bush, director of the office of scientific research and development [OSRD], who helped marshal the nation's civilian scientists for war reasearch.

Urging the establishment of a government financed "national research foundation" that would promote "a national policy for scientific research and scientific education," Bush declared:

"Early [legislative] action . . . is imperative if this nation is to meet the challenge of science in the crucial years ahead.

Holds Nation's Future

"On the wisdom with which we bring science to bear in the war against disease, in the creation of new industries, and in the strengthening of our armed forces depends, in a large measure, our future as a nation."

Bush's report, prepared at the request last November of the late President Roosevelt, recommended:

1. That the foundation be formed to give new impetus to all research; financially support basic research by nonprofit organizations, such as universities and medical schools; promote long range studies on military matters, and encourage scientific talent in American youth by offering about 25,000 scholarships and fellowships.

Nonsalaried Board.

2. That it consist of nine members to be selected by the President of the United States and be responsible to him; and that they serve for four years each, and without compensation. [An associate of Bush's said the proposed membership would constitute virtually a "supreme council of science."]

3. That the foundation have these five divisions: Medical, research, natural sciences, national defense, scientific personnel and education, and publications and scientific collaboration with other nations.

The agency would promote research thru contracts or grants to organizations outside the federal government; it would operate no laboratories itself.

Bush estimated such a program would cost about $35,500,000 the first year and reach a stable level of about $122,500,000 annually in five years.

PLANE PRIORITY PROBE ORDERED AFTER VICE RAID

Washington, D. C., July 18 (AP)—The navy today entered the investigation stemming from a raid last Friday on an alleged house of prostitution located two blocks from the White House.

It asked the 12th naval district at San Francisco, Cal., to check a report that Carmen Beach, one of the women arrested in the raid, obtained a plane priority to visit her husband, a chief petty officer, in Hawaii. The story was told to reporters by M. Edward Buckley Jr., the woman's attorney.

At San Francisco, the navy said it had no record of any air priority issued in the name of Carmen Beach or her married name, Carmen Beach Martin.

The Washington Post said the news of the trip "aroused the indignation of scores of local service men's wives who have fought unsuccessfully for months to obtain passports to visit their husbands overseas."

LABOR LEADERS URGE MAYOR TO BOOST CITY PAY

Patrick F. Sullivan, president of the Chicago Building Trades council, headed a delegation of 20 labor union leaders that yesterday asked Mayor Kelly and a subcommittee of the council finance committee to raise wages of city labor in accordance with increases approved by the war labor board.

The mayor said he believed a state law prohibits granting wage increases not provided for in the city budget. He said he would confer with Corporation Council Hodes.

To grant the increases now, Mayor Kelly added, would cost the city approximately $500,000 for the rest of the year.

THIS DAY IN HISTORY

July 19—Samuel Colt, Inventor

Samuel Colt, the precocious inventor whose name is associated with Indian and frontier wars and the old wild west, was born in Hartford, Conn., July 19, 1814.

So restless was his mind that he could not abide the cumbersome methods of education in vogue a century and a quarter ago. He picked up his knowledge by working, reading, observing, asking questions, and knocking about the world. He shipped before the mast on a voyage to the far east while he was still in his teens [accounts differ as to his exact age], and before he returned he had whittled out in wood a model of the revolver which was to make him famous.

By the time he was 22 he had obtained American, English, and European patents on his revolver and had helped form a company to manufacture and sell arms. During the ensuing years the Colt revolver began appearing in Florida [where it was used in the Seminole war], in Texas [where the Texas rangers employed it], in the far west, and even in Australia. Later its vogue spread everywhere.

The basic idea of the revolver—that of having a multichambered cylinder revolve in such a way as to bring each chamber in turn in line with the barrel—is perhaps 300 years old. The advantage is that each chamber can carry a charge and the gun can be fired several times without reloading.

Colt's great contribution was to devise a highly practical and effective method of revolving the cylinder automatically. He worked out a pawl and ratchet arrangement which, when the gun was cocked, caused the hammer to move the cylinder. It is possible that Colt did not know of the existence of older revolvers when he perfected his. Later, he gave his predecessors full credit.

Colt's curiosity and wealth of ideas led him into several other fields besides that of revolvers. He worked with electrically discharged mines and with submarine telegraphy. He died in Hartford, Jan. 10, 1862.

A BRITISH TOWN PROTESTS YANK'S RAPECONVICTION

Scranton, Pa., July 18 (AP)—A move seeking release of Pvt. Donald Hicks of Kingston, N. Y., serving a 25 year sentence for rape, was under way today by 1,625 residents of Corby, England, where the attack allegedly took place. A petition received by Federal Judge John Biggs from Corby residents charged Hicks was convicted unjustly.

Edward W. Warren, Hicks' counsel, stated in a habeas corpus action in United States Circuit court that Hicks was convicted illegally by an army court martial in December, 1942.

The articles of war, Warren said, provide the death penalty or life imprisonment for service men convicted of rape charges and also state that the court's verdict must be unanimous.

Records, Warren added, show the court martial favored conviction by a three-fourths vote and hence Hicks received the lesser sentence.

Judge Biggs said it was extremely unusual for a whole town to come to one man's defense.

Hicks' appointed counsel at the court martial, it was said, failed to raise the question of the woman's reputation.

"I think it's a peculiar thing that counsel for this man did not ask that question," Judge Biggs said. "I can't understand it." He reserved decision.

MILITARY POLICE TAKE 2 FREED ON THEFT COUNT

At the request of military police, Judge William V. Daly in Felony court yesterday dismissed robbery charges against Pvt. Anthony D'Antonio, 18, of 2846 Lexington av., and Pvt. John Weichel, 18, of 2742 Chicago av., alleged to be A. W. O. L., and Joseph Morelli, 18, of 2237 Huron st. They were charged with robbing Mrs. Katherine Peifer, 1638 Estes av., of $50 in the hamburger stand at 6343 N. Western av. June 15. The soldiers were taken into custody by military police, and Morelli was ordered to report for induction into the navy.

NEW EVIDENCE HELD TO JUSTIFY DEATH SENTENCE FOR PETAIN

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

PARIS, July 18—Discovery of further evidence against Marshal Petain has caused Prosecutor Andre Mornet to revise his former attitude against the execution of Petain, Mornet announced today.

The vigorous 80 year old prosecutor will ask the death sentence for the marshal, whose trial opens Monday.

"The accusations brought against Petain are enormous," Mornet said today. "If I demand the supreme penalty it is because I have become thoroly convinced that he deserves it.

"The charges that hang over Petain's head constitute a whole that it is difficult to divide. Petain, a rabid enemy of the republic, is accused of plotting against the internal and external security of the state. Both these crimes usually take a guilty man to the execution stake."

HOLDOUT UNIONS AT DONNELLY'S RETURN TO WORK

A six week old strike of half a dozen AFL printing trades and other unions at the R. R. Donnelley and Sons company printing plant, 350 E. Cermak rd., ended yesterday. Some of the unions charged that they were betrayed by George L. Berry, president of the International Printing Pressmen and Assistants' union.

About 50 of Berry's members went to work Tuesday after Berry ordered them to do so, in compliance, he said, with a war labor board directive. About, 100 members of other unions then voted to return. The strike was started when the pressmen demanded a closed shop.

Nicholas Di Pietro, executive secretary of the organizing committee of the Chicago Printing Trades Union council, said negotiations for a closed shop will be resumed. Mail order houses announced that their catalogs, usually distributed early in July, will be about a month late because of the strike.

HOUSE PASSES LIBERALIZED GI BILL OF RIGHTS

Washington, D. C., July 18 (AP)—A revised GI bill of rights was passed by unanimous voice vote in the house today, altho several members complained about the procedure which brought the measure up without advance notice.

Its major provisions are designed to liberalize the loan and education sections of the over-all veterans' benefits measure enacted last year and to overcome difficulties that have arisen in administration of the original law.

The legislation, which was not scheduled for consideration until after the summer recess ending in October, was called up unexpectedly by Chairman Rankin [D., Miss.] of the veterans' committee.

Increase Subsistence

Most house members already have left Washington, and Rankin threatened to block adjournment plans by insisting on the presence of a quorum unless his legislation was considered immediately.

In the education and loan titles it makes these major revisions:

Education—Extends from two to four years after discharge the time in which a study course may be started; extends from seven to nine years after the war's end the time in which education or training may be given at government cost; provides for short intensive postgraduate or vocational courses of less than 30 weeks; permits the goverment to finance correspondence courses; increases from $50 to $60 the monthly educational subsistence allowance of a veteran without dependents, and from $75 to $85 the allowance for a veteran with dependents.

Extends Time Limit

Loans—Extends from two to six years after discharge or the end of the war the time in which a veteran may apply for a government financed loan; permits a qualified veteran to negotiate with any established lending agency or any agency or individual approved by the veterans' administrator for a loan for the purchase of a home, farm, or business in any amount; retains the existing limitation of 50 per cent of the principal, or $2,000, whichever is less, on the amount of the loan the government will guarantee; prohibits the negotiation of loans until 30 days after a veteran's discharge, and provides that the loan application need be approved only by the lender, instead of by the veterans' administration.

John Snyder Confirmed to War Mobilizer Post

Washington, D. C., July 18 (AP)—John W. Snyder, St. Louis, Mo., banker, was confirmed by the senate today as director of war mobilization and reconversion. He succeeds Fred M. Vinson, who became secretary of the treasury. Snyder has been serving as federal loan administrator. Confirmation was given without debate.

Mrs. Adaline McKinney and her two children.

Warren, Pa., July 18 (AP)—Mrs. Adaline McKinney, attractive mother of two children, was charged today with slaying her husband, Wendell, 29, in the bathroom of their home at Youngsville Monday. The charge was entered before Justice of the Peace Tracy M. Greenlund and a hearing set for Tuesday, July 24. She pleaded innocent. Mrs. McKinney was brought from the county jail to the courtroom. McKinney, a resident of Youngsville and a sandlot ball player, was killed by a .22 caliber bullet which penetrated his lungs, Coroner Ed Lowrey reported after an autopsy.

CIVILIAN GOODS DITCHED TO FREE TRAIN FOR ARMY

War Makes Supply Dump of Milk Depot

BY LARRY RUE
[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

BREMERHAVEN, Germany, July 18—Butel is a small railroad station in the center of the grass and hay country of the Wesel delta north of Bremen and southeast of Bremerhaven. Normally, milk trains are loaded there, but now it is a great supply dump.

Location of Butel

Recently a freight train was halted near Butel. The Bremerhaven port command wanted the track cleared and the cars emptied preparatory to transporting supplies to troops in the occupation zone.

Train Is Emptied

"Throw out the cargo and bring the cars here," was the order. So a Negro battalion threw out bales of cotton and wool, tons of scrap iron, two carloads of radio sets, 30 tons of copper, numerous spools of fine coiled wire, large cables, gun barrels, airplane motors, and even one airplane, besides much building material.

Into the ditches the cargo went. There was some gasoline in one drum. It spilled out, caught fire, and burned some clothing.

That is the kind of situation that creates friction between the military government [AMG] and the troops. The military government is especially interested in cloth, copper, and other critical items.

"Military waste," says the military government, whose duty is to protect the interests of the civilians. "Military necessity," the army answers.

Much Is Salvaged

But now the 29th division has taken over the dump, posted guards, and is increasing its size. Yesterday a 29th division battalion, under direction of Lt. Col. N. L. Tims of Greenwood, Miss., was sorting the radio sets—all smashed but many repairable—and other material into neat piles.

A thousand gas mask containers, a thousand yards of gasproof material, guns, antiaircraft equipment—including concave mirrors more than 10 feet in diameter—radar instruments, and huge electric generators, were grim reminders of war.

But in motley bundles of clothing, still being trampled in the ditches, were some colorful evening gowns, a man's full dress suit, and a morning coat and striped pants. Right by in the scrap pile was a blunted cocktail shaker.

War at last had made a salad of the "guns and butter."

CANADA MAILS 1st ALLOWANCES FOR FAMILIES

Ottawa, Ont., July 18 (AP)—First of the new family allowances checks were mailed today under Canadian legislation granting monthly allowances to families for children.

Health Minister Claxton said in a broadcast last night that it was estimated 3,000,000 children under 16 years in 1,250,000 families were eligible for the payments, ranging from $5 a month upward according to the age of the child. Total bonus payable on one child from the time of birth until it reaches the age of 16 would amount to $1,180.

Claxton said that about $20,000,000 would be distributed monthly, the largest amount—$5,500,000—going to Ontario families. Quebec families will receive $5,025,000. Other provincial amounts range downward to $168,000 for Prince Edward Island.

DAY by DAY on the FARM

By BEN MARKLAND

July 18, 1945

CURRENT Illinois wildflowers are typical of midsummer, but some of these colorful symbols of July also link this season with the autumn months.

The elderberries, for example, now are nearing the end of their flowering season. Many of their flat white blossoms are falling to the ground, and in place of the white petals are small green berries that will ripen this fall and be used by the farm housewives for "fence corner pie" and elderberry jam. The first wild sunflowers also opened their petals this week, providing another link with autumn.

Sunflowers Make Bow

We usually think of the sunflower as a fall flower, because most members of this clan aren't on display until August and September, but the first of the common wild sunflowers are open now. Their relatives, the compass plants, are in bud stage.

The wild carrots, more commonly called Queen Anne's Lace, also are showingtheir lace-like, white flowers for the first time this season. This species provides a third link with autumn, because it will continue to flower until the first frosts of October.

The white petals of the elderberries and wild carrots provide background color for several other new July blossoms. The light blue chicory flowers are brightening farm roadsides and fence corners.

Bouncing Bet Here Again

Bouncing Bet, also called soapwort because pioneer women used an emulsion from the root as a soap substitute, is showing its heavy foliage and light purple flowers in waste places in the country as well as in vacant city lots. Orange day lilies, escapists from farm yards, are blooming in colonies in many open fields and along unshaded farm roads. Yellow color is being provided by the giant mulleins and their miniature relatives, the moth mulleins.

In the farm berry patches, the favorite colors this week are light yellow and bright red: the colors of the raspberries that are being harvested. Red raspberries of the St. Regis variety are at their ripening height, as are the Golden Queen yellow raspberries.

★The GARDEN★

ONE leaf vegetable often overlooked as a midsummer product is endive. Gardeners in northern Illinois may plant the green curled or white curled variety of endive any time in the next week to reach full maturity in late September. It is too late to plant broadleaved Batavian or Cos type Batavian endive varieties, which require 90 to 100 days to mature.

Endive is preferred to leaf lettuce or head lettuce for salad use by many gardeners, because of its more pungent flavor. The practice of the Wheaton farm gardener is to thin the seedlings to leave six inches between plants, purposely crowding the plants in the row.

This crowding eliminates the necessity of tying the heads when they near maturity, because the adjacent plants serve to blanch each other. Gardeners who want to tie the heads for blanching leave them 12 inches apart.

TWO BOYS SAVE GIRL; YOUTH, 18, DIES IN ATTEMPT

Two 13 year old boys saved a young girl from drowning in Cedar Lake, Ind., yesterday after her companion lost his life in the same attempt.

The victim of the lake tragedy was Robert Schlobohm, 18, of 423 Foote st., Crown Point, a seaman in the maritime service. He was swimming with Miss Dorothy Ryan, 15, of 3717 Illinois st., Hobart, around their rowboat when she called for help.

Schlobohm went down before he could reach her, but her screams attracted Robert Jervais of Rural Route 1, Crown Point, and Harold Zimmerman of Cedar Point Park, who were on shore. They rowed out to her in a boat. While one held her head above water by her hair, the other rowed to shore. They applied artificial respiration until a pulmotor squad arrived and revived her.

BOARD COOKING UP SURPRISE FOR DRAFT EVADER

Possibility of reinducting Edward A. Zabawski, 32, of 5811 Fullerton av., who was discharged from the army June 1 with a record that included 1,064 days A. W. O. L., was under investigation last night.

Leo Bartoline, appeal agent of draft board 52 at 5247 North av., said he was studying army and selective service regulations to determine proper action.

Zabawski was inducted Dec. 12, 1941, after he had been arrested for disregarding a notice to appear, board records showed. He went A. W. O. L. April 20, 1942, and was listed as a deserter the next June. The army caught up with him in March, 1945, and he was given a "blue" discharge in June. This discharge is one without honor.

Edward H. Simonsen, chairman of board 52, and Edmund Jaworski, a member, said they had received complaints that Zabawski boasted he was beyond the reach of selective service.

SHIP REPAIRERS VOTE TO RETURN TO WORK TODAY

Alameda, Cal., July 18 [Special]—In compliance with a national war labor board order, striking AFL workmen today voted to return tomorrow morning to their jobs at the General Engineering and Drydock company ship yards here. The action ended a walkout of 3,000 men which halted repair work on eight battle damaged ships since Friday and 15 others since Monday.

Despite the decision of workers to return to their jobs, the navy tonight withdrew two damaged LST vessels from the General Engineering company yards. Navy crews will complete repair work, the navy said, "because we can risk no such delays as have occurred."

While several hundred strikers were voting support of their steering committee's recommendation to return to work, the NWLB sent a telegram asserting that upon notification that work has been resumed the regional WLB would be asked to hold a hearing on the dispute.

Meantime, the San Francisco CIO council charged the ship tie-up was brought about "by the apparent collusion of certain contractors with the AFL Metal Trades officers with a view of launching new firms into the ship scaling and painting business to the displacement of other old established firms of the Bay area" and force CIO workers off jobs.

U. S. S. FRANKLIN GUN WILL BE IN PARADE TODAY

A gun turret from the U. S. S. Franklin, the aircraft carrier damaged in action near Japan, will be exhibited in a navy parade in the loop today. Beginning at 11:30 a. m., the parade will move from Harrison and State sts. to Randolph and State sts., where speakers will include Mayor Kelly, William Street, chairman of the State Street council, Comdr. R. J. Twyman, ninth naval district director of civilian personnel, and an unnamed survivor of the Franklin. The parade will include the Glenview Naval Air Station band and color guard. Forty WAVES and sailors will escort the 5-inch gun.

Boy Loses Feet

MELVIN ANDERSON

Melvin Anderson, 6, found lying on the Burlington railroad right-of-way near Marshall blvd. at 19th st. Tuesday night with his leg and foot almost severed from his body, was in critical condition yesterday at St. Anthony's hospital.

Doctors who amputated his right leg and left foot said the boy evidently had fallen under the wheels of a train. He was found by a stranger who ran two blocks to the hospital to get help.

Identification was made by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Anderson, 1656 W. 18th place, who reported him missing 12 hours after he entered the hospital. Anderson told police at the Marquette station that the boy was one of 11 children and that he had sent him to the movies Tuesday "to keep him out of trouble."

Aurora Boy, 11, Hammers a Shell; Loses 2 Fingers

Ronald Lincoln, 11, living on 5th av. rd. east of Aurora, lost the index and middle fingers of his left hand yesterday when he found a shotgun shell and detonated it by hitting it with a hammer. He was taken to Copley hospital in Aurora.

LUKS TELLS JURY OF BEING ASKED TO KILL HOOPER

Battle Creek, Mich., July 18 [Special]—With police guarding him while he testified, Henry Luks, 29, nattily dressed ex-convict, today told of his participation in a gangland conspiracy to murder State Sen. Warren G. Hooper.

Luks turned state's evidence, as did another confessed plotter, and is a key prosecution witness at the trial of four Detroit men charged with conspiring to slay the legislator in order to silence his testimony on government graft. The defendants are not charged with the killing of Hooper, who was shot to death Jan. 11.

Luks said he met two of the defendants, Harry Fleisher and Mike Selik, alleged members of Detroit's old infamous Purple gang, in O'Leary's bar in Detroit, where Selik was a bartender, last Dec. 23.

"They asked me if I could get some dynamite and wire up a car to do away with a fellow who had done some talking," Luks related.

"They told me I would get $5,000 for the job. They said I was to see what I could do about the dynamite and come back."

He said he met the two men at the same bar two days later and told them he couldn't get the explosive.

War Worker Held to Jury on Woman's Rape Charge

Raymond W. Radtke, 32, of 4100 Meade av., a war plant worker, accused by a 20 year old woman of attempting to attack her the night of July 9 at Irving Park rd. and Central Park av., was ordered held to the county grand jury by Judge William V. Daly in Felony court yesterday on a charge of assault with intent to rape. He was held in $1,500 bond.

CITY'S TRACTION COST INCREASED BY JOHNSON JOB

Champaign Man Gets $15 Per Hour

Appointment of Sveinbjorn Johnson of Champaign as special counsel for Chicago in the quo warranto suit to test validity of the metropolitan transit authority act was confirmed by the city council despite a staff of four attorneys working for the council's local transportation committee at $3,896.49 a month and the city's law department with an annual budget of $773,315.

Johnson's appointment was an unexpected move on the part of Ald. Young [46th], acting chairman of the local transportation committee. The matter had not been discussed in committee hearings, but Young circulated among council members at Tuesday's meeting and got 25 signatures approving appointment of Johnson.

$100 a Day Court Fee

Johnson is scheduled to be paid $100 a day while in court and $15 an hour for time spent on the suit out of court. Former Ald. Quinn, who was requested by Mayor Kelly to answer questions on the transit matter, said Johnson's fees would not be more than "a few thousand dollars."

The local transportation committee's legal staff includes William H. Sexton, $1,875 a month; James Skinner, $1,083.33 a month; James Ganaher, $666.66 a month, and Sol Futterman, $271.50 a month. Sexton and Skinner usually work on traction matters, Ganaher on cases before the Illinois commerce commission, and Futterman on office matters.

Lots of Money for Lawyers

The committee has a budget of $50,016 for its legal staff, $15,000 for general office expense, and an additional fund of $35,000 for "employment of special counsel, engineers, valuators, investigators, and other persons." Johnson will be paid from this fund.

Johnson, Democratic nominee for attorney general in the 1944 campaign, combined state and federal jobs for $15,500 annual salary in 1942, when he served as attorney for the University of Illinois at $9,000 and also accepted $6,500 annually from the federal treasury for acting as Illinois director of the office of government reports. He lost his federal job when the OGR was abolished and the office of war information was set up. He gave up his university post Sept. 1, 1944.

LOOP FIRE8 TIES UP TRAFFIC

Street car traffic on Lake st. in the loop was interrupted for 15 minutes yesterday when fire started in the rear of the Center Liquor mart, a restaurant and tavern at 13 W. Lake st. The fire caused damage estimated by Isadore B. Marco, one of the restaurant owners, at $2,000.

RED DIAMOND'S 2D INFANTRY DOCKS AT N.Y.

28,000 to Stay in Italy

ROME, July 18 (AP)—Gen. McNarney, commander of the United States forces in the Mediterranean theater, said today an American occupation force of approximately 28,000 men would remain in Italy after that theater is "inactivated." Movement of all other troops out of the theater by the end of December is the American goal, but there may not be enough ships for the job. There may be from 30,000 to 50,000 men who must remain until the early months of 1946, McNarney said.

New York, July 18 (AP)—The second infantry regiment of the famed Red Diamond 5th division, a unit that has served overseas longer than any other American division in the war, arrived home from Europe today.

5th division's insigne

The 3,634 officers and men came home aboard the navy transport Gen. A. W. Greely, which also brought 66 members of the 8th corps headquarters staff and six WACs. Earlier the Sea Porpoise docked with 3,118 returning troops. Three other ships were due later in the day.

Units returning on the Sea Porpoise were the military police platoon of the 5th infantry division; the headquarters and headquarters company of the 10th infantry division, and the 1st, 2d, and 3d battalions of the 10th infantry regiment.

Arrivals at Other Ports

Other units which arrived at Hampton Roads, Va., today included:

Elements of the 766th field artillery, 171st evacuation hospital, 73d medical station hospital, 804th tank destroyer batalion, 770th air maintenance group, 527th air squadron service group, 953d air engineer squadron, 777th air maintenance squadron, 154th weather reconnaissance squadron, 18th air depot group, 90th depot repair squadron, 32d depot supply squadron, 84th depot supply squardon, 17th medical supply platoon of 418th QM platoon air depot, 435th signal battalion, 520th headquarters and base service squadron, 946th air engineer squadron, 52d station hospital, 114th station hospital, 3824th and 3825th quartermaster truck company., 233d ordnance ammunition, group and 396th replacement company.

The 346th infantry regiment, 87th infantry division, arrived in Boston.

Redeployment Timetable

PARIS, July 18 (AP)—Ten infantry detachments will pass thru Le Havre by the end of July en route to the Pacific via the United States. The men are from the United States 3d and 7th armies.

The redeployment status of United States divisions and units follows:

2d, 5th, 44th—On the seas.

9th army headquarters — Advance units now loading at Le Havre. Main body at Le Havre for shipment July 20.

13th armored—Main body expected to clear Le Havre by July 19.

20th armored—Advance units sailed from Le Havre July 14. Main body at Le Havre for shipment July 24 and 25.

28th infantry—Advance units sailed from Le Havre July 14. Main body now arriving at Le Havre.

30th infantry—Advance units at Le Havre and expected to ship out July 21. Main body at assembly area.

35th infantry—Advance units at Le Havre awaiting shipment. Main body at assembly area.

USE HELICOPTER IN SEARCH FOR MISSING GIRL, 2

Marshfield, Mass., July 18—(AP)—A navy blimp and a coast guard helicopter droned to and fro above beaches and brush-covered areas today in search of two year old Judy Geagan, missing since last night.

Meanwhile, a Rhode Island state police bloodhound led ground searchers repeatedly to the water's edge and stopped. Several times the dog was taken to other points in the area in an effort to pick up a new cast. Each time the result was the same.

Firemen, policemen, coast guardsmen and citizens searched a 13 mile stretch of the coast for the little girl, who disappeared at about 7 o'clock last night while her mother was washing the dinner dishes.

A little more than a year ago, 10 year old Frances McGrath, vanished in this same area. Frances' ravished body was found weeks later.

One Chicago Soldier on List of Liberated

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

Washington, D. C., July 18—A new list of United States army personnel liberated from prison camps in Germany was made public today by the war department. The list includes Pfc. Reinhold C. Wiesner, 6430 Union av., Chicago.

Does BORDERLINE ANEMIA* Kill Your Glamour and Sparkle?

IT CAN—it definitely can! For Borderline Anemia steals the becoming flush of health from your cheeks, the glow of loveliness from your skin. Borderline Anemia makes you dull, drawn, listless—no fun on parties, a drag on a date.

Yes, and the sad but scientific fact remains—as many as 68% of women suffer from a Borderline Anemia, resulting from a ferro-nutritional deficiency of the blood.

Weak, Starved, Red Blood Cells Sap Your Energy

Yes, so many girls who should be at their peak of romantic attractiveness have Borderline Anemia. Their red blood cells are too small—not big and red and healthy. Without healthy cells you can't look and feel well, for your blood is your sole supply line of energy.

Build Up Blood, Boost Energy with Ironized Yeast

Now, if you're pale and pepless—if you suffer from Borderline Anemia—you ought to take Ironized Yeast Tablets. They're made with vital elements that go right to the cause of Borderline Anemia!

It's possible your condition may spring from some other cause. Consult your doctor at regular intervals. But in a Borderline Anemia, to build up healthy red blood cells, to release full energy to your body, count on Ironized Yeast. At all drug stores.

Energy-Building Blood

This is what the doctor sees through his microscope looking at blood rich in energy-elements. Note big, plentiful red cells that carry oxygen to release energy to every muscle, limb, tissue.

Borderline Anemia

Thousands have blood like this—and never know it. Note puny size and irregular shape of red cells. Blood like this can't generate the energy you need! Only sturdy blood can give you top energy.

HOW LONG HAS THIS BEEN GOING ON?

Adm. Emory Land's maritime commission apparently has been a trifle less than scrupulous on occasion in the handling of public money. The latest instance was reported by Sen. Aiken, on the basis of facts submitted by Lindsay Warren, who, as comptroller general, keeps an eye open for congress on departmental spending.

Mr. Aiken reported that in dealing with the Pennsylvania Shipyards, Inc., Adm. Land had permitted an indicated net overpayment of $6,172,618 on a $35,900,000 contract, not including an additional profit of $1,315,000 which was permissible under the original terms of the contract. Furthermore, this was done in a manner which can only be described as extremely curious.

Mr. Aiken's interest in the maritime commission began with his discovery that less than 30 of 20,000 contracts entered into by the commission contained a provision for recapture of excess profits, as required by law. At his instigation, Mr. Warren examined the contracts with Pennsylvania Shipyards, noting, at the outset, that a series of contracts made with the company between 1941 and the spring of 1943 had been amended as of Dec. 31, 1944, after he began to profess an interest in them.

One amendment relieved the contractor of any obligation, once the maritime commission had taken over the ships, to repair, remedy, replace, or make good any breakdown or deterioration of the vessels, even if structural faults in building were responsible. This agreement followed a series of reports that Liberty ships had cracked in two at sea, and, at its best, can only be termed generous on the part of the government to the point of folly.

More significant, however, was an amendment providing, "The contractor shall have no obligation to make any statements or returns of costs to the commission or to make available to the commission any of its books, records, or accounts pertaining to the performance of work under the vessel contracts."

In connection with these contracts, Comptroller General Warren, after asking the maritime commission for cost figures, was at first given figures by the commission which the contractor himself had prepared. When the comptroller general refused to accept these figures, Adm. Land then converted the original cost type contract with the shipyards into a fixed price contract.

Mr. Warren's comment concerning this procedure was, "It appears that the primary reason for conversion of the cost type of contracts into fixed price contracts, at the time the contract work is completed, or is substantially completed, is to relieve the contractor from furnishing evidence establishing that the amount which it represents to be its costs actually was expended by it and otherwise is proper for reimbursement by the government."

The long and short of it is that, Mr. Warren having begun to poke around, Adm. Land connived with the shipbuilder to conceal the costs. Still another contract with the yards was doctored up "as of Jan. 2, 1945," altho Mr. Warren established that it had not been submitted to Adm. Land for signature until Feb. 15. This one allowed the shipbuilder a latitude of $300,000 in fixing costs of the vessels he was producing, and a range of possible profit between $25,000 and $100,000 on each vessel.

The purpose of this selective fixed price form of contract ostensibly was to enable the contractor to make a profit commensurate with the risk of loss assumed in the performance of contract work. Mr. Warren, however, found that guesswork on the contractor's part had practically been eliminated, for the keels of 12 vessels had been laid and six hulls launched before the actual date of execution of the contract on Feb. 15.

"That is to say," remarked Mr. Warren, "by the terms of such contract, the contractor is obliged to indicate a fixed price for a particular vessel prior to laying its keel, and if he selects a high price for such vessel—with the comparatively small risk that the cost of construction will exceed the price selected—his allowable profit is correspondingly low. However, if, as indicated by the facts presently before this office, the contractor had partially completed several of the vessels—under which circumstance the approximate construction cost probably would be known—it is difficult to perceive a logical consistency."

Upon hearing Sen. Aiken's disquisition, one of his colleagues made the not inappropriate remark, "How long has this been going on?" That is a matter in which the public might also care to profess an interest. Sen. Aiken said he believed that an investigation would show that wasteful and illegal expenditures of the maritime commission have run, not into millions of dollars, but possibly into billions. The appropriate investigating body is the senate committee on expenditures in the executive departments. Adm. Land and the ship yards have defended their procedures and invited investigation, but, at the moment, the committee can do nothing. Congress somehow has neglected to give it an appropriation for a staff.

Thus, while the billions collected in the war loan drives blow out the window, the people's watchdogs peacefully slumber.

so that it will slide thru the senate, and it cannot be doubted that foreign money has played its part, just as the wealth of Americans, who expect to do things under the new international order that would be forbidden under this country's standards of morality, also was employed to the same end.

The two worst parts of the plot have been scotched, however, in the charter text as it has been delivered to the senate. The islands which England gave to Japan by secret treaty in the first World war have not now been placed under international management as was intended, and, in consequence, the United States, which captured them at enormous cost in blood and treasure, can use them in its future defense. The other scheme to authorize a combination of nations to make war upon the United States any time it resisted an importunity has also been abandoned.

That such pernicious provisions are not among those incorporated in the charter produced at San Francisco may be adjudged a great victory for America; and THE TRIBUNE, in sounding the alert against such dangers, prides itself upon helping the nation escape the pitfalls which were prepared for it. We shall continue to criticize what is bad in the charter, but the most important task that lies ahead is to continue the fight for Americanism, which, in the not remote past, was all but lost a half dozen times. In this enterprise we welcome the support of all patriots.

The fight is bound to win when the Democratic party frees itself from the control of the New Deal tools of the Russian Communists, and when the Republican party delivers itself from bondage to the Tories who have placed themselves at the disposal of the British royalists. The nation may have lost its way in the fens and fogs of internationalism, but sooner or later it will find the path again to Americanism. In the interim, it is the duty of all loyal Americans to help guide it back on its true course.

MR. TRUMAN'S ROLE AT POTSDAM

Americans these days are asking themselves what they wish Mr. Truman to bring back from Potsdam. We know that we went to war against Japan, Germany, and Italy, but it has never been equally clear what we went to war for. Tho we have defeated Germany and Italy, there is today the utmost confusion of purpose about what settlement is to follow. Likewise, our fleet roams up and down the Japanese coast at will and the behavior of the markets suggests a widespread belief that Japan may be ready to quit; but here again there is no clear understanding of what is to be accomplished by victory.

This much is clear, of course: Americans think that if the war in the Pacific goes on our allies, if they are allies, will wish to be in it to the limit of their resources. We don't need their help in defeating Japan, as we have shown, and we can make a better peace without them than with them because we don't covet any Chinese territory or any other colonies. Nevertheless, the Japanese war is providing a real test of the principle of collective security on the part of nations which have just pledged themselves to it at San Francisco. If the Japanese war goes on the American people expect Mr. Truman to persuade Mr. Churchill and Mr. Stalin to lay their full contributions on the line. If our allies continue to hold back Mr. Truman will have suffered a humiliating diplomatic defeat.

So far as Europe is concerned, America wants above all a peaceful and prosperous continent. The formula is easily stated; the means of achieving it are subject to the widest disagreement. Many of Germany's neighbors and many Americans as well wish to reduce her to industrial impotence in the belief that only so can Europe avoid wars. What is not so generally realized is that Germany for the better part of a century has been the most important commercial and industrial area on the continent. The trade in and out of Germany has been of the first importance to all of Europe. Destroying that market for raw and finished materials and wrecking that workshop will involve most serious consequences, including social unrest far beyond the former borders of Germany.

The Russians now rule Europe to the Elbe. Their economic system is autarchy. It is hard to see how trade can be resumed with the areas of Europe now under Russian control and harder to see how European prosperity can be restored without such exchanges. Perhaps Mr. Truman can persuade Mr. Stalin to modify his economic isolationism. It will be a triumph for the President if he does so, for he will have to overcome Stalin the Marxist who believes in controled trade, Stalin the revolutionary who welcomes social unrest in capitalist lands, and Stalin the Russian who wishes to use every resource he can lay his hands on to aggrandize his own country.

Stalin now controls the steel works of Silesia, Austria, and Czechoslovakia; much of the timber resources of the continent; most if not all of its surplus agricultural areas; some of its best copper and aluminum ores. How is western Europe to rebuild its transportation services, its bridges, factories, and cities, and how is it to feed, clothe, and house its population with so much of its natural wealth and productive capacity amputated?

It is absurd to pretend that America can supply all the needs. We have neither the wealth nor the will for the task. It is absurd to pretend that German resources, including her human resources, will not be required if Europe is to make a reasonably prompt recovery. It is no less absurd to say that the Germans will make their contribution if they are deprived of their tools, starved or enslaved in labor battalions.

The one-worlders have been assuring us for a generation that the moral force of America in a concert of nations can reform the world. Mr. Truman may put that thesis to the test at Potsdam. We hope he does and we hope he succeeds. We hope he can make a real contribution to the relaxation of the tensions and hates that existed before the war and have been heightened by it. We hope he can find workable formulas for European peace and prosperity and persuade his colleagues to accept them. To say that we hope for these things is not to say that we expect them.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

How to the Line, let the quips fall where they may.

Reg. U. S. Pat. Office

NEEDLES AND PINS

Said Philosopher A to Philosopher B,
"I think the problem of poetree
In the case of A Line o' Type or Two
Is rather a simple affair to do,
Don't you?"

Said Philosopher B to Philosopher A,
"I'll make a suggestion, if I may.
The smaller the type you print pomes in
The sooner you will unload the bin
And win."

Said A, "The new world charter could Be printed on a pin—and should."
"A pin!" said B, "Don't be vexatious;
A needle point is amply spacious—
Good gracious!

If a needle's point can accommodate
[As some authorities now state]
X million angels [which is more
Than the dancers on a night club floor],
The chore

Of finding room for a thousand pomes
Is not a task for a Sherlock Holmes.
You could print a public libraree
On a microbe's eye or a bee's left knee
[q. v.]"

"Well, B," said A, "perhaps you're right.
Suppose we try your plan tonight.
You go and see if you can wheedle
From prof or prexy, dean or beadle,
One needle."

But altho B searched for miles around,
No needles anywhere were found;
And that is why your poem, dear,
[So sorry] may not sparkle here
This year.

Here's How To

The slogan, "Spend your vacation at home" makes this summer seem right for finding a new hobby. So we consulted the "How to" file at the library. There we found: "how to pack and ship young forest trees," "how to handle and educate vicious horses," "how to cook shellfish," "how to lengthen our ears," "how to look at old buildings," "how to build a flattie or a sharpie."

"How to teach manners to school children," "how to turn people into gold," "how to travel without being rich," "how to worry successfully," "how to manage without a maid," "how to win and hold a husband," "how to catch trout."

"How to run a milk business," "how to save $100 a year on your car," "how to see Italy by rail," "how to be useful and happy from 60 to 90," "how to dress a doll," "how to make marionettes," "how to carve meat," "how to choose a good wife from a bad," "how to pronounce the names in Shakespeare," "how to ski and how not to," "how to tie flies."

"How to pay rent" and "how to pray" made a good pair of books to take out at the same time. Also "how to play the stock market" and "how to keep out of trouble," "how to raise money" and "how to relax," "how to build a fortune" and "how to make your will."

Also "how to become extinct." We tapered off with how to be a bandleader, clubwoman, G-man, hermit, pastor, navy officer, and happy tho human.

ANON. RIDES AGAIN

When his graceless grace, the Bakrak duke
Comes serenading with his uke,
Why do his limping lines of song
Seem so inevitably wrong?
The fluke!

And why does the raging Shandy Gaff
Profane the night with his hellish laugh?
What is the Shandy's foul design
In mailing to the pristine Line
Such chaff?

Why do they whack each other so
With prose and poem, blow on blow,
When statesmen at the Golden Gate
Have tried so hard to banish hate?
Don't know.

Why, on the other hand, do you

POEM FOR PAM—40

[The Friend of the Yanks will answer questions of service men, veterans, and their dependents by mail if stamped envelope is sent to 435 N. Michigan av. The Tribune's veterans' bureau, 1 S. Dearborn st., Superior 0800, gives personal interviews.]

R. A. B. writes: "I have been discharged from service for disability and am eligible for education and training under public law 16, which provides for vocational training. I also am eligible for four years of education under public law 346—the GI bill. The course of study I desire will take nearly seven years. Can I get education under public law 16 for three years and then take advantage of the GI bill for the remaining four?"

No. You must elect which benefit you desire, but you can't have both. If you have a service-connected disability you should apply under public law 16. The benefits under this act are far greater than those provided under public law 346 for any one who served 90 days or more. Only disabled veterans can qualify under public 16.

F. G. writes: "When I served in the army we received double time credit toward retirement for all time served outside the continental limits of the United States. My son has been in the army nearly five years and overseas for four years. If he desires to make a career of the army, can he get credit for nine years toward retirement? He enlisted at 18 and with five years of double time could retire at 43."

Allowance of double time for overseas service toward retirement was discontinued Aug. 24, 1912, but any person who served overseas prior to that time still gets credit for double time.

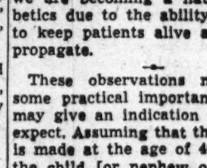
THE INHERITANCE OF DIABETES

DIABETES is on the increase and it has been estimated that there are approximately a million cases in the United States alone. This ailment is classified as of metabolic origin; the pancreas gives off too little insulin to handle sugar in the body. By adjusting the diet, and supplying the lacking secretion hypodermically, most patients can be controled for the remainder of their lives.



Almost all physicians agree that the disorder is hereditary. Statistics vary, but as high as 52 per cent have a family history of the condition. Joslin analyzed a total of 4,434 parent-children sufferers and found that 6.7 per cent of them also had relatives with the disease. He contrasted this with 1,290 individuals taken at random, but not diabetics, and only 1.24 per cent had kinsfolk so afflicted. In addition, White and Pincus note that it occurred in 12 of 19 sets of similar twins but in only two of 29 pairs of dissimilar twins. These reports tend to prove its clannish nature.

Woodyatt and Spetz reviewed 100 families in which two or more generations were involved. They believe that it is likely to develop in a younger age in the second generation than in the first, and earlier in the third than in the second. In other words, a grandparent became a victim in his 50s or later, the father in his 30s, and the son in his teens. This trend appeared in 90 per cent, and the reverse in 7 per cent.

The question might be asked, "What will happen in the fourth generation?" This is an interesting conjecture because it is obvious that the figures should extend to 10 years before birth. In the circumstances such unborn infants could not survive and the disease would then become extinct in that strain. This may be the answer to the claim that we are becoming a nation of diabetics due to the ability of insulin to keep patients alive and able to propagate.

These observations may be of some practical importance as they may give an indication of what to expect. Assuming that the diagnosis is made at the age of 40, and that the child [or nephew or niece] is unagected at or about the 10th year, the possibility of his becoming a diabetic would diminish with each succeeding year until the age of 40 is reached. According to the law of averages, his chances are then excellent for escaping the malady entirely.

The opposite is also true. If a youngster becomes a victim when 10 years old, the father and mother can begin to breathe easier when they reach 40 without signs of the difficulty; and the grandparents, at 60. In the same vein of thought, it is improbable that the person who encounters diabetes early will be capable of producing living progeny with the illness. We must not overlook the fact that transmission follows the Mendelian laws. The offspring of two diabetics should have the disease, whereas the risk is greatly diminished when one of the partners is a nondiabetic.

A study of one or two more generations will be necessary before these views can either be confirmed or disproved. Meanwhile, scientists may solve the riddle of prevention.

ALCOHOLIC

Mrs. D. writes: My husband, 53 years old, has turned into a drunkard. Can I put anything into his coffee or whisky to make him stop drinking?

REPLY

Unfortunately, there is no treatment as simple as this. Why not try to help him remedy the cause of his wish for rose colored glasses. A physician, preferably a competent psychiatrist, may be needed.

SUGAR EXCRETION

C. R. E. writes: Is renal glycosuria considered a form of diabetes?

REPLY

No, altho it is sometimes referred to as "diabetes innocens." The condition is uncommon and the fault lies in the kidneys. These organs behave like a dam and, if the amount of sugar in the blood reaches a certain level, it spills over into the urine.

LUCKY YOU

F. O. writes: I am a male, 45 years old, and have a luxurious head of hair. What can I do to keep it that way?

REPLY

At this age, you must keep your fingers crossed.

Test Your Facts

Below each of the following questions are listed three answers. Make your choice, see the correct answers below, and mark your score:

1. Who were the only Presidents of the United States who actually died in the White House? [a] George Washington and John Adams. [b] William Henry Harrison and Zachary Taylor. [c] Grover Cleveland and Martin Van Buren.

2. An abstract of title is used in [a] The staging of a musical comedy. [b] The transfer of property from one to another. [c] The publishing of a book.

3. The Isle of Capri so often appearing in songs is in the [a] Aegean sea. [b] Tyrrhenian sea. [c] Baltic sea.

4. The Kentucky Derby, patterned after the Epsom Derby in England, has never lapsed since it originated in [a] 1902. [b] 1912. [c] 1875.

ANSWERS

1. [b] William Henry Harrison and Zachary Taylor. 2. [b] The transfer of property from one to another. 3. [b] Tyrrhenian sea. 4. [c] 1875.

Pacific Slogan

The most frequently heard two way conversation in the South Pacific, according to a returned naval lieutenant, goes like this:

"I want to be what my grandpappy was in the Civil war."

"What was your grandpappy in the Civil war?"

"My grandpappy was a civilian."

The Man Behind the Letter

The woman on the other end of the telephone was hesitant. Her words at first didn't make sense. She was saying something about joining the Brush-Off club. "Lots of girls must wonder about it just as I do," she went on. "The letters we get from overseas get so terrifyingly impersonal. Then you worry. You think: Do I write too much? Do I write too often? Is he tired of me? . . . So I asked, in a letter, and his reply really set me back on my heels. I just thought it would help a lot of other girls . . ."

Thus, this letter:

"You certainly got off on a far tangent when you said you intended to make your letters shorter. Did I ever tell you they were too long or too tiresome? I know how long it takes to write a letter, and I know you don't dash them off as easily as you believe I think you do. I don't think you do, but if the long ones take up too much of your time, I'd rather have shorter ones, but I've always enjoyed your letters and looked forward to receiving them. Haven't I ever told you that before? If I tell you the mail service is good or bad, I'm trying to tell you that I've been looking for, or was surprised to receive, a letter from you. How else would I know whether it was good or bad?

"From time to time I get a letter from you containing a reproach that I don't say this or I don't say that. I feel that my efforts fall far short of your expectations. For that I am sorry. I do the best I can, and I, too, spend a little time writing them. If I didn't have your questions to answer, and comments to make on what you tell me, it would be short shrift just writing of what happened today or yesterday.

"As to how we feel and thoughts of the future, we don't. It's better not to think of that and best to take each day and work at it and the job it presents and wait again for the next day. We're here and shall be here yet for quite a while. We all know only one thing: Eventually there will be a better day just beyond that next day. That is the thought that supports us.

"Dreams, wishes, and hopes become pretty thin stuff in the interim. I might even say they become intangible. Hoping—and not daring to hope. That is the big thing to us. All else is of secondary importance. Do you think that strange? Wives, children, sweethearts, everything means little until that one thing comes to pass—that day which means we are to go back. We live in suspended animation and are subject to our individual moods, not creators of them.

"On the other hand, I don't want you to feel sorry for us. We feel we are here to do a definite job, and it must be done and done properly no matter how long it takes. This business can't be finished too quickly to suit us, but it can be too quickly if the job isn't done. Too many people, and men in the army, too, feel sorry for themselves. It is those people who have the roughest time.

"It is doing our job under these unnatural conditions, and feeling that it contributes to the whole, that keeps us satisfied as we are. We are happy in the feeling that each day something is being accomplished to further our end. I know I'm much closer to that day I spoke of, today, than I was a year ago. We all know what we want and we have to work for it. Only then can we hope to resume our normal ways of life—our wishes, hopes, and dreams."

PRESIDENTIAL SUCCESSION

Alliance, O., July 14—I read with interest your editorial, "Tenure in Succession," in your issue of Monday, July 2.

The plan submitted by President Truman whereby the speaker of the house would succeed to the Presidency in the event of the death of the Vice President, who had become President, is objectionable from the standpoint that the speaker might be of the opposite political party, thereby throwing the responsibilities of the Presidency upon both the speaker and the political party without any previous planning or organization therefor. Since the Civil war we have had six speakers with opposite political faith from that of the administration.

We already have an instrumentality, the electoral college. Why not use it? In the event of the death of the Vice President, the electoral college, which for the most part is composed of the outstanding men of each political party, could be called together and elect a Vice President who would serve until the next general election as Vice President. Should the President die and the Vice President succeed to that office, then the electoral college could be called for the election of a new Vice President.

The country could feel secure in trusting its faith to the men who comprise the electoral college. We elected the Presidential electors in the beginning for that specific purpose without any provision made in the Constitution or in the federal statutes whereby the electors are to respect the decision of the national convention. At no time has that faith and pledge ever been violated. That being the case, why not trust the election of a Vice President to the electoral college?

ILLINOIS COAL TO SWITZERLAND?

Chicago, July 12—I placed my order for next season's coal with my coal dealer as soon as the consumer blanks were available. I buy the cheapest Illinois stoker coal usable in a home stoker, and along with my neighbors pay thru the nose for decorating because of the filth due to its consumption.

I have been prodding my coal dealer every week since placing the order for delivery of what I am by law or edict entitled to receive before Sept. 1, but have been unable to get an ounce of it. Yesterday I called on him, and in my presence he phoned his supplier, only to learn that there is being shipped to Switzerland something like 800,000 tons of Illinois coal, and that accounts for me and thousands of others not being able to secure coal. This is another lend-lease give away or what. Less than 200 miles away in the Saar and Ruhr is all the coal Switzerland can possibly use.

ANY ANTI-VIVISECTIONIST VOLUNTEERS?

Chicago, July 11—Dogs obtained from the pound are not the property of the city, which has no right to dispose of them because they are owned by citizens and if a dog or cat has no home that is no reason for cruelty being meted out on them.

If people get sick it is usually their own fault therefore no animal should suffer on this account.

If laboratory experiments are so necessary, why not have humans as guinea pigs?

ANTI-VIVISECTIONIST

THE WELCOME MAT

Chicago, July 13—In reading the paper Tuesday, I came across two articles. The first concerned an American by birth, Mr. Schiffman, who married and raised four all-American children. He answers the call in defense of his country, serves a year over there, and returns to face what? Eviction! That's the thanks he gets for protecting the life and apartment of the man who dispossessed him.

The second article related to Mrs. W. Henry France, the national director of the English Speaking union, which, with the American Red Cross, is going to organize "foreign bride centers," so that when English girls arrive here, everything will be handed to them on solid silver platters, apartments heading the list.

Riddle me this one if you can: From 60,000 to 100,000 foreign brides of GI's are coming to the "land of plenty" to live off the fat of our land, and cream of our crop, while American Veteran Schiffman, his wife and four children, fight to keep a roof over their heads.

NONESSENTIAL TRAVEL

Elmhurst, Ill., July 7—Scarcely a day goes by that we are not treated to the familiar sight of radio and film stars flitting thru Chicago on transcontinental train and plane trips. During the last week or so, Juliana of the Netherlands came over on a troop ship for the purpose of taking her children back home. And today, when the rest of us are admonished to remain at home, we have pictures of an Australian and a South African girl who have traveled here to become brides of Americans.

Much as I'd welcome any kind of a trip or vacation, if it means one iota of comfort for an American service man I'll gladly forego it; but I must admit it gripes me to know that these unnecessary voyages are being made. Is it essential for Juliana's children to travel at this time, and is it necessary for foreign women to come here for wedding ceremonies at this critical peak period in transportation?

SECRECY NOT MOST IMPORTANT CONSIDERATION

Chicago, July 16—I am anxious to know whether a will entirely written by the testator, dated and signed by him, is valid without witnesses? One informant has told me emphatically that it is, and another that it is not. If the latter is right, [2] by what method can a person preserve absolute secrecy in the disposition of his property after death?

L. A.

1. In some states, such a "holographic" will is valid without witnesses, but not in Illinois.
2. The validity of the will is much more important to you than its secrecy.

DENMARK FEARS COAL LACK BARS AID FOR OTHERS

Food Laden Ships Return Empty, Is Charge

BY EINAR CHRISTIANSEN
[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

COPENHAGEN, Denmark, July 18—Red tape is threatening to hamstring Denmark, the only country outside of the United States able to bring relief to distressed Europe, it was reported today. Except for 6,000 tons of Virginia coal and a few limited consignments from the Ruhr, Denmark has practically been without coal imports.

The outlook now is so gloomy that experts prophesize disaster to Danish economy, especially its farming industry, without raw materials to enable Denmark to export its surplus food. Danish ships sailing westward, they say, are loaded to the top with eggs, bacon, and butter sold at unfixed prices and return empty.

Exports to United States

Since its liberation Denmark has exported 18,000 tons of butter, 18,700 tons of bacon, and 3,000 tons of eggs. The figures include exports to the United States amounting to 3,200 tons of butter, 768 tons of bacon, and 1,159 tons of eggs.

It is an indisputable fact that the gas and electricity supply is unable to carry on more than a few weeks. No gas and electricity means the paralysis of all industry, including slaughter houses and dairies, observers warn.

Own Rations Cut

Denmark has cut down its own rations to the British level and is fully prepared to do its utmost to help other countries but a general collapse is held inevitable if the situation is not alleviated by the allied combined board.

The leading Danish newspaper, Nationaltidende, writes: "Let us make clear to our British friends that it is only a question of weeks before catastrophe strikes at Danish industry, trade, and farming. In the past we have always appreciated that Britain has dared to recognize the facts. Common sense for centuries has made it possible for Britain's leaders to understand other countries' concern. In the 11th hour we appeal to our British friends: Give us coal."

Foreign Minister Christmas Moeller, who has been severely criticized for the impasse in trade negotiations, today issued an "optimistic" statement revealing that Denmark in the next six weeks expects imports valued at approximately $1,000,000, equal to 25 cents per capita.

GIs WILL TOUR SWITZERLAND A WEEK ON $35

LONDON, July 18 (AP)—Tourist furloughs in Switzerland for United States troops, beginning July 25, have been arranged in an agreement between American and Swiss authorities, the Swiss radio announced today. The soldiers will enter Switzerland at Chiasso or Basel in groups, accompanied by Swiss guides; go to holiday camps for three days, and travel thru the rugged lake and Alpine country for the remainder of the week. Tho in uniform, the Americans will be regarded as tourists and each will pay $35 for his week's vacation.

CALL SPECIAL VENIRE IN VAULT LOOTING TRIAL

Selection of a jury for the trial of three men indicted for the 2 million dollar looting Jan. 20 of the E. H. Rumbold real estate office safety boxes at 624 W. 119th st. was postponed yesterday when the available list of 100 veniremen was exhausted after eight jurors had been accepted. Four more are needed.

A special venire of 200 men and women will be called for the completion of the jury today. The state and the defense each have 60 peremptory challenges in the case. Judge Frank M. Padden, hearing the case in Criminal court, advised both sides yesterday to hurry the selection of a jury.

Patrick [Patsy] Flaherty, who was arrested in Belleville, St. Claire county; Willie Niemoth of 6951 S. Campbell av. and Llewellyn Morgan, of 12035 Stewart av., are on trial.

He has been a judge of the Municipal court for 23 years.

Bonds on Robbery Counts Against 8 Total $195,000

Judge J. M. Braude in Boys' court yesterday fixed bonds totaling $195,000 for eight young men accused by the police robbery detail of committing 75 tavern robberies which netted them $30,000 in six months. The hearing was continued to Aug. 1 so that indictments may be sought before the grand jury. Robert Kozak, 17, of 2107 W. 19th st., alleged leader of the band, was held in bonds totaling $65,000 on 13 robbery charges.

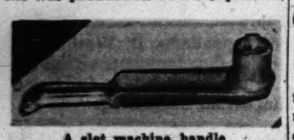
PRIORITIES GIVEN TO HANDLES FOR SLOT MACHINES!

WPB Rules Let Urgently Needed Tables Wait

Thousands of slot machine handles are being manufactured in a North Chicago war plant under high priority, it was learned yesterday, thereby delaying production of essential goods with lower ratings.

It's legal, the regional office of the war production board explained,



A slot machine handle

because the slot machine priority was granted under the WPB theory that it is essential to keep machinery running for the duration of the war.

A WPB spokesman conceded that about the only essenial feature of a slot machine is the $100 annual federal tax on each one.

Plant Bound by Priority

The slot machine handles are made by the Chicago Hardware Foundry company in North Chicago, which has completed an order for 1,000 and is starting production on another order of 1,500, altho it may be delayed until September. Both orders came, stamped with AA3 priorities, from the Buckley Trading Post, a division of the Buckley Music Systems, Inc., 4223 Lake st.

A spokesman for the foundry said his company had nothing to do with obtaining the priority, but would violate WPB regulations if it failed to abide by it.

Such essential items as heads for sewing machines also come under an AA3 priority. Urgently needed restaurant tables sometimes rate no better than AA4 and AA5. Military orders, rated with an "M," are filled first, while the highest priority is AA1.

Handles Are for Repairs

WPB has a "first come, first served" policy on orders of equal priority. Thus slot machine handles would come before sewing machine heads if the Buckley company's order was received first. The foundry would have to fill both orders before it could turn to AA4 or AA5 restaurant tables.

It was learned that one company ordering sewing machine heads succeeded in having its AA3 priority raised to AA1 and thus got ahead of the slot machine handles.

G. F. Haley, manager of the Buckley company, said his firm repairs and services slot machines and that the handles are repair parts. WPB regulations allow an AA3 priority for any kind of repair part whether for slot machine, milling machine, or washing machine, he said.

HELP VETERANS BY AIDING SMALL BUSINESS: GREEN

Newton, Ia., July 18 [Special]—Small business must be liberated from federal burocratic shackles if it is to provide employment for about half of the 11 million returning service men, Gov. Green of Illinois declared tonight before a meeting sponsored by the Newton chamber of commerce.

American free enterprise still relies upon the small business man to do pioneering, the Illinois governor declared. He cited from business history the many examples of small companies leading the way to new products and methods.

"We must look to the small business man to take the risks and make the ventures that will open new fields of production and wealth," Green said.

Green demanded swift action to abolish needless federal rules and regulation. The staggering burden of questionnaires and paper work hits small business hardest because it has small staffs, he said.

GREEN APPROVES MORE BILLS TO RAISE SALARIES

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

Springfield, Ill., July 18—More bills to increase salaries of public officials were approved today by Gov. Green as he continued to sign his way thru a stack of measures remaining from the 64th general assembly. There still are 190 bills awaiting his action.

Under one bill, salaries of Chicago's 50 aldermen can be boosted 50 per cent, from $5,000 to $7,500 a year if the voters approve the change. Another, without referendum requirement, increases the salaries of Chicago election commissioners from $6,000 to $7,500 a year. Salary of the commission's chief clerk, John Rusch, will go up from $7,500 to $8,500 a year.

He also signed a bill doubling the mileage rate of state legislators, from 5 to 10 cents a mile. This will add about $400 a session to money received by Cook county members.

BOGUS COUPON GANG'S LEADER TAKEN, OPA SAYS

Gambler Held by U.S. in $10,000 Bond

Arrest of a key man in the counterfeit ration coupon racket was announced yesterday by L. D. Edwards, chief of rationing currency protection in the Chicago regional headquarters of the office of price administration.

He said Thomas Golden, 32, of 3522 N. Bell av., whom Edwards described as the operator of a gambling place at 1826 Irving Park rd., was seized by OPA agents while in possession of three million bogus ration points on which the ink was still wet. Golden also had an uncounted number of fresh counterfeit gasoline ration stamps, Edwards said.

Key to Counterfeit Ring

"This arrest will help us crack the whole counterfeiting setup," Edwards said. "Golden has verified some facts that the OPA already had discovered in connection with leading figures in the counterfeit ring, and more arrests can be expected shortly."

Golden was arraigned before United States Commissioner Edwin K. Walker on charges of illegal possession and transfer of counterfeit coupons and was held in $10,000 bond. The coupons were found in a compartment of Golden's automobile. The suspect was seized Tuesday night in his gambling place, while 35 patrons were crowded around his games, Edwards said.

Prisoner Has Long Record

The OPA enforcement chief said Golden has a long record of 17 arrests between 1937 and 1943 on gambling and vice charges.

Arthur Schneider, proprietor of Art's Market, 3514 North av., was charged with the illegal possession and transfer of 10,000 counterfeit ration points in an OPA suspension hearing. Schneider denied that he ever bought or transferred counterfeit coupons, and the case was taken under advisement.

HIT-RUN CHARGE PLACED AGAINST COMISE VICTIM

Judge Jacob M. Braude in Boys' court yesterday issued a warrant for William Fortier, 17, of 4428 Wallace st., charging him with leaving the scene of an accident. The warrant was issued on complaint of Rosario Delesi, 18, of 5439 Aberdeen st., who charged that Fortier drove away after crashing into the rear of his car Tuesday at 47th and Wentworth av.

A passenger in Delesi's car was John Comise Jr., 17, of 1102 W. Garfield blvd. Comise and Fortier were placed on six months' probation by Judge Braude June 20 on charges of disorderly conduct.

Earlier, a Criminal court jury had found Comise's father, former president of the Cafe Owners association, guilty of assaulting Fortier with a deadly weapon and fixed his penalty at six months in jail and a fine of $1,000.

LIST MARGOLIS $2,000 ESTATE FOR PROBATE

The estate of Morris Margolis, 30, liquor dealer and former handbook operator, was estimated at $2,000 yesterday in a petition to administer the estate which was filed in Probate court in behalf of his widow, Doris, of 4300 Marine dr.

Margolis was found shot to death early Friday in his parked car in front of 1622 Ontario st.

Margolis also left two insurance policies, totaling $20,000, which name his widow as beneficiary.

OREGON FIRE ROARS BEYOND CONTROL AGAIN

Portland, Ore., July 18 (AP)—The Wilson river fire roared out of control again at midday after a brief period in which foresters hoped the blaze could be held to the 25,000 to 35,000 acres already blackened.

Radio reports said some of the 1,900 weary fire fighters were forced to retreat before scorching flames eating toward green timber.

Falling humidity—from the favorable 60 degrees of the last few days down to 36—increased the hazard. A 30-degree humidity is regarded as dangerous enough to halt logging in this state.

Children Flee Fire

San Bernardino, Cal., July 18 (AP)—More than 800 boys and girls were being evacuated today from summer camps in the San Bernardino mountains as 1,100 men fought the worst forest and brush fire in the area since 1938. Forest Supervisor William A. Peterson said the fire was started by a plane crash. A navy scout bomber had crashed and burned in the San Bernardino mountains Monday.

OPA ACTS TO END PACKER'S RIGHT TO HANDLE MEAT

The Midwest Packing company, Barrington, reputed to be operated by Terry Druggan, prohibition era beer salesman, was ordered yesterday by Judge Walter J. LaBuy in United States District court to suspend all slaughtering for alleged violations of office of price administration slaughtering control rules.

Judge LaBuy set July 27 for hearing the OPA petition for a permanent order restraining the company from packing rationed meat for the duration of rationing. Harold B. Levy, an OPA enforcement attorney, said the company has slaughtered "good and choice live beef cattle" in excess of OPA limitations.

Levy described the Midwest firm as one of the chief violators of OPA meat packing regulations. It has filed false papers for a rationing quota, he charged, and in June, 1944, the company was suspended for selling meat without accepting ration coupons. In May this year it was ordered to reduce its slaughtering by 50 per cent for two months.

DEATH NOTICES

In Memoriam

CASSAN—Myrtle Ida Cassan. In loving memory of our dear departed wife and mother, who passed away one year ago today.
LOVING HUSBAND AND SONS.

GOWAN—In fond memory of William Gowan, who passed away one year ago today.
Long days, long nights you bore your pain,
Waiting for a cure, but all in vain;
God saw that you were suffering and that the hills were hard to climb.
So he gently closed your weary eyes and whispered, "Peace be thine."
YOUR LONESOME WIFE AND FAMILY.

MEYER—Elizabeth J. Meyer. In memory of our beloved mother and grandmother, who passed away July 19, 1943.
LOVING CHILDREN.

WALLACE—Arthur W. Wallace. In loving memory of my beloved husband, who left me three years ago today.
A helping hand to all you knew,
You were so kind, so generous and true;
Often you helped lift the heavy load
Of trouble for many along the road.
I'll remember though others forget.
Fond memories of you I'll always treasure.
I miss you so—beyond all measure.
LONESOME WIFE, EDNA.

WEINSTEIN—William Weinstein. In loving memory of my dear husband, who passed away three years ago today.
Time takes away the edge of grief,
But memories turn back every leaf.
LOVING WIFE, BECK.

MIDEAST CRISIS CASTS SHADOW OVER ZIONISTS

Jews to Attend World Parley in London

LONDON, July 18 [Reuters]—An atmosphere of crisis affecting the whole Middle East overhangs the final preparations for the world Zionist conference which is to begin in London on July 31. About 60 prominent Zionists from all parts of the empire, from the United States, Palestine, and possibly also from Europe, are expected during the next few days. The political leaders of the movement, Dr. Chaim Weizmann and Moshe Shertock, are already in London. Dr. Stephen S. Wise and Rabbi Abba Hillel Silver are expected this week as part of the United States delegation.

The conference is the first since 1939 and its first consideration will be to take stock of the state of its organization. In Europe it has been almost completely disrupted by the war and this will be the main topic of discussion.

Negotiate About Refugees

For some time, it is understood, the Jewish agency has been negotiating with the British government about emergency measures for displaced Jews in Europe. The white paper quota which allowed the immigration of 75,000 Jews into Palestine is now exhausted.

The political department of the Jewish agency recently has submitted a new emergency plan to the British authorities which, it claims, is based on the economic capacity of Palestine. This would entail immigration permits for 25,000 orphaned Jewish children, 38,000 wage earners with 38,000 dependents—altogether about 100,000. This number, the Jewish agency claims, can be immediately absorbed into Palestine without adversely affecting either the economy of the country or the Arab population.

Urge Speedy Action

It is urged by the leaders of the Jewish agency that something be done quickly in view of the high death rate in the camps of displaced Jews.

It is pointed out that of those liberated from Belsen camp, 18,000 have died since liberation, and that the death rate continues at the rate of 50 per day.

So far no reply has been received from the British authorities and it is believed in Zionist circles that none will be forthcoming until the results of the election and also of the Big Three conference are known.

JUDGE CALLS OPA CRUEL AND GIVES STORE 2D CHANCE

Office of price administration measures against alleged violators of ceiling prices are "harsh and drastic," Circuit Judge Harry M. Fisher said yesterday when he gave another chance to a liquor store charged with selling two bottles of whisky at overceiling prices.

The store, the Crown Liquor Mart, 872 E. 63d st., was accused of selling a $3.87 bottle of whisky to an OPA investigator for $5.40, and a $4.50 bottle of whisky for $5.50.

"To grant injunctions against dealers after their first offense is cruel and inhumane," Judge Fisher declared. He ordered OPA Atty. William J. Corrigan to draw up an order directing the defendant to comply with price ceilings. If further violations occured, a permanent injunction would be issued, he said.

Woman Jailed

SONIA PELECK

Mrs. Mary Stryszyk and her daughter, Rosalie.

Miss Sonia Peleck, 25, of 1246 Bosworth av., who assumed the identity of another woman to obtain a divorce for the other woman's husband, yesterday was sentenced to 60 days in the County jail for contempt of court by Judge Joseph Sabath in Superior court.

She had obtained the divorce before Judge Sabath last April 2 while posing as Mrs. Mary Stryszyk, 31, of 1524 Elston av. Her bill had charged desertion. Her only witness was Mrs. Stryszyk's husband, Hubert, a private in the army, who also assumed a false identity.

The fraud was disclosed after Mrs. Stryszyk complained to the war department that she was no longer receiving her allotment checks. Investigation brought the false divorce to light. It has been declared void.

Never tried anything that seemed to draw the pain and fire right out so fast—and the way it helps soften callouses is nobody's business! Been able to get some extra overtime money—so what do you say, let's go dancing tonight. You can step on my Ice-Mint feet all you want.

RADIO MEN TELL ATTACKS ON JAPS FROM FLAGSHIP

Eyewitness Stories Break Precedent

BY LARRY WOLTERS

The eyewitness broadcasts of the 3d fleet's attacks on Japan in the last several days have come from Adm. Halsey's flagship. The broadcasts, carried by the four major networks, represent the breaking of a rule set long ago against the descriptions of naval battles at the time of action.

The newest type of short-wave voice equipment is used for the broadcasts. The transmitters are capable of reaching west coast receiving stations either directly or thru a relay by way of Guam. Most of them are reported coming thru Guam.

It is presumed that the broadcasts, with other radio messages from the fleet, have been permitted because it is believed that the radio silence heretofore maintained during an attack was unnecessary. The radio reporters covering this first line action are: Jack Mahon for Mutual; Joe R. Hainline, NBC; Gene Rider, CBS, and Norman Paige, ABC.

When fire started in the building at the northwest corner of State and Lake streets yesterday morning, operators of television station WBKB, located atop the State-Lake building, 190 N. State st., across the street, opened the studio windows, swung their cameras toward the blaze and went on the air with pictures of firemen fighting the flames. Televiewers saw their first loop fire as it happened. In the post-war world mobile units will be built for covering news events.

WBBM will introduce a new program, Welcome Home, featuring interviews with veterans as they are being honorably discharged at Fort Sheridan. Sunday evening at 10:45 Bob Venables will interview Sgt. Oscar G. Johnson, congressional medal of honor winner of Foster City, Mich. A group of five Chicagoans, veterans of the fighting in Europe, also will be heard.

The Committee for Economic Development, with Paul G. Hoffman as chairman, is planning a series of programs dealing with post-war business expansion and jobs over ABC at 6 p. m. Saturdays, starting Aug. 11. Neil H. Jacoby, vice president of the University of Chicago, will be moderator of the broadcasts. Among those who will appear on the first discussions will be Hoffman, Secretary of the Treasury Vinson, Eric Johnston, Beardsley Ruml, Walter D. Fuller, and Raymond Walsh.

The SMALLEST Freedom

It's not in the Atlantic Charter:

It's not expressed in the Constitution or the Bill of Rights. It has never even been set down on paper by law.

You see, it's considered a very small freedom. It's merely your right to choose and buy what you like.

Perhaps it's a pair of shoes. Perhaps a breakfast food, vacuum cleaner, shirt, automobile, hair tonic. You are free to say: "I like this brand. I don't like that brand." You spend your money as you best see fit.

If you prefer a particular brand, for whatever reason, you are free to buy it.

And strangely enough, the protection of this small freedom is in your hands.

Today, to meet a vast consumer demand, there exists a temptation for manufacturers to lower the quality of their products. And they could find millions of people ready to pay for these products, believing they are receiving the customary high quality. No reputable manufacturer yields to this temptation.

Calvert's policy, in common with that of every forward-looking business in America, is that a good name must never be sacrificed . . . not for profit, not for expediency, not even for war.

For we believe that the loss of a good name merits the swift and just penalty it brings . . . the loss of your good will.

And as long as brands exist, that power of penalty and reward will be in your hands. You will be able to choose and buy what you like. It is the smallest of freedoms.

Or is it?

Thru the Looking Glass

There just isn't enough sunburn preventive manufactured to protect all the people we see sunning themselves indiscriminately. Maybe we're crazy, but we think these people are indescribably foolish. If there's any sense to virtually stripping and lying for hours in the blazing sun, courting a burn and all the discomfort that goes with it, we fail to see it.

Last Sunday was a lulu for the people who want to soak up all their sun in one day. The sun was flirtatious, you remember, and there was a spanking wind—and in no time at all the sun worshipers got broiled. There probably was a little more than the usual absenteeism on Monday, which doesn't add to the gayety of nations, and the number of men and women who were ill and uncomfortable can't be estimated. There's no point to it at all; suntans bought at that price aren't worth it.

Be careful, if you value your own health and texture of your skin. Be especially wary on windy days. Use protectives and preventives lavishly. If you do get a burn, hie yourself fast as a rabbit to the drug store for a preparation that will soothe it. Eat lightly and drink lots of water. Don't do what one woman we know did Sunday. First she anointed herself with a cream to soothe her burn, then took a long, leisurely soaking in the tub! Her skin is still steaming slightly.

Cleanse the burned skin with oil or cream, not with soap and water, for a couple of days. If you become nauseated and really ill, call a doctor—but don't expect that busy man to be overly sympathetic at the results of your own folly. Sunburning yourself is just plain stupid.

Baby Formula Can Be Mixed During Trips

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS

(Copyright: 1945: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.)

This is a sequel to a recent article on choice and care of the baby's milk when traveling. Here are definite directions which were worked out by a young mother with a six months' old baby:

Fill sterile bottles to top with sterile water for one day's feedings, put sterile nipples on, and cover with sterile caps to protect them. In this way, the baby can have water to drink between feedings if necessary. [He needs more than milk to quench his thirst.] Cover with sterile caps after drinking and use that bottle for his next feeding. Of course you may have to pour out some of the water to make the correct number of ounces for your formula.

Now scoop out the specified [for your baby] amount of powdered milk, add to water in bottle gradually, and blend by shaking. It is not always necessary to warm the water, as moderately cool sterile water is not a shock to baby's stomach.

When preparing water, bottles, and nipples for next 24 hours' feedings, go to the dining-car kitchen during their slack time only. Find out from the chef or dining room steward what time is best.

Boil water and bottles and fill to top again. If you wish to, a few extra sterile nipples can be put in a small covered jar. Since dining-car staffs are so busy, it would be unreasonable and unwise to depend on them to do a really sterile job of boiling. You must manage that yourself. People are so kind and helpful on trains these days that, if you are traveling alone, someone will be glad to hold or watch your baby while you perform this necessary operation in the cooking galley.

Sugar Cut Hits Ice Cream and Bakery Goods

Only the cool weather has prevented a critical shortage of ice cream, an official of one of the largest dairy products companies in this area said yesterday in discussing the recent reduction in the sugar quota alloted to the industry.

Dr. Franklin Bing, director of the American Institute of Baking, viewed the situation as "serious." He said sugar is vitally needed to convert the nation's current large wheat crop into palatable foods.

"If a first class heat wave hits Chicago, we will be in desperate circumstances to meet the demand for ice cream," the dairy products executive said. "Not only have we been cut from 70 per cent to 50 per cent in our sugar ration, but we have not been getting as much milk solids as we did last year at this time."

He said the milk solids quota is generally increased in spring. Last year, the industry received an increase from 65 to 75 per cent for May, June, and July. This year, however, the increase was from 65 to 75 per cent for June only, he explained.

Bakers are receiving only 60 per cent of their former sugar quota, having been reduced 15 per cent in July, Dr. Bing said. In some areas, they are unable to obtain even the full amount of their quota, he added.

"Wheat is the one food product we now have in abundance," he said. "As such, however, it is not a food. It needs processing into flour and then to be combined with sugar and shortening to produce a consumable food. The shortage of sugar and shortening is having a severe effect. Bread is needed to supplement other dietary shortages, such as meat."

The baking industry has done a magnificent job during the war years in making the most effective use of critical food products, Dr. Bing maintained.

"People will not eat bread only," he said. "They demand a selection of bakery goods. Whereas the baker has cut out the high sugar content items formerly on the market, he still is faced with stretching his sugar quota to produce tasty and nutritive goods other than bread."

Dr. Bing also pointed out that the sugar and shortening shortage may affect employment in the baking industry.

The actual bidding:

East	South	West	North
1 heart	Pass	1 spade	Pass
3 diamonds	Pass	3 no trump	Double
Pass	Pass	Pass

Whether or not to make a forcing bid is not always easy to determine. For years, many players have unfortunately fallen into the way of deciding this issue on the basis of honor tricks held. This will not always work. It must be remembered that a forcing bid does not merely announce a strong hand; it obligates the partnership unconditionally to reach a game contract. It seems good economy to make sure you can produce a game before making such a commitment.

East opened modestly with one heart, and the future looked rosy. West's response of one spade is not open to question. At this point East determined that his side could surely go game. But I do not think he was justified. Always eye with great caution any hand that is made up of tenaces when you may have to lead those suits from your own hand. Substitute two jacks for the two eights and you have something. With that hand I would take my chances on a game contract against the world. In fact I would open with a bid of two hearts. But when there is a likelihood that partner's hand may not be reached a different attitude should be adopted toward empty ace-queen suits.

In my opinion the better rebid by East was two diamonds. If partner should pass that, it would mean that his hand was poor indeed and the chances of missing game would be remote, tho possible.

Now we come back to West. What should he do if partner's second bid is two diamonds? Should he return to the first suit? I think not, in this case. My experience has shown that it does not pay to show an early preference with a worthless doubleton. Late in the day when a choice has been thrust upon you by your partner, you may be obliged to return to his first suit with only two small, but I believe it to be unprofitable in the long run to do so in the early stages of the bidding.

If West should return to two hearts all the king's horses and all the king's men couldn't keep East from hopping to game and he might even get some ideas of a slam. And who would blame him? When you have made a courtesy takeout, and partner has not forced, it is unwise to show a technical preference, when you have no real preference. With West's hand I would not care to give my partner any further chances, inasmuch as I like diamonds just as well as hearts.

TOMORROW'S PROBLEM:

As West you hold:

South	West	North	East

What do you bid now?

WILSON'S WEEKLY Bulletin

Food and Nutrition Consultant to Wilson & Co.

Liver Sausage—A Real Cinderella

Time was when cold cuts, served with potato salad and other cold dishes, were considered a real treat—but not particularly blessed with food value. Now we not only enjoy cold cuts for their palatability, but revel in the fact that they are nutritious as well, and particularly so if they are interspersed liberally with thick slices of delicious Braunschweiger liver sausage. For this delicious meat has "come out" in the last few years as one of the more important meats from a nutrition standpoint—a real Cinderella.

Easy on the Cook

Who wouldn't come home posthaste to a cooling supper like the one shown above—Wilson's Certified Braunschweiger Liver Sausage, surrounded by raw carrot and cucumber garnishes and tasty potato salad in tomato roses.

Start the meal with B-V bouillon (for your one hot dish), add fresh bread or rolls, quickly cooked seven-minute cabbage, lemon chiffon pie and milk or coffee and you have real appetite teasers right through the meal. A true accomplishment on a hot day and easy on the cook at that.

Easy on the Eyes

Those tomato roses will make the family open their eyes. And they're so easy to make. Trim out blossom end of chilled tomatoes and cut in six or eight wedges (like cutting a pie) to within half an inch of the bottom. Pull petals apart to make space in center for potato salad.

Slice the Certified Braunschweiger "on the bias" if you like larger slices. Looks prettier, too.

The carrot curls were made with a thing-a-ma-jig (gadget to you) I have had for years. You can cut them in thin slices or match-like sticks and the color will be just as attractive—and perhaps they'll be even easier to eat.

Notch or "corrugate" the cucumbers by running the tines of a fork down the cucumber lengthwise, pressing hard. Simple, isn't it?

A Nutritious Twosome

Liver sausage and B-V bouillon, alone or together, add a real wallop, nutritionally speaking, to any meal. Two quarter-inch slices of liver sausage three inches in diameter (but who stops with two?) and a cupful of B-V bouillon together furnish you your full day's requirement of iron, vitamin A and riboflavin plus other B vitamins, protein, phosphorus, vitamin C and copper. So serve this nutritious twosome often for refreshing summer meals.

Yours for combining Nutrition with Eating Pleasure,

George Rector

Camp Wipigaki in Wisconsin Draws Number of Chicagoans

BY JUDITH CASS

THE INFORMAL life and pleasantly rustic surroundings of Camp Wipigaki in Wisconsin draws a large group of Chicagoans and suburbanites each summer. Fishing is good for those who persist, it is said, and, while there is no golf, there is plenty of sailing and tennis. The summer residents occupy cottages and take their meals at a central building.

Unless traveling conditions prove too strenuous, Mrs. Nicholas Blatchford and her 3 months old baby will join her mother, Mrs. Samuel A. Greeley, and sister, Dixie, at Wipigaki soon. If Sgt. Blatchford returns from Newfoundland next month as expected, he may join his wife and baby at the camp. Lt. Frederick Greeley, who spent his recent 18 day leave in Winnetka with his wife and parents, will not be far from his family's Wipigaki summer home this summer. He has been transferred from Hondo, Tex., to Truax army air field in Madison, Wis. Also at Wipigaki are Sgt. Blatchford's parents, the Nathaniel H. Blatchfords, and their daughter, Peggy.

With Mrs. William T. Bacon at Wipigaki are her son, Mr. Bacon Jr., and his wife and baby. The young Bacons returned to Winnetka this spring after he completed his course at Yale university. Mrs. Elliott Donnelley and her children have been at the camp since the first of the month, as has Mrs. John Rice Reilly.

The Holman D. Pettibones, other confirmed Wipigaki fans, have opened their cottage at the camp and are there with their daughters, Miss Barbara Pettibone and Mrs. Herbert Butz, and Mrs. Butz's husband and two little girls. William D. McKenzie has rented his Wipigaki cottage to Mr. and Mrs. Calvin F. Selfridge for the season.

The summer colony will be augmented this year by the young bride of Lt. John B. Elliott, who with his parents, the William S. Elliotts, has spent many seasons at Wipigaki. Young Mr. Elliott has been released from the navy, and with his wife, the former Naomi Coffin of Miami, Fla., will arrive from Miami Beach this week-end to travel to the camp with his father and sister, Mrs. John S. Schweppe.

On the Calendar

When Mrs. Schweppe returns to Winnetka after Labor day she will plunge into her duties in connection with the St. Luke's fashion show, planned for Oct. 17 in the Medinah temple. She is one of the youngest members of the large fashion show committee. Her husband, now stationed in China with the army medical corps, formerly was on the staff of the hospital.

In addition to Mrs. Schweppe, a number of other committee heads for the St. Luke's fashion show have been appointed by the general chairman, Mrs. Walter B. Wolf. Mrs. Edwin W. Ryerson will have the important job of providing a stirring finale to the show, which will be given only in the afternoon this year. Mrs. A. Watson Armour III., sister-in-law of Mrs. Schweppe, has a busy summer ahead lining up exhibitors.

When Mrs. Louis C. Sudler returns from Harbor Springs, Mich., she will have the nucleus of the large mannequin list in readiness. Mrs. Seymour Wheeler will serve as properties chairman. Mrs. Gordon Lang heads a committee which will check gowns to see that no duplicates are shown. Mrs. Edward A. Cudahy has accepted the post of ticket chairman, and Mrs. William S. Covington will head the box sales committee. Mrs. Joseph T. Ryerson is program chairman, and Mrs. I. Newton Perry will manage the fashion show office when it is opened in September.

Engagement News

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Crabtree of W. 101th pl. gave a reception last night for their son, Lt. Richard C. Crabtree of the army air forces, and his fiancée, Miss Dorothy Schmidt, whose engagement has been announced by her parents, Dr. and Mrs. Herbert J. Schmidt of S. Damen av. The wedding will take place Aug. 3 in Trinity Methodist church. After a wedding trip to Nantucket Island, Mass., Lt. Crabtree will take his bride to Miami Beach, Fla., where he will report to the air force base.

Lt. Crabtree returned home three weeks ago, having been liberated May 1 by the Russian army from Stalag Luft I. in Germany, where he had been a prisoner. He was the first American pilot to land in southern France during the invasion of the Riviera coast. He completed 118 missions, the 100th of which was the first to be flown successfully from southern France, before he was shot down last November over the Po valley and imprisoned.

Miss Schmidt attended the University of Chicago and the Francis Harrington School of Interior Decoration. Her fiancé attended Dartmouth college.

Oscar Wilde Tale Expertly Done in Film

"THE PICTURE OF DORIAN GRAY"

By Mae Tinée

Director Albert Lewin has done a masterful job of bringing Oscar Wilde's tale of the inevitable wages of sin to the screen. The casting is well nigh perfect, settings are magnificent, and the sordid story emerges as a forceful, thought provoking film, as polished and cutting as a diamond.

Hurd Hatfield's Dorian Gray is woodenly handsome, proud as Lucifer, and, as I watched his disintegration, I was reminded of the parallel of the fallen angel who defied God. In fact, this fanciful and dreadful history of one of the beautiful and the damned has an allegorical quality, with George Sanders as Lord Henry Wotton, the despicable cream of foppery, the clever, fascinating force of evil, and Lowell Gilmore as Basil Hallward, the humble, gifted artist who lost the battle for good even as he prayed for forgiveness of a lost soul.

From the opening scenes, in which Hallward puts on canvas the glowing good looks of the handsome but unspoiled Gray and the young Adonis meets the oily sophisticate who coolly steers him toward devilry for the pleasure the contemplation of human weakness gives his own jaded mind, the film carries a mounting horror which never fades. Gray's wish that all bodily changes such as mark the passing years in all human beings be reflected in the portrait is granted, and, after heeding Wotton's devilish counsel, he proceeds to pursue and enjoy vice in all its known forms—with no mark of his degradation on his young and perfect features. The portrait, carefully hidden, bears that burden, and what a loathesome sight it is after years of seduction, blackmail, murder, and other crimes only hinted at in the film.

George Sanders is at his best as the glib Wotton, representative of a crop of brilliant, useless sensualists of the period, whose conversation consisted entirely of epigrams and who apparently mistook the pursuit of immorality for immortality.

The direction was brilliantly restrained and intelligent, with numerous clever touches, such as the symbolic butterfly Wotton captures as he lectures Gray on the pursuit of happiness thru the senses. The settings are perfect in detail and help immeasurably to illustrate the opulence and luxury of a society of hedonists. Angela Lansbury was well chosen as the childish ballad singer who is Gray's first victim, and all the other members of the cast are competent.

The film has enormous dramatic qualities and some touches of caustic wit. I found it absorbing and mentally stimulating entertainment.

A Hammy Western

"WILDFIRE"

Produced by Screen Guild, directed by Robert Tansey, featuring Bob Steele, Sterling Holloway, John Miljan, William Farnum, Virginia Maples, Sarah Padden, Eddie Dean, Wee Willie Davis, Rocky Camron, Al Ferguson, and Frances Ford. Presented at the La Salle.

"Wildfire" is remarkable only for some of the hammiest performances offered in many a day. The title refers to a horse, and even he isn't very convincing, altho he does better than the humans involved.

It's all about a band of horse thieves who use the nag as an excuse for their plundering, until two stalwart traders come along and put a stop to such skullduggery. The plot twists interminably, and there's a singing sheriff who warbles occasionally but couldn't scare a small sized rabbit, plus a blonde girl who recites her lines, fortunately few, like a backward 2 year old.

Only those who like their westerns regardless of whether they're good, bad, or indifferent will enjoy this number, which is definitely half-baked.

Fall and Winter Fashions Sketched by Margot at New York Showings

Anthony Blotta creations for fall and winter, displayed by New York Dress institute for nation's fashion writers and sketched by Margot, Tribune fashion artist, who is in New York with Rea Seeger to give Tribune readers a preview of new styles.

1.—Dramatic large sleeves of deep crimson wool, handsomely embroidered in black braid, contrasts with the dull black wool of the stunning dress coat. Notice how the sleeves extend across the shoulders to the high round neckline with soft turnover collar.

2.—Classic streamlined town and day time coat dress of yarn dyed gray wool, a shade almost as dark as steel gray. Expert tailoring and fine hand made buttonholes distinguish this model. The clever fold tucks at the top of the skirt provide extra flat fullness.

3.—Typical example of Blotta's dress parade suit in a romantic Russian manner. It is of dull black wool and has a simple straight skirt, topped with a Russian blouse jacket buttoning at the side and blazing with the gold and colored embroidery of the double eagle crest of the Romanoffs.

4.—Sensational winter coat of tobacco brown soft wool, fashioned like the cowl hooded monk's robe and tied around the waistline with a large cord made of the same wool as the coat. Widened shoulders are big and bulky without being stiff and unflattering.

5.—Stunning dark brown bulky coat for cold winter weather with dashing back flare, a turn over deep collar anchored with big buttons, and wide sleeves. For exciting contrast, there are two huge wool yarn tassels at the snugly closed neckline.

6.—Dashing cossack boots, designed especially to wear with the Russian coats and suits of the Blotta collection, with big fake jewels sewn in an all-over design. The wide flared gauntlet gloves, also embroidered with jewels, complete the ensemble's splendor.

These fashions will be available in Chicago shops and stores after the official fall openings.

New Collection by Blotta Has Russian Flavor

BY REA SEEGER

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

New York, July 18—Anthony Blotta's predilection for the flash of sequins apparently flourishes healthily season after season. He spattered his summer silk and even cottons with lavish abandon, somewhat to the consternation of those allergic to paillettes and twinkling sequins, but now he hits the jack pot, and the result is clothes for fall and winter of barbaric splendor, exciting enough to completely dazzle a luxury loving czarina. Surprisingly enough, almost any woman can wear them.

One Russian inspired dull black suit displayed in Blotta's fashion parade in the current fifth annual New York Dress institute press week showings, not only was Russian in silhouette but the ancient double eagle crest was embroidered in blazing gold and colored embroidery right across the chest.

Strange barbaric colored fleeces make greatcoats. One, of biting electric blue, had a lining of bortsch red crepe, another of tawny gold tone is embroidered in wickedly glinting green-gold sequins combined with scarlet and vivid blue.

Frankly admitting the influence of the costumes of Slavic color and splendor, Blotta has successfully borrowed, copied, and adapted a lot of this dazzling Tartar splendor with skill and imagination. American women who are a bit weary of neutrals, of subdued combinations, and a puritan avoidance of embellishment are going to blaze and shine with eye blinding glory all next winter and enjoy every minute of it. And if they are of the stuff of adventurers, they will complete the costumes with the newest Russian boots, as lavishly bejeweled and embroidered as the clothes. Dashing gauntlets to match have the glitter of more jewels, fake tho they be, for the final flash.

The usual butter smooth Blotta classic suits in gabardine and others of more dress up design, all minus the glitter of sequins are still potent bait for the sleekly tailored shoppers. Blotta gabardines have earned enviable distinction for season after season, because of the dateless silhouette and the amazing long wear of this fabric.

War Time WCG

It's been a woman's house so long
I sometimes wonder how
'Twill seem to have some one to do
The jobs I cope with now.

Will I—then—clean the basement steps?
Or scrub the storeroom shelf?
Or cut the hedges and the grass
And do it all myself?

O, no; I'll be a clinging vine,
As helpless as can be,
I'll wear a fluffy negligee

It Ain't Right

I never posed as an expert on good form. So the question as to why it is not good form to use ain't [when won't is acceptable] is out of my jurisdiction. But—

Won't is an entirely respectable contraction, like can't, don't isn't, and the like. Won't is a direct derivative of woll not—good Anglo-Saxon for will not.

The really hard question is, why is ain't an outlaw? Logic seems to point it out as the desirable contraction for am I not; but good form says, "No." My guess is that ain't fell into bad company—of some double negatives. Ain't is sometimes a sheer fraud when it tries to pass for isn't. This latter illegitimacy and its evil associations may be the reasons for the exclusion of ain't beyond the pale of elegance; but, mind you, I'm guessing. The matter is beyond the scope of my pretensions.

THE REAL WORD EXPERT

Bobby Soxers

If I wore feathers in my hair, I'd doff them to the two very young waitresses in the Randolph I. C. station—one a tall girl with brown hair and smiling brown eyes, the other a rather short blonde. The tall one serves me quietly and quickly every morning, and, altho she can shout her orders to the cook loud enough to be heard in the noise, she speaks quietly to her patrons. Both of the girls are nice bobby-soxers with pleasant voices, conscientious attitudes toward their work, and courteous.

Tschaikowsky Program Draws Crowd to Park

BY ALBERT GOLDBERG

An all-Tschaikowsky program with a much heralded new violinist to play the concerto brought a throng to Grant park last night that to the unaided eye seemed to top the summer's attendance. Nicolai Malko and his Grank park symphony offered the Prayer from the "Mozartiana" suite, the Fifth symphony, and the Waltz of the Flowers from the "Nutcracker" suite as their sacrifices on the altar of Tschaikowsky worship, and Tossy Spivakovsky contributed the violin concerto.

Violinists, it is obvious, like the concerto better than other people—at any rate they always jump at a chance to perform it. Not many do so wisely, for the original critic who said that it was written against rather than for the instrument—they said the same thing about the Brahms concerto—was not altogether a fool. It has moments when it invites fiddler and fiddle to bare their wedded souls; it has others, a good many more, in fact, of sheer industrious padding, when the solo instrument and orchestra debate pro and con about nothing in particular, with neither winning a decision.

Mr. Spivakovsky went at his task with Slavic ardor but neither this nor his dauntless technic was sufficient to make vernal the prolix wastes of the piece. He is, nevertheless, a remarkably well equipped violinist, with a bow arm and a left hand that work together to achieve brillance, and a tone that sings with piercing sweetness, tho an exceedingly fast vibrato sometimes gives it a vox humana quality painful to the judicious ear. It would be interesting to hear him in something that would be more of a musical challenge—and without the incessant obbligato of planes roaring to Tokyo.

Mr. Malko's Fifth symphony is a spacious and leisurely conception that dwells with infinite affection upon each wailing little phrase, sometimes in a revealing and highly individual manner, sometimes with maddening deliberation. It is rarely concerned with dramatic effect or propulsiveness, and when those passages arrived they had the odd effect of intruding on the morbid day dreaming that had gone before. The orchestra played it well, apparently quite according to the conductor's wishes, and there was a particularly lush period in the second movement's horn solo, played by Philip Farkas, the crack horn player who once belonged to Chicago, moved on to Cleveland, and has now been lured to Boston, where they demand the best in things orchestral.

THE QUESTION

Is a man in uniform more attractive to you than a handsome civilian?

WHERE ASKED

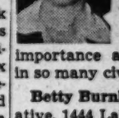
THE ANSWERS

Dolores McCalla, reservations, 214 Lincoln st., Lemont—There's a certain amount of glamor attached to a uniform and no matter how unattractive a man is, a uniform does something for him. I definitely think a man in uniform is more attractive than a civilian—even tho the civilian may be exceptionally handsome.



Rosemary Molloy, reservations, 3319 W. 61st pl.—Usually I find myself turning around to look at a man in uniform. Probably if that same man were in civilian clothes I wouldn't even see him. It's funny what a uniform does for a man. It gives him an air of importance and confidence lacking in so many civilians.

Betty Burnham, control representative, 1444 Lake Shore dr.—I believe that a man who is in uniform is apt to be neat and strictly "in uniform." The civilian will dress to suit himself. When you've known a fellow in civilian life and see him when he comes back in a snappy uniform, there's a world of difference in his appearance.

Marguerite Quinlan, reservations control, 1619 Jarvis av.—A handsome civilian is more attractive to me, because they're so rare these days. I think the uniform has lost its glamor because we have seen so many of them. I'm longing for the time when they'll all be back in civilian clothes so you can tell what they look like.

Marianne Brennan, assistant to director, 2106 Fargo av.—It depends on the kind of uniform the man is wearing. I'll look at the navy first, then the army, and then a civilian. It's the flash and snappiness of a uniform that catches any one's eye. A handsome man is much better looking in a handsome uniform.

Helen Sturdy, reservations manager, 5518 Winthrop av.—Perhaps I'm partial to men in uniform because my father, brother, and my one and only are all wearing them these days. Maybe I'd get tired of it if men wore them forever, but right now they look mighty good to me. They definitely add glamor to a man's appearance.

'The Wicked Mrs. Steel'

By Roy Vickers

(Copyright: 1945: By Roy Vickers)

INSTALMENT XXVIII.

A CONFESSION

Charles broke off, glancing anxiously at Valerie. "Look here, Gillian! We may as well face it. Valerie actually did have a shot at murder. And you can get quod for the attempt, even if it doesn't come off."

Gillian nodded gravely. "I was thinking of that when I told you to say nothing in front of Ruth."

"You darling!" He kissed her on the cheek. "And you'll promise poor old Val never to mention the confession?"

"Of course!" Gillian added: "I swear I will never speak of it to any one."

Valerie got up.

"It's no use trying to say 'thank you' and 'I'm sorry' and the rest of it." Her voice broke. "You know I feel a rat, don't you! Tell Charles he's a fool to stick to me."

"I'm not going to make a life enemy of Charles—he's much too nice," smiled Gillian. "Forget it, Valerie. Aunt Margaret threw us all off our balance."

"Including Ruth, apparently," supplemented Charles. "Good-by, Gillian, dear!"

Ruth, in fact, had never been thrown off her balance by Mrs. Steel. When the superintendent, refusing to listen to her tale, gently levered her out of his room, she caught sight of the mayor, in company with the chief constable of the county.

"Mr. Mayor! Please, sir, I know who killed Mrs. Steel, and the superintendent won't let me tell him."

The mayor interrupted the chief constable as the latter was about to explain that Mrs. Steel had not been murdered.

"This lady was housekeeper to Mrs. Steel. I think, colonel, it would do no harm for us to hear in private what she has to say."

"You were going to tell us who—er—killed Mrs. Steel?"

"Yes, sir. I killed her."

Both men had been half expecting this. The chief was uninterested. But the mayor was anxious to pick up every shred of information about the Steel household.

"How did you kill her, Ruth? By putting tablets in her milk?"

"If she had swallowed all those tablets, same as they said she did, she wouldn't have been walking in her sleep," asserted Ruth. "She didn't have but the one tablet, which Miss Beynon gave her."

"Sleep walking!" muttered the colonel. "What sort of a tale is this going to be?"

"The sort you wouldn't believe, sir, unless you was to listen to what I have to tell first."

Thus the chief constable, like many another, learned the unwisdom of browbeating Ruth.

"Andrew Steel was my master and I was his servant. I tried to be a good servant, tho we were friends as well. And maybe he's satisfied now with what I've done, which is kill his wife. He knew I would, if I had to. I promised him she would die in her bed, and not on the gallows."

"Now why on earth should Mrs. Steel die on the gallows?" demanded the chief constable.

"Because she had it in her, sir, and Andrew Steel knew it. It doesn't matter now telling you gentlemen, but she tried to kill him, twice. And she's tried at me ever so many times, until she got to understand I was one too many for her, always locking my door and having a bolt on it too. She used to tear up flowers. As to the canaries, well, I don't know about them, because she certainly was fond of them and used to cry after she'd killed them, so it may have been only clumsiness most of the time.

"But you can't get away from it—she was a cruel woman. She used to like plaguing Andrew's relations about who she was going to leave the money to. And anything that crossed her special like would bring on the notion o' killing some one. She used to fight against it—I will give her that. I used to feel like she was my own daughter. But it would get the better of her in her sleep and set her walking about the house, half sensible she'd be and half acting these fiendish dreams. Only she didn't fight much against wanting to kill Miss Beynon."

"Because she had her eye on Miss Beynon's man, sir. And I'm not sure he didn't have one eye on her before Miss Beynon came along. Margaret tried all she knew to separate them, but they only quarreled with her, and Miss Beynon was going to leave next day and get married. Well, Margaret was awake and dressed when I saw her go to Miss Beynon's room and take the key out of the lock—tho, maybe, she was not herself, due to the tantrums. That night, I waited on the stairs, quiet as a mouse. Before it got light, out comes Margaret from her room. I'd got a torch—and I could see what was in her hand. I went up to her, same as I always do when she walks about at night, took her other hand and turned her round. Generally she goes back to her room then. But tonight she turned back and I had to start over again. In time I did get her back to bed and she was very quiet after a bit.

"I sat in the dark, thinking. I'm 63, sir, and I shan't be able to do that sort of work much longer. So I remembered what I promised Andrew Steel, and I knew I'd have to do my work while my hands are still strong. So I went up to the bed, sir, and strangled her."

"You did not strangle her!" snapped the chief. "That last bit is not true."

"The rest of it rings true—dormant homicidal mania!" cried the mayor. "But for Ruth's devoted care, Mrs. Steel would have ended her days in a criminal lunatic asylum."

"I'll speak to Sir Arthur on the phone," announced the chief constable, and left the parlor.

Five minutes later, he returned and addressed Ruth.

"I apologize for saying you were not telling the truth. You did strangle Mrs. Steel." To the mayor he added: "Sir Arthur says the throat had certain markings that bear out this woman's statement."

"Yes, sir," said Ruth, dully. "I did it, and I'm ready to take my punishment."

"There won't be any punishment, because we shall not prosecute," returned the chief. "Mrs. Steel was already dead of heart failure when you attempted to kill her."

A business conference prevented Ralph Hanshew from hearing the news until 6 o'clock. No criminal, unexpectedly acquitted, ever felt a greater relief.

Stopping only to hear a summary of Sir Arthur's report, he hurried to Gillian.

Ruth, in the meantime had returned, apparently with a calm mind; but she gave no account beyond the bare statement that the mayor had made her "sign a paper."

IN THE OLD WEST, "don't fence me out" was a phrase that hinted of shootings, killings, and bloody feuds between cattle barons and homesteaders. Looking at Hollywood

By Hedda Hopper

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., July 18—Bob Young will do "D-day at Las Vegas" for R. K. O. This has to do with the war between divorce and remarriage—meaning Las Vegas is beating Reno to the screen. . . . If it can be arranged, Andy Russell will star in a musical version of "The Life of Russ Columbo" for Paramount. . . . Bob Cummings is negotiating with the Alexander Dumas estate for the American dramatic and film rights to the life of Dumas. Story will be written by Norman Krasna, and Joan Fontaine wants a place in it. . . . Bill Goodwin is so good in "Stork Club" he may play lover boy to Deanna Durbin. . . . Paul Cavanaugh's signed for "Night and Day." He'll get Alexis Smith, only to lose her to Cary Grant.

They Got Me This Time

Well, I've sure been had! Having known Bonita Granville in Douglas Manor, Long Island, since she was five years of age, and having talked with her thru the years many times, I thought I knew the sound of her voice. So when "she" called me up to tell me she was going to marry Buss Caldwell within two weeks, it never occurred to me that it wasn't Bonita. The girl who imitated her voice, I must say, did a magnificent job. Even Elsie Janis in her greatest day never did a better one. There are more angles to this little story of Bonita's coming marriage [which isn't true] than there are legs to a centipede, but did you ever try following each leg of a centipede? That's what I'd be doing if I tried tracking down the guilty one. I'll still play my cards face up across the table and let the chips fall where they may. This chip flew right in my eye—that's why it's black and blue.

Bits About Our Children

Since the Hal Roaches are having a baby, it's interesting that Hal's grandson will be older than Hal's own son. Hal III, now is 3. . . . Loretta Young's son, Peter, is her second child in less than a year. Loretta evidently expects a big family. In her new home she has nine bedrooms—and in these days unless they're filled, that's hoarding! . . . Ad Randall's death shocked everybody. He was so likable. It was thru Joan Bennett and Walter Wanger that he got the new job at Universal after he'd been out of pictures two years. Walter always believed he had talent. . . . Wilbur Evans, Broadway's heart throb playing in Mike Todd's "Up in Central Park," is being pursued by David O. Selznick with a long term contract. But Evans is tied up with a run of the play contract. If he ever does go into pictures, he'll probably change his name from Wilbur to Rodman.

A Three Point Landing

Tom D'Andrea's the fair haired lad at Warners. He can write, and does write, his own stuff. He's doing a sequence for himself in "Night and Day." He's also testing for the Errol Flynn picture. It was Gracie Fields who started him acting. He'd written a GI show for the boys at Camp Roberts, when Gracie came up as a guest star. Some comics were due who didn't arrive, so Tom tried training a couple of GI's. Gracie heard the rehearsal, and said, "You're a GI—why don't you do it?" She insisted. "So I did," said Tom, "and that started the ham sizzling." Later he went up and down the coast and found musicians for that wonderful Santa Ana band. Bob Hope's brother, George, and Tom wrote the shows. Tom emceed them. When Bette Davis needed funds for the Hollywood Canteen, she asked Tom if he'd put on a show for her at Ciro's. He did—and acted in it. Jerry Wald and Hal Wallis saw him, nabbed him, and Warners gave him a post war contract. Then he was injured, got a medical discharge, and Wald grabbed him for "Pride of the Marines." He's sure one fellow who found his place thru the war. There must be many more. Let's try to find them places, too.

Summer Camp Draws Number of Chicagoans

Chapman Park Oratorio in Los Angeles, Cal. The ceremony was transferred from the Wee Kirk o' the Heather in Hollywood, where it originally was to have been read, because the latter church is closed for redecorating. A small reception will follow in the Ambassador hotel, where the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William W. Sears of Kenilworth, are staying. Miss Nancy Varde of Kenilworth, who is visiting in California, will be Miss Sears' only attendant. Ensign Allport's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Allport of Glencoe, did not make the trip west for the wedding.

Here and There

By 10 a. m. today Horticultural hall in Lake Geneva, Wis., will be crowded with shoppers from miles around for the annual holiday home benefit sale sponsored by the Lake Geneva Fresh Air association to raise money for a summer camp at the lake for underprivileged Chicago children. Mrs. Philip A. Starck is general chairman of the sale, which will offer clothing, shoes, jewelry, bakery goods, and many other items. An admission fee of 10 cents is charged for the sale.

Mr. and Mrs. Freeman Knight will give a small dinner tonight for Mr. Knight's sister, Miss Mary Katherine Knight, who is here on a 10 day visit before returning to her home in Carmel-by-the-Sea, Cal. Miss Knight, who is well known in musical circles here, was a member of the faculty of the Harvard School for Boys before leaving Chicago.

Methodist Board Program Seeks Million Converts

The Methodist board of lay activities, meeting in the Stevens hotel, yesterday adopted a new program of evangelism which was submitted by the church's national board of evangelism. The program calls for a million converts, daily devotions in every Methodist home, and the founding of 500 new churches.

Proper Miss Thanks Boy for Date Fun

BY SHEILA DALY

[Copyright: 1945: By The Chicago Tribune]

"Something has been puzzling me lately and I guess I need a little help. There's a fellow whom I know who comes over frequently in the evening to take me out walking. We always have fun, but when he brings me home, I never know what to say. Is it proper for a girl to say 'thank you' to a boy?"

On the SOLID side

It's a strange idea that many high school gals have that it is not correct to say "thank you" to a boy. Of course, you don't always have to use the same two words; you might add that you've had fun and that you hope he'll come over soon again. No need to be stiff and formal, no need to give out with the hearts and flowers, but every boy likes to know he's appreciated.

"I've been dating a fellow on and off for over a year. He is 17 and I'm almost 16, but we have broken up four times for the same reason. You see, I've always liked the idea of being 'sweet 16 and never been kissed.' My friends tell me I'm silly not to let the fellow kiss me goodnight but I figure that if I have to do that to hold my boys, I just don't care if they take me out or not. I like this boy very much, and I know I hurt his feelings by not giving in. I would like to be able to have a lot of fun without worrying about the good-nights."

A good-night kiss is nothing to worry about. If you don't feel that you want to kiss the boy goodnight, you don't have to. If the boy really likes you, he'll understand that you think you are too young and that you aren't sure of your own feelings. Sincere affection is spontaneous and when the right Joe comes along [look for another Van Johnson on a big white horse] you won't have to stop to count up birthdays on the calendar.

Cheap Cotton Cloth Increase Will Boost Prices, OPA Reveals

Washington, D. C., July 18 (AP)—The prospect of an increased supply of inexpensive cotton clothing led paradoxically today to a boost in retail prices for such items. The OPA announced that because of "the continued expansion of the low cost clothing program" it has become necessary to allow retailers to add a larger markup to wholesale price ceilings, effective Aug. 17.

The regulation applies to all cotton garments to which manufacturers are required to affix retail ceiling tags. These include women's and girls' dresses, slips, blouses, and nightgowns; men's shirts, shorts, and pajamas; boys' pants, wash suits, and blouses, and children's sun suits and numerous other items.

At present, retail markups average 32 per cent. Under the new program they will be 34 per cent from garments made of carded or coarse cotton yarns and 36 per cent for clothing from better quality yarn.

This means, for example, that men's shorts which currently sell for 55 cents will retail at about 60 cents under the new ceilings. Women's gingham dresses now retailing at $2.70 will sell at $2.90.

Educator Envisions New Efficiency for Future Classrooms

Classrooms of the future will be designed to function as perfectly as airplanes or mechanical refrigerators, William C. Davis, professor of education at the University of Chicago, told the 14th annual conference of administrative officers of public and private schools in Belfield hall yesterday.

Modern functional classrooms, he said, will provide space for study and group instruction, constructive activities, committee work, and audio-visual aids for groups and individual pupils.

He predicted that 5 billion dollars will be spent for new schools within five years after the war.

ALL-STARS GET ALL-AMERICAN IN WARRINGTON

Auburn Center to Face Packers

All-Star Roster

COLLEGE football players who have accepted invitations to join the All-Stars for the game Aug. 30 in Soldiers' field with the Green Bay Packers:

ENDS—Jack Dugger, Ohio State; Dub Wooten, Oklahoma.

GUARD—Pat Filley, Notre Dame.

CENTERS—Gordon Appleby, Ohio State; Tex Warrington, Auburn.

HALF BACKS—Babe Dimancheff, Purdue; Sgt. Charles Trippi, Georgia; Edmond Bhedlosky, Tulsa; Joe Renfroe, Tulane.

QUARTER BACKS—Don Greenwood, Illinois; Les Horvath, Ohio State.

FULL BACK—Sgt. Ernie Bonelli, Pittsburgh.

BY WILFRID SMITH

Caleb [Tex] Warrington, co-captain and All-America center on Auburn's 1944 football eleven, has accepted an invitation to join the All-Stars for their game Aug. 30 in Soldiers' field with the Green Bay Packers, champions of the National Football league. The 220 pound, 6 foot 3 inch star unquestionably will be one of the mainstays in the 12th annual game sponsored by The Chicago Tribune Charities.

Tex Warrington

"Warrington was worth more to my team last fall than would have been any man I can think of now in intercollegiate football." This is the opinion of Carl Voyles, Auburn coach. "Tex was half of Auburn's defense."

Also Stars in Baseball

Warrington played for Voyles at William and Mary and the Indians won the Southern conference title in 1942. The schedule also included Navy, Oklahoma, Dartmouth, and Harvard. Tex also was a sensation in Southern conference baseball. He's a left handed pitcher for whom striking out 16 or 17 opponents a game was routine performance.

After two years at William and Mary, Warrington went into the marines and was discharged last summer. He immediately went to Auburn to play his last season for the Tigers under his former coach. His home town is Dover, Del., where he early gained fame as a 12 year old pitcher. His father is a government employe.

Joins Auburn Coaching Staff

Warrington, now married and the father of a 9 months old son, has accepted a position as assistant coach at Auburn and will begin his duties immediately after the All-Star game.

Warrington received his nickname Tex while attending Bordentown Military institute. He explains, "I was slightly bowlegged as a kid and the boys took notice immediately."

Tex was invited to play in the East-West game at the conclusion of the 1944 season but he chose to play for the South in the North-South contest at Montgomery, Ala.

Accurate Passer, Hard Blocker

Altho he has had offers to play professional football and baseball, Warrington has determined to follow coaching as his profession. He was graduated from Auburn this year with the degree of bachelor of arts in business administration. Despite his love for collegiate sports, Tex still receives communications from professional baseball, notably Baltimore, New York Giants, and Birmingham. Tex captained both football and baseball teams during his collegiate career.

Four years of football experience have given Warrington a knowledge of the game many undergraduates do not have. He has the physical qualifications for the fame he has received on the gridiron. An accurate passer at center, he also is fast and a hard, decisive blocker.

Dave Ferriss Beats Sox, 6-2; 16th Victory

BY IRVING VAUGHAN
[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

Boston, Mass., July 18—The unhappy White Sox met up with the spectacular Dave Ferriss again today and for the fourth time were forced to concede that he knows all the tricks of the pitching art. Encouraged by some blasting of Bill Dietrich's mound work, Ferriss fashioned his 16th victory for the Red Sox and did it so well that until the ninth inning he had his third shutout of the James Dykes boys in the making. The score was 6 to 2, giving the latter a grand total of four runs off the army dischargee in 36 innings.

It didn't take the local lads long to relieve a 10,151 crowd of Ferriss fans. They gave Dietrich such a thoro bouncing around in the opening inning that three scored. Not satisfied with that they hit him for another run in the third and two in the fourth whereupon Boss Dykes decided to make a change. He called in Frank Papish and the southpaw's rescue job was so neat that only one hit was recorded during his four inning term.

Boston Scores 3 in First.

The locals played their hands so well in the first inning that nothing went to waste. Ed Lake launched the three run jolt by singling to left. George Metkovich cut into the assault with a single to right, giving Lake ample time to reach third. Next was a two base drive splashed against the fence in left by John Lazor, Lake scoring. Bob Johnson contributed a fly that scored Metkovich and put Lazor on third. He ran in from there with the third run on Dolph Camilli's long fly to Oris Hockett.

Altho only one Boston performer scored in the third, the inning was more or less of another rough ride for Dietrich. Lake and Metkovich again led with singles. Dietrich got by the next two men, one on a pop fly and the other on strikes, but Camilli beat out a grounder to Kerby Farrell, filling the bases. Dietrich then walked Skeeter Newsome, forcing in Lake.

Red Sox Add Two More

Bob Garbark opened the fourth with a single and Ferriss popped up, but Tony Cuccinello, aiming to give the big fellow a little exercise on the bases, let the ball drop, after which he threw to Leroy Schalk for a force out at second. Lake drew a pass and Dietrich personally threw out Metkovich but Lazor lined a single into center scoring Ferriss and Lake.

Altho the Chicagoans finished with a total of eight hits they were a long way from that mark during the first eight innings. Three of their hits were coined in succession by Cuccinello, Oris Hockett, and Cass Michaels, with one out in the second inning the flurry filling the bases. But Mike Tresh fanned and Jack Tobin threw out Dietrich. And from the second to the ninth there was only one hit, this being a single by Johnny Dickshot with two out in the sixth.

Sox Finally Score

Dickshot also figured in the ninth inning display by singling with one out. Cuccinello also singled for the second time and after Hockett had flied out, Michaels singled to center scoring Dickshot and sending Cuccinello to third. A single by Tresh drove him home. Then Floyd Baker batted for Papish and he let go with a hard drive but Ferriss stabbed it with his gloved hand.

WARNEKE FAILS; PRIM SCORES 2D SHUTOUT IN ROW

Chicago Retains Its 3 Game Lead

BY EDWARD BURNS

The Cubs yesterday made an amazing week-day crowd of 42,047 very happy by shutting out the Brooklyn Dodgers, 5 to 0, in the first game of a double header and prolonged the ecstasy by blanking the Dodgers on one scratch single in the first five innings of the second game. Thereafter, however, the Dodgers made nine runs in their last four innings, whipping our pace setters, 9 to 5, in the sundown number. The Cardinals were held to a split by the Phils, so the Cubs retained their three game lead.

Yesterday's crowd gave the Cubs a total of 147,479 in the seven playing days since their return from the east. Included was the 29,513 turnout last Thursday for the Braves' double header; Sunday's 43,802 for two games with the Giants, and yesterday's plus 40,000.

In the first game Ray Prim pitched his second shutout in five days. The somewhat ancient lefty thus ran to 26⅓ his string of scoreless innings.

Warneke Fades Suddenly

In accomplishing his sixth victory the 37 year old Alabama-Californian yielded seven hits, two of which were infield scratches and three of which came in the last two innings after the Cubs had acquired five runs. The Cubs made 10 hits off Curt Davis.

In the second game Lon Warneke made his first start since September, 1943—and did a marvelous one-hit job until he became engulfed in a typhoon, or something, in the sixth inning. Lon was followed by Wally Signer, Bob Chipman, Hy Vandenberg, and Ray Starr, none of whom was much help. In the sixth and seventh innings the Dodgers made seven runs and eight hits. During the misery Dixie Walker drove in five runs by knocking a single off Warneke with runners on second and third, and by doubling off Chipman with the bases loaded.

Cubs Knock Out Buker

Even so, the Cubs rose up in the seventh after being held to two hits by Cy Buker in the first six innings. In this seventh they scored three runs and had the tying runs on third and second with one out, and the bases loaded with two out.

Then the Dodgers brought on Ralph Branca, who joined up from St. Paul yesterday, and he stopped the Cubs in the seventh, struck out four in the eighth and ninth innings, and yielded no hits.

The Dodgers operated in their victory process without the services of their manager, Leo Durocher, who gave the crowd an exhibition of umpire heckling similar to the one he put on the last time he appeared before a Chicago capacity crowd. He was chased by Umpire Ziggy Sears after a ridiculous demand that the umpire cancel the calling of "time."

Score 'Em One by One

In the first game the Cubs started in the second inning on a run-an-inning program which carried thru the second, third, fourth, fifth and sixth innings, without interruption. In the second inning Andy Pafko tripled to right and scored on Harry Lowrey's single.

In the third inning Prim opened with a single to deep short and went on to second when Eddie Basinski threw into the dugout. Stan Hack moved Prim to third with a sacrifice and Don Johnson sent him home with a fly to Goody Rosen.

With one out in the fourth, Pafko and Lowrey got on base as a result of errors by Basinski and Eddie Stanky, whereupon Paul Gillespie's second single scored Pafko. Hack opened the fifth with a single to center, advanced on Johnson's sacrifice and scored on Bill Nicholson's single to center.

Lowrey launched the sixth inning with a single to left, reached second on Gillespie's out, and went to third on Galan's error on a reverse double play attempt. Lowrey scored on Len Merullo's fly to Luis Olmo.

The Dodger panic, which led to five errors in the first game, continued for a time but scarcely long enough in the second game. Two more errors were factors in the scoring of two Cubs' runs in the first three innings.

Buker walked Hack at the start of the second game. Then followed a phantom strikeout and "double play," which resulted in the banishment of Durocher. When the game was resumed, Johnson, victim of the "time out strikeout," bounced to Stan Bordagaray, who threw the ball, on the wing, into the Dodger dugout, Hack reaching third, and Johnson second. Hack scored on Nicholson's fly to Olmo.

Warneke Runs Into Trouble

Warneke walked at the start of the third. Hack fanned but Johnson singled to right. Nicholson fouled to Sandlock. Phil Cavarretta rolled a grounder thru Stanky, Warneke scoring from second. [Incidentally this was the closest Phil has come to a hit in his last three games, 11

JOCKEY ADAMS PILOTS MAINE CHANCE STAR INTO WINNER'S CIRCLE

Beaugay (6), with Jockey Johnny Adams up, winning the 17th running of the $44,920 Arlington Lassie stakes at Washington Park yesterday before a crowd of 21,000. Enfilade (2) is finishing second and Aladear is coming up on the rail to take third place in the nine filly field. The winner is owned by the Maine Chance farm.

Jockey Johnny Adams rides Beaugay into the winner's circle. With Beaugay are Trainer Tom Smith, left, and B. F. Lindheimer, executive director of the Arlington Park Jockey club.

POST-WAR air travel is certain to influence the character of sports schedules, especially in intercollegiate competition. . . . Objections voiced against intersectional contests because of the loss of time from classrooms no longer will be valid. . . . Notre Dame, for example, can renew its rivalry with Southern California with no longer absence from the campus than is now involved in its series with Army in New York. . . . The importance of compact conferences, heretofore desirable mainly for schedule conveniences, will dwindle. . . . This is on the assumption, of course, that teams will rely more heavily on air transportation, which seems apparent. . . . Buck Shaw, football coach at the University of California, is bemoaning the loss of Roger Harding, and All-Pacific Coast center who had a year of eligibility remaining until he recently signed to play with the Cleveland Rams of the National league. . . . Col. Eddie Eagan, chairman of the New York boxing commission, has become a partner in a New York law firm to be known as Noonan, Kaufman and Eagan. . . . Marine Capt. Jack Riley, former All-America tackle at Northwestern university, back home after two years in the South Pacific, pens the following note to overseas service men via the Wildcat News: "Dehydrated food and spam are a rarity in this country. I have been forced to subsist on new potatoes, milk, and a strange native concoction known as green or tossed salad. The natives also have a custom of toasting a locally grown meat known as steak over charcoal. I have found it delicious and recommend it highly." . . . Couldn't be that the captain was waxing satirical? . . . Yesterday's 42,047 turnout lifted the paid attendance for two successive Cubs' double headers, Sunday and yesterday, to 85,850 and the total for the last four days to 104,277.

The Cubs won the National league pennant in 1932 with a team batting average of .278 and in 1938 with .269. . . . Their current collective average of .286 may be significant. . . . Lt. Frank Leahy says no other entertainer has provided more recreation for Americans in the Pacific, as far as his observation goes, than has Comdr. Pat Harder, who is recovering from a knee operation, expects to be released by the marine corps in time to play football this fall with Wisconsin. . . . No. 66, worn by Buddy Young in the Illinois backfield last season, will be carried this year by another Negro half back, Frederick Napoleon Burgess from Red Bank, N. J. . . . He wears the same size shirt, 40, and the same size pants, 32, as Young. . . . This department has not heard that he can cover 100 yards in Young's time of 9.5. . . . Cleveland's All-America Signs Houston Cleveland, O., July 18 [Special]—Lindell Houston, who played under Paul Brown in high school and college, will follow his football teacher into the professional game. The Cleveland Panthers of the All-America conference announced today that the 215 pound guard has signed to join the team after he leaves military service. Houston, an army private, is stationed in the Pacific.

Lindell Houston

Houston started his football career under Brown at Massillon [O.] High school. They met up again when Brown moved to Ohio State and Houston played guard on the Buckeyes' 1942 Western conference championship eleven. Brown, now a lieutenant, junior grade, is football officer at Great Lakes Naval Training center and will coach the Cleveland entry in the All America. Last year Houston was a member of the College All-Star eleven which played the Chicago Bears.

300 TO COMPETE IN K. OF C. GOLF TOURNEY TODAY

The 18th annual state golf tournament of the Knights of Columbus will be held today at the Elmhurst Country club, with a field limited to 300 competing. Augie Tamburrino of Feehan council will defend the individual championship, which he has won the last two years.

Leo council, which won the team championship last year, will defend foursome honors.

RENE NELSON, MRS. MAYER WIN IN DISTRICT GOLF

BY CHARLES BARTLETT

Rena Nelson of Exmoor, the advertising copywriter who is taking a vacation this week to compete in the 14th annual tournament of the Chicago Women's District Golf association, still is on the playing premises of the Northmoor Country club this morning as the event enters its semi-final phase.

Mrs. Mayer Wins, 3 and 2.

Mrs. Harold E. Foreman Sr. of Lake Shore, the only grandmother in the championship fight, gave Miss Nelson a run over the full route of 18 holes before Rena could win, 2 up. Mrs. Foreman, mother of the Illinois Men's Amateur title holder the last two years, took a 1 up turning lead after the two had halved only two holes on the outgoing nine.

Today Miss Nelson meets still another Lake Shore star in Mrs. Frank Mayer, who advanced to the final foursome by eliminating the defending champion, Mrs. Lawrence H. Selz of Northmoor. Mrs. Selz, whose husband is a cousin of Mrs. Mayer, found herself 2 down at the turn, then won the 10th, but lost the 15th and 16th to bow out, 3 and 2.

Miss Miller Meets Mrs. Sims

The second semi-final brings together Virginia Nilles, the physical education teacher from Rolling Green, who was runner-up to Mrs. Selz for the 1944 title and who last week reached the state final, and Mrs. Harold M. Sims of Evanston, former Minnesota state champion. Miss Nilles put out the other Northmoor survivor in the championship set, Mrs. Harry Sherman, by a 3 and 2 margin. Virginia was also forced to play the best golf of the second morning round, going 3 up at the turn by the grace of a 39, two over par. Mrs. Sims gained the semi-finals with a 4 and 2 decision over Mrs. Charles Dennehy of Onwentsia.

Results in the championship and first flights, with today's pairings:

Championship Flight

Rena Nelson, Exmoor, beat Mrs. Harold E. Foreman Sr., Lake Shore, 2 up.
Mrs. Frank Mayer, Lake Shore, beat Mrs. Lawrence H. Selz, Northmoor, 3 and 2.
Virginia Nilles, Rolling Green, beat Mrs. Harry Sherman, Northmoor, 3 and 2.
Mrs. Harold M. Sims, Evanston, beat Mrs.

Semi-Final Pairing

Miss Nelson vs. Mrs. Mayer.
Miss Nilles vs. Mrs. Sims.

First Flight

Mrs. Philip Deering, Exmoor, beat Mrs. P. D. Block Jr., Lake Shore, 2 up.
Margaret Muench, North Shore, beat Mrs. O. C. Bell, La Grange, 4 and 3.
Mrs. James Sutherland, Skokie, beat Mrs. R. D. Kiefaber, Indian Hill, 3 and 2.
Marian Schuster, La Grange, beat Mrs. L. L. Oakes, Exmoor, 2 and 1.

Semi-Final Pairings

Mrs. Deering vs. Miss Muench.
Mrs. Sutherland vs. Miss Schuster.

The championship finals tomorrow will be at 36 holes.

ENFILADE RUNS 2D, ALADEAR 3D AT WASHINGTON

4th Place Goes to Breezy Louise

BY MAURICE SHEVLIN

The 17th running of the $44,920 Arlington Lassie stakes became the vehicle for the fourth consecutive triumph of the east's slick youngster, Beaugay, yesterday at Washington Park before a crowd of 21,000. The star of the Maine Chance farm, backed into 2 to 5 favoritism over eight other sparkling 2 year old fillies, scored by a length and a quarter over Enfilade, another rival from the east. A. C. Ernest's Aladear was third.

Beaugay, ridden by Johnny Adams, found the contest a bit tougher than her previous outings and even was threatened with disqualification by the filing of a protest by Jockey Arnold Kirkland, rider of Enfilade. Kirkland claimed the winner interfered with Col. C. V. Whitney's horse by crossing over coming down the stretch.

Beaugay, Enfilade Run Wide

As a matter of fact, both Beaugay and Enfilade went wide coming out of the stretch turn and the winner's time of 1:12 1/5 for the six furlongs as a consequence was much slower than had been anticipated. The track record is 1:10, held by Three Dots.

Beaugay, which won the Belmont Fashion stakes and the Polly Drummond at Delaware Park, added $35,900 to the $12,490 she previously had directed into the coffers of Mrs. Elizabeth N. Graham of New York, and paid her backers $2.80 $2.40, and $2.20 in the mutuels. Enfilade refunded $2.80 and $2.60 while Aladear was $3.20 to show.

Winner Acts Up at Gate

Beaugay acted up at the gate but came out of the stall on even terms with Enfilade and jumped to a length advantage over Hal Price Headley's Lamme, ridden by Doug Dodson. Beaugay and Enfilade raced almost head and head for three furlongs or until Adams called for the big bay's move as they went into the far turn.

Enfilade was on the rail coming out of the turn and into the long home grind and seemed to carry Beaugay to the center of the track. Beaugay, however, responded to Adams' urging and went ahead by a length, moved to the inside and won with plenty to spare.

Lamme, entered with Forgetmenot, hung onto third place until the stretch turn, then gave way to Aladear and finished a poor eighth. Mrs. Louise Donovan's Breezy Louise, ridden by George South, got up late to take fourth place share of the prize money.

$127.40 Daily Double

J. C. Stone's Syl's Bobby [$7.20] and Mrs. T. M. Pruett's Conscript [$25.00] provided a $127.40 daily double. Billy Nichols and Willie Carr were the winning jockeys.

Burgoo Maid, Ruth Sidell's 5 year old mare, accounted for the afternoon's supporting feature, the $5,000 Boundless handicap in which five classy older runners competed. Adams brought the daughter of Burgoo King in a length and a half ahead of Mrs. H. J. Damm's Zacapet. Mrs. V. E. Smith's Sirius was third. The winner paid $8.00.

CARDINALS AND PHILS DIVIDE, 7 TO 3 AND 5 TO 4

Latter Halt Rally to Take Second Game

St. Louis, Mo., July 18 (AP)—The lowly Philadelphia Phillies withstood a desperate ninth inning rally to defeat the world champion St. Louis Cardinals, 5 to 4, in the second game of a double header tonight to gain an even break in the two games. The Cards won the first contest, 7 to 3.

The Phillies took a lead in the first inning, again in the fourth, once more in the eighth and finally won the game in the ninth inning when Pinch Hitter Rene Monteagudo singled home the winning run.

A'S, INDIANS TIE

Philadelphia, Pa., July 18 (AP)—With the Philadelphia Athletics and the Cleveland Indians deadlocked at 2 to 2 after 12 innings of play, the first game of a twilight-night double header was called tonight on account of rain. Rain also forced postponement of the second contest.

unsuccessful times at bat having shrunk his .374 average.]

Going into the sixth inning the only hit off Warneke was a single caromed off his own shins by Buker in the third inning. Lon retired Buker at the start of the sixth. Then dire things busted loose.

Stanky doubled along the left line and Rosen singled to center, scoring Stanky. Galan then dumped a double into short left, Rosen stopping at third. Walker singled to center, scoring Rosen and Galan, and giving pause to Warneke's comeback adventure. Here Signer replaced Lon and Olmo singled to right, putting Walker on third. Bordagaray forced Olmo. Mike Sandlock scratched a hit off Hack's glove, then Nicholson made one of the greatest diving, one hand catches of his career to rob Basinski of a triple and end the inning with the Dodgers ahead, 4 to 2.

Cubs' Rally Falls Short

Buker retired the Cubs in order in the sixth, and the Dodgers came back for three more runs off Signer and Chipman in the seventh. With one down, Signer walked Stanky and Rosen singled to right, Stanky going to third. Chipman replaced Signer and walked Galan, loading the bases. Walker then cleared the bases with a double.

With one down in the seventh, Buker walked Dewey Williams and Merullo singled. Heinz Becker, batting for Chipman, doubled to right, scoring Williams and Merullo. Bill Schuster ran for Becker and scored on Hack's single to left center. Johnson singled to right and Tom Seats replaced Buker. Hack went to third and Johnson second on a wild pitch. After Nicholson popped to Basinski for the second out Cavarretta walked. Branca replaced Seats. Pafko ran the count to three and two, then grounded out to Basinski.

Sandlock opened against Vandenberg in the eighth with a double. Basinski bunted to Vandenberg, who threw wide to first. Sandlock went to third on the bunt and scored on the bad throw.

WILLYS TAMES JEEP AND PUTS IT 'IN' HARNESS'

Shows What Civilian Model Can Do

BY PHILIP HAMPSON
[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

New Hudson, Mich., July 18—The post-war jeep built by Willys-Overland Motors, Inc., today demonstrated its versatility for peace time use on the 2,000 acre Charles E. Sorensen farm near here. In combination with varied equipment it plowed, cut, and threshed rye in a combine, dug post holes, operated a disc, sprayed fruit trees, and supplied power for many other farm chores.

This amazing vehicle, in production at the company's Toledo plant along with military jeeps, can do duty as a tractor, light truck, or passenger vehicle. In addition, a power hookup attached to its engine will run almost any kind of power operated equipment.

Rides Easier, Is Sturdier

The new jeep is similar to the war jeep, but has been adapted to peace time use. It rides easier and has been made sturdier to endure hard farm and industrial toil. One hour it can be pulling a plow and the next it can be running up the road at 60 miles an hour, taking the farmer and his wife and a load of milk to town.

The jeep is equally at home in open country and on the highway. It took reporters up a 30 per cent grade and traveled a tortuous trail up and down hill thru a woods, giving a reasonably comfortable ride.

Reporters saw the jeep pull a two bottom 12-inch plow thru a medium heavy loam, making a seven inch furrow. It plows about 1¼ acres an hour. They saw it operate a binder in a rye field, cutting about three acres an hour, and it pulled a tandem disc with ease.

Power Shaft Runs Implements

Connected with the engine at the rear of the jeep is a power take-off which operates a pulley or spline shaft. These run the special equipment such as hay mower, rake, saw, pumps for sprayer, binder, corn sheller, and dozens of others. The power take-off can be used with other industrial equipment as well as farm.

The jeep can operate the special equipment off the power take-off while in motion. While moving in low speed it operates with four-wheel drive. Special fan and radiator arrangement enables the 60 horsepower engine to run indefinitely when the jeep is used as a stationary power plant, running drills, compressors, grain elevators or other equipment.

The principal differences between the military and the post-war jeep include the power take-off, improved transmission, springing adapted to civilian use, changes in the axle gear, and numerous changes in the engine.

Sorensen, the owner of the farm on which the tests took place, is president of Willys-Overland and a former executive of Ford Motor company.

Will Do Anything—Sorensen

Sorensen said the jeep is one of the comparatively few military instruments which have been salvaged for peace time pursuits.

"The post-war jeep is a piece of universal equipment," Sorensen said. "It will do anything. It will ride eight people, pull several tons on the road at high speed, or serve as a stationary power unit. I want to emphasize that we are not going to compete with the farm equipment manufacturers. We will make jeeps and that's all. We will coöperate with the equipment manufacturers."

Sorensen said the company's first job is to build for war, but if it gets the materials it could build 20,000 to 40,000 civilian jeeps this year. Prices have not been established.

FIRST AUSTIN ARRIVES

New York, July 18 (AP)—A British Austin, said by the Austin Motor Company, Inc., of England to be the first British automobile to have gone into post-war production, arrived today for exhibition.

"England is anxious to export the cars," said David O. Alber, Austin's public relations representative. Shipments will reach 2,000 a month by the beginning of 1946, he said, and added, "This marks the resumption of trade, and the cars will establish dollar credit for England."

He said the rapid reconversion to the car was possible because its chassis was the same as the British jeep. The car will sell for about $1,600, Alber said.

Vets Warned on Necessity of Accounting

BY ANTHONY WIRRY

Besides acquiring a working knowledge of the mechanical or technical phases of a business, a veteran considering setting up his own enterprise is urged to study the fundamentals of general accounting, pay roll accounting, business law, and office procedure.

This is the advice of David Himmelblau, head of the accounting department of the commerce school of Northwestern university, who believes that a veteran who takes time to acquaint himself with these subjects "will not stumble one-tenth as much as the veteran who does not learn these things."

Offered by Many Schools

These subjects, integral parts of the standard college commerce course, can be taken in numerous colleges, universities and business schools during evening hours, he said. The recommended courses can be completed in four semesters of 16 weeks. Only two hours of classroom work a week are required.

To the business minded veteran who approaches Himmelblau for counsel, he suggests first a course of accounting fundamentals. It deals with accounting principles as applied to the trading type of business and the sole proprietorship or partnership form of organization.

The course includes a practice set of books supplemented by problems and questions. It analyzes transactions for debits, credits, and posting. It also covers the trial balance, closing the books, the balance sheet, statements of profits, and other bookkeeping practices.

Pay Roll Study Advised

Himmelblau believes this course should be followed by a study of pay roll accounting. In this the veteran is instructed regarding federal old age benefits, unemployment compensation taxes, fair labor standards act, and the records and reports required under these acts.

Emphasizing the desirability of a course in business law, Himmelblau said:

"Nobody can stay in business long without knowing something about business law. A man in business is going to sign contracts of one kind or another. If he does not know anything about business law, he will just have to hope the other person is honest. He must understand his rights, duties, and remedies under the law."

In urging a course in office procedure Himmelblau said that altho most of this work could be assigned to a competent clerk in normal times, it is difficult to obtain such help these days, especially at wages a new business man could afford to pay.

American Stores' June Sales Below Year Ago

American Stores company yesterday reported June sales amounted to $15,644,104, a decrease of 3.9 per cent from the year ago total of $16,276,020. In the first six months, sales aggregated $103,714,877, a decline of 3.1 per cent.

People and Events

Mary Lien, formerly of Columbus, O., has been appointed manager of the American Airlines ticket office in the Palmer House, Bonham M. Fox, district traffic manager, announced yesterday. Miss Lien is the first woman to assume full responsibility for operation of this office, second largest in the system. She was ticket office manager and handled airport reservations in Columbus.

Mary Lien

Americo Roderico, contractor of San Juan, Puerto Rico, left Chicago last night after arranging for 1½ million dollars worth of trucks, trailers, and other equipment on a government contract for sanitation work in Puerto Rico. He said contracts were placed with the Everson Manufacturing company, Chicago; the Four Wheel Drive Auto company, Clintonville, Wis., and other companies in Chicago, Wisconsin, and Michigan.

Charles A. Bethge, vice president and director, has been elected controler of the Chicago Mail Order company.

The Pullman-Standard Car Manufacturing company has appointed Raymond M. Fox works manager of its plant in Butler, Pa. He was manager of the Hammond plant from 1938 to 1944.

Atty. Ernest Schein, Chicago, has been appointed to handle Philippine matters in Washington for the foreign economic administration.

Col. M. M. Frost, Tampa, Fla., a veteran of World Wars I. and II., has been elected a vice president of Eastern Air Lines.

DETROIT DISPUTE BETWEEN UNIONS MAKES 4,000 IDLE

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS]

About 4,000 employes of the United States Rubber company in Detroit were idle yesterday in a jurisdictional dispute between the CIO United Rubber Workers and the Mechanics Educational Society of America [Independent].

Elsewhere 38,500 others stayed away from their jobs in more than a score of cities.

Among the strikes ended was a week long stoppage by 900 workers at the Inca division of Phelps Dodge corporation in Fort Wayne, Ind. The largest of the strikes continuing was in Tampa, Fla., where 6,500 cigar workers were idle in protest against an OPA rule requiring a certain quota of low price cigars which they maintained had cut their income.

AM. CAR BOOSTS DIVIDEND TO $3; PAID $2.50 IN 1944

American Car and Foundry company yesterday declared a dividend of $3 a share on common stock. Last year the company paid $2.50 a share and $2 in 1943. The usual dividend of $1.75 was authorized on the 7 per cent preferred.

Stocks Extend Declines, Tho Selling Wanes

New York, July 18 (AP)—Selling waned in the stock market today and rallying strength appeared in some issues, but many leaders extended yesterday's decline.

Prices steadied at the opening, weakened after midday, then came back moderately in the final hour. Numerous losses of one to three points were reduced at the close and fractional gains were scattered thru the list. Dealings quickened in recovery periods and slowed when prices slipped. Transfers totaled 1,450,000 shares, compared with 1,560,000 yesterday.

Peace Caution Continues

Numerous customers continued to lighten accounts for protection should the Japanese suddenly collapse under the growing allied smash and accentuate domestic economic transition difficulties. Others stood aside to await news from the Potsdam parley and clues to Washington's anti-speculation campaign. Dividends, earnings, and belief the market had been oversold checked selling.

The Associated Press 60 stock average was off 0.2 at 64.4, about equal to its mid-May low. Of 948 issues registering, 510 were in the minus column, 263 up, and 175 unchanged.

American Car and Foundry was bought late on an increased dividend and close 2 higher. Electric Power & Light jumped 2¼ to 12½, a 1945 peak, partly in response to a substantial increase in net income.

BOND MARKET LOWER

New York, July 18 (AP)—Recoveries appeared in some parts of the bond market today, but the main corporate list was generally lower. A group of rails, specially favored for one reason or another, recouped 1 to 2 points of yesterday's severe declines. Others, however, extended the losses by as much or more and there was about an even split between minus and plus signs among industrials and utilities.

CHICAGO LIST DIPS AGAIN

Prices again declined yesterday on the Chicago Stock exchange, with 78 issues closing lower, 20 higher, and 21 unchanged. Turnover was 41,000 shares. Volume leaders included Nash-Kelvinator, off 1, Aviation corporation, down ¼, Admiral corporation, Swift & Co., and Chicago corporation common, all unchanged.

PURCELL SMITH WILL HEAD NEW UTILITIES GROUP

Purcell L. Smith, president of Middle West corporation, will head the National Association of Electric Companies to be formed about Aug. 1, with offices in Washington, D. C., officials said yesterday. He will resign the presidency of Middle West.

Purcell L. Smith

The Middle West directors will meet in about two weeks and may consider election of a successor to Smith then. Smith, who is on vacation, is expected to return to his Chicago office Monday. William C. Freeman is senior vice president of the company.

Among objectives of the national association will be "to present facts concerning public benefits resulting from operation of taxpaying electric utility companies by business men under governmental regulation as distinguished from government ownership."

REPUBLIC STEEL 6 MONTH PROFIT TOPS YEAR AGO

Republic Steel corporation yesterday reported net income of $6,356,252, or 95 cents a share in the first half of 1945, compared with $4,257,266, or 58 cents a share, a year earlier.

Johns-Manville corporation in the first half of 1945 earned net income of $2,858,614, or $3.36 a share, against $2,693,759, or $3.12 a share, in the first six months of last year.

Net sales of Lukens Steel company and subsidiaries in the 36 weeks ended June 16 amounted to $33,233,995, against $36,664,462 a year ago. Net income was $407,568, or $1.28 a share, compared with $654,033, or $2.05 a share, a year earlier.

REJECT TAFT'S MOVE TO DELAY MONEY SCHEME

Adoption by Senate Expected Soon

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

Washington, D. C., July 18—The senate today refused to postpone consideration of the Bretton Woods international monetary agreements until Nov. 15, despite warnings that approval of the money scheme would curtail President Truman's bargaining power with other nations.

The vote on the motion to postpone, made by Sen. Taft [R., O.], was 52 to 31. All except two Democrats present voted against Taft's motion, and several internationalist Republicans joined administration forces which want to hurry adoption of the global money plan before the senate begins consideration of the world peace charter next week.

Taft's motion called for a world conference on currency stabilization before final United States approval of the Bretton Woods plan.

Approval Held Assured

Senate leaders told reporters today's vote virtually assured approval of the world bank and stabilization fund plan. Several senators who supported Taft's motion said they would support the plan.

Sen. Ball [R., Minn.], usually a strong advocate of international cooperation, unexpectedly came to Taft's support in the debate preceding the vote. He asserted postponement would strengthen President Truman's bargaining position at the Potsdam conference.

"Let the other countries put their cards on the table before we show all of ours," Ball said.

Says Others Await U. S. Action

Chairman Wagner [D., N. Y.] of the senate banking committee asserted that "If the United States doesn't approve the plan, no other countries will. There wouldn't be any point in their doing so."

"I agree," commented Sen. Wheeler [D., Mont.], who later voted for postponement. "The other countries just want the international fund so they can put in their worthless currency and take out good American dollars."

As the debate opened the senate banking committee made a favorable report on the house approved bill increasing the lending power of the Export-Import bank from 700 million dollars to 3½ billions.

Taft's argument for postponement of the Bretton Woods vote was that the proposed increase in the Export-Import bank's fund would enable this country to give emergency aid to war devastated nations, on terms set by the United States, until they set their houses in order financially.

Billions More Needed

Taft said Leo Crowley, foreign economic administrator, had told the banking committee that the United States will have to give or lend more than 7 billion dollars to foreign nations, in addition to the Bretton Woods proposals, in the next year.

Sen. Brooks [R., Ill.], after enumerating financial aid already given by the United States to other countries and that contemplated in the future, urged the senate to postpone action at least until after the present Big Three conference.

"I think the [Bretton Woods] proposal has been prematurely presented," Brooks declared. "The proposal is a deliberate act, in my judgment, of those who are anxious to give America away on the basis of an hysteria of good will."

Transport of War Materials Doubles Truck Line Business

The vast production of war materials has approximately doubled the pre-war volume of freight carried by the country's truck lines and the tonnage is increasing, Chester C. Moore, secretary of the American Trucking association, said yesterday.

The end of the European war and the acceleration of the Japanese conflict which increased the volume of freight moving to the west coast have placed a heavier demand on truck facilities, but the larger proportion is being carried by the railroads, Moore said.

He explained that long distance truckers could not absorb much of this load because most of the operators already were handling as much goods as their labor force and equipment would permit.

Resort to 24 Hour Days

Handicapped by lack of tires and the shortage of drivers and repair men, the industry was able to double its load capacity only thru 24 hour a day operations. Truck lines never had the large standby facilities which the railroads are drawing on, it was said.

Altho truck freight movements in the Chicago area are at or above 1944 levels, the congestion in Salt Lake City, Utah, and Denver, Colo., was said to be more acute.

These cities are "gateways" to Pacific coast ports in California, Oregon, and Washington where war goods are being taken for shipment to the various Pacific war theaters. Salt Lake City operations are about twice those of last year. Movements there are expected to continue at present levels six more months, unless the Jap war ends.

Reports on Increases Vary

Estimates on business volume by Chicago truckers were mixed. One reported business in the first six months this year was about the same as a year ago, but others reported increases ranging from unspecified amounts to as high as 10 and 25 per cent. Another said the peak was reached about two months ago.

One western railroad was reported to have called upon truck lines for emergency aid, but this was believed to be an exceptional case, industry sources said.

Crowded conditions on trains have increased substantially the number of service men who are seeking to hitch-hike rides to their homes. In most instances, however, insurance provisions or company rules forbid drivers to pick up riders.

Ward Seeks Justin Dart as New President

Montgomery Ward & Co. has been negotiating with Justin Dart, president of United Drug, Inc., to become president of Ward, Sewell L. Avery, chairman, disclosed yesterday.

"I have been negotiating with Mr. Dart on this subject for several months and, while the situation is promising, no conclusion has been reached," Avery said. "We hope to be able to secure his able services."

Ryan, Avery Ready to Leave

Clement D. Ryan, Ward president, wishes to resign. Avery, who was expected to remain as chairman, indicated at the annual stockholders' meeting in April that he would prefer to relinquish active management.

Avery is 70 years old. He is chairman of the board of United States Gypsum company and is a director of other large corporations. He was elected president of Ward in 1931 and later became chairman.

Started with Walgreen

Dart, president of United Drug for more than two years, began his career with the Walgreen company in 1929 after graduation from Northwestern university. In 1939 he was appointed general manager when the late Charles R. Walgreen retired. He also was a beneficiary of Walgreen's will. Dart left Walgreen company in 1942 to become associated with United Drug.

He formerly was married to Walgreen's daughter, but the marriage ended in divorce and in 1940 he married Jane Bryan, movie actress. He is 37 years old.

MINIMUM WAGE OF 65 CENTS AN HOUR PROPOSED

Washington, D. C., July 18 (AP)—Legislation to raise the minimum wage under the fair labor standards act from 40 to 65 cents an hour today, was introduced in the house. The amendment also provides an increase of 5 cents an hour each year until a minimum of 75 cents is reached.

Rep. Hook [D., Mich.] estimated in offering the measure that about 10 million workers might be affected. He said it "would be a real step toward maintaining and creating purchasing power in the post-war period."

Identical bills were introduced by Representatives Huber [D., O.], O'Toole [D., N. Y.], and Price [D., Ill.]. Sen. Mead [D., N. Y.] introduced a similar measure in the senate.

LET JOBS, NOT PRICE, BE SALES GOAL, SAYS NEW SURPLUS CHIEF

Washington, D. C., July 18 (AP)—William Stuart Symington, new chairman of the surplus property board, today declared his willingness to take less money on plant and property sales if this would create larger post-war employment than holding out for high prices.

"The entire question of surplus disposal must be approached from the standpoint of social vision," Symington said in his first news conference. "Everything should be sold on the basis of maximum employment, so far as is consistent with the surplus act passed by congress."

He said he would favor the sale of war plants to local interests for peace time manufacturing in preference to outside capital. The board should do everything possible to have the people of the west coast own and operate the war-baby western steel plants, he said.

President Truman yesterday asked congress to reverse itself by abolishing the present three member surplus board and creating instead a single administrator who presumably would be Symington.

NORTHWESTERN MUTUAL ELECTS THREE TRUSTEES

Policyholders of the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance company yesterday elected three new members to the board of trustees. They are: Harry Lynn Pierson, president of the Detroit Harvester company; Theodore G. Montague, president of the Borden company, and Charles J. Whipple, president of Hibbard, Spencer, Bartlett & Co.

Rails' April Net Income Tops Year Ago 5 Million

The interstate commerce commission yesterday reported that April net income of class 1 railroads was $35,537,900 compared with $30,337,567 a year ago.

CUT SCHEDULED ARMS OUTPUT TO END OF 1945

December Rate Will Be 70% of March

Washington, D. C., July 18 (AP)—The war production board today gave industry a munitions schedule for tapering 1945 production down to 3.4 billion dollars in December, 70 per cent of the March war time peak. Output in July is running about 85 per cent of the March level, despite cutbacks. By the end of August it will be 80 per cent.

The schedules are intended "as an aid to manufacturers by outlining roughly the size of the job still to be done to achieve final victory," WPB said. The deepest cut in the one-front war schedule is in guns and fire control equipment, in which December production will amount to only one-third of the March output.

Tank Output to Drop

Tanks and other combat and motor vehicles will drop 60 per cent. The smallest cut is in ammunition, which has declined 14 per cent from March levels and will be steady the rest of the year.

Heavy cuts have been made in some types of ammunition, but rockets will be increased to two and one-half times the present production rate. Similarly, the aircraft program as a whole is declining but jet planes face a steeply rising schedule.

Production for the rest of 1945 now is estimated at 4 per cent below the original estimates for one-front warfare, WPB said. Dollar value of production for the entire year has dropped from the 60.7 billion schedule in March to a July schedule of 49.9 billion.

Output Trends Indicated

Aircraft: July, 1 billion dollars; December, 800 million.

Ships: July, 700 million; December, 500 million.

Ammunition: July, 600 million; December, 600 million.

Other equipment and supplies: July, 1 billion; December, 900 million.

ANDERSON GRAIN ORDER EXTENDS WHISKY HOLIDAY

Washington, D. C., July 18 (AP)—Distillers will be permitted to continue manufacture of beverage alcohol during August under action taken by Secretary of Agriculture Anderson today in allocating grain for whisky. Producers previously were allowed to resume making beverage alcohol only during July.

Anderson allocated 2,500,000 bushels of grain other than corn, but including malt, for distillers' use during August—sufficient, department officials said, to permit them to operate between 20 and 25 per cent of capacity.

The secretary said the allocation was made to keep distillers from closing and on a stand-by basis for war alcohol.

LANGUAGE

The overwhelming circulation of the Times-Herald, of Washington, is the people's way of saying that it excels in the language of home.

No other newspaper in Washington influences so many lives, satisfies so many needs, sells so much merchandise, or has so firm a hold on the family affections, as the Times-Herald.

SAFEKEEPING OF STOCKS

What steps should I take if any of my stock certificates are lost or stolen?—I. B.

You should notify the secretary of the issuing corporation at once. An indemnity bond is usually required by a company before new certificates will be issued to replace those lost.

Besides keeping securities in a safe place, the owner should preserve a record of the serial number of each certificate, the number of shares which it represents and the cost or value at the date of acquisition. Cost information is necessary for income tax returns in event of sale.

Some corporations send to stockholders directions for the care of securities, which include the following suggestions: Do not sign your name on your stock certificates until you are ready to dispose of them. If indorsed certificates are lost or stolen they may be transferred out of your name without your knowledge. When considering sale, consult a reputable banker or broker. Do not surrender certificates without careful investigation. In forwarding certificates it is well to do so by registered mail.

Bonds are issued generally in such form that the interest coupons and principal are payable to the bearer. Consequently especial care is necessary for their safekeeping. As a rule the owner can have the principal, and in some cases the interest, registered in his name if he wishes. United States war savings bonds are issued only in registered form.

A.M.A. DRAFTS 14 POINT CODE ON U.S. HEALTH

Physicians Criticize 'Regimentation' Plan

Criticizing the socialized medicine plan contemplated by the Wagner-Murray-Dingell bill, embracing compulsory sickness insurance, as leading to "regimentation and totalitarianism," the American Medical association yesterday offered a plan of its own, which, it said, can be placed in operation without increased taxation.

The association's 14 point program for "extending to all people in all communities the best possible medical care" is contained in the current issue of the A. M. A. Journal. The program, adopted by the council on medical service and relations and the board of trustees of the association, includes improved housing, nutrition, and sanitation fundamental to good health; a medical survey in each state; an extensive disease prevention campaign, and increased hospitalization insurance on a voluntary basis.

People Oppose Regimentation

"The Constitution of the United States, the Bill of Rights, and the 'American way of life' are diametrically opposed to regimentation or any form of totalitarianism," the association says in a preamble to the program.

"According to available evidence in surveys, most of the American people are not interested in testing in the United States experiments in medical care which have already failed in regimented countries."

14 Points in Program

The association's program follows:

1. Sustained production leading to better living conditions with improved housing, nutrition, and sanitation which are fundamental to good health; we support progressive action toward achieving these objectives.

2. An extended program of disease prevention, with the development or extension of organizations for public health service so that every part of our country will have such service, as rapidly as adequate personnel can be trained.

3. Increased hospitalization insurance on a voluntary basis.

4. The development in or extension to all localities of voluntary sickness insurance plans and provision for the extension of these plans to the needy under the principles already established by the American Medical association.

5. The provision of hospitalization and medical care to the indigent by local authorities under voluntary hospital and sickness insurance plans.

State Surveys Proposed

6. A survey of each state by qualified individuals and agencies to establish the need for additional medical care.

7. Federal aid to states where definite need is demonstrated, to be administered by the proper local agencies of the states involved with the help and advice of the medical profession.

8. Extension of information on these plans to all the people with recognition that such voluntary programs need not involve increased taxation.

9. A continuous survey of all voluntary plans for hospitalization and illness to determine their adequacy in meeting needs and maintaining continuous improvement in quality of medical service.

10. Discharge of physicians from the armed services as rapidly as is consistent with the war effort to facilitate redistribution and relocations in areas needing physicians.

More Medical Education Urged

11. Increased availability of medical education to young men and women to provide a greater number of physicians for rural areas.

12. Postponement of consideration of revolutionary changes while 60,000 medical men are in the service voluntarily, and while 12 million men and women are in uniform to preserve the American democratic system of government.

13. Adoption of federal legislation to provide for adjustments in draft regulations which will permit students to prepare for and continue the study of medicine.

14. Study of post-war medical personnel requirements with special reference to the needs of the veterans' hospitals, the regular army, navy, and the United States public health service.

OCD BECOMES CHICAGO WAR SERVICE CORPS

Mayor Kelly said yesterday that the Chicago office of civilian defense organization will function henceforth as the Chicago war service corps.

The mayor said he would be chairman and Ralph H. Burke vice chairman. Kelly was coordinator of the OCD, and Burke deputy coördinator. Daniel Penny, who served as director of the OCD will be executive director of the CWSC.

Expense, the mayor asserted, will be "practically nil." He said there would be a few salaries paid from the city's $200,000 OCD appropriation.

The CWSC will use the OCD central, division, and community offices and personnel. The central office will be moved from 25 to 23 N. Wacker dr,
